Education David Kember, Robert A. Ellis, Si Fan, Allison Trimble, 2023-05-19 Higher education has undergone a massive transformation in teaching and learning in a very short period of time since the onset of Covid 19. Students, teachers and universities have had to adopt online and blended learning often with little or no experience or models of good practice to draw upon. It is clear that blended and online learning are here to stay. This book draws on research from universities that have adopted online and blended learning to facilitate the expansion and diversification of their intake which resulted in considerable experience and expertise in online and blended teaching. The book describes a model tested with qualitative and quantitative data which shows how teachers can support the retention and success of online and blended learners with four high quality pedagogical elements: bite sized videos of interest and relevance; learning materials that are well organised and provide a clear learning roadmap; discussion forums which are set up and moderated so as to result in lively student and student teacher interaction; and online teachers being approachable and responsive to communication with individual students through email, phone and online communication platforms. This model is explained and profusely illustrated with examples from the teaching of award winning teachers. This book introduces the concept of a spectrum from traditional to contemporary models of admission and course delivery in higher education. It explains how universities which have adopted a contemporary model with high levels of blended and online learning have been able to expand their intake and markedly diversify the student body. It discusses how to support the retention and success of online and blended learners. Student support services are examined from the perspectives of service providers and online and blended learners and the case is made for support services being aligned with student needs. The book has a discussion of university management systems which utilise feedback at all levels to improve alignment between support service provision and student needs.

National Testing in Schools Bob Lingard, Greg Thompson, Sam Sellar, 2015-11-06 Over the last two decades large scale national or provincial standardised testing has become prominent in the schools of many countries around the globe. National Testing in Schools: An Australian Assessment draws on research to consider the nature of national testing and its multiple effects including media responses and constructions such as league tables of performance pressures within school systems and on schools effects on the work and identities of principals and teachers and impacts on the experience of schooling for many young people including those least advantaged. Using Australia as the case site for global concerns regarding national testing this book will be an invaluable companion for education researchers, teacher educators, teacher education students and teachers globally.

The Art and Heart of Good Teaching Terence Lovat, 2019-07-22 This book summarizes and updates findings from the Australian Values Education Program with a focus on the latest international research in the field both theoretical and practice based. Further it provides a theoretical and practical basis for understanding the disenchantment with low level accountability approaches to learning e.g. NAPLAN in Australia. In turn the book demonstrates the effectiveness of Values Education as a holistic pedagogy with the potential to enhance students learning effects in terms of their personal social emotional and academic development It offers well tested alternative pedagogical approaches based on research insights largely originating from actual classroom based practice      Structuring the Thesis David Kember,Michael Corbett,2018-07-23 The book is a collective investigation of the structuring of theses in education the social sciences and other disciplines that commonly do not follow the standard procedures of the scientific method To help research students design a structure for their own thesis and liberate their investigations from the constraints associated with the use of the conventional structure it explains how the structures adopted were designed to suit the topic methodology and paradigm It also provides a wide range of examples to draw upon which suit a broad spectrum of theory methodological approaches research methods and paradigms Additionally by analyzing the methodologies and paradigms and reviewing the methodological and paradigmatic spectrum it offers a significant contribution to the way research is conceptualized The book addresses a number of key questions faced by students supervisors and examiners Why do examiners often find it difficult to read work in non scientific disciplines when theses are structured in accordance with the conventional scientific method Why do students in non scientific disciplines struggle to write up the outcomes of their research in the conventional structure What alternative thesis structures can be devised to better suit the wide range of methods Which theories and paradigms are commonly followed in education and the social sciences and how do these perspectives influence the research process What methods theories and paradigms are commonly adopted by education and social science students and what problems do these pose when students write their theses      Pedagogy in Basic and Higher Education Kirsi Tirri,Auli Toom,2020-02-19 This book takes a holistic approach to pedagogy and argues that the purpose of education is to educate the student s whole personality including cognitive social and moral domains The four sections and twelve chapters address the current pedagogical challenges in basic and higher education in international contexts The authors describe the principles and practices through which meaningful education is promoted and enhanced in a variety of ways The challenges educators face in their profession as well as ways to overcome them are elaborated on both theoretically and empirically The book allows both researchers teachers and educational policy makers to reflect on current developments challenges and areas of development in educational institutions when aiming to support student growth and learning      Bilingual Learners and Social Equity Ruth Harman,2017-08-13 This volume explores how educators conceptualized and implemented critical approaches to systemic functional linguistics that support bilingual students in appropriating and challenging dominant knowledge domains in K 16 contexts The researchers exhibit a shared commitment to enacting a culturally sustaining SFL praxis that validates multilingual meaning making pushes against social inequity and fosters creative re mixing of available semiotic resources It should prove a valuable resource for students teachers and researchers interested in applied linguistics education and critical theory      Handbook of Automated Scoring Duanli Yan,André A. Rupp,Peter W. Foltz,2020-02-26 Automated scoring engines require a careful balancing of the contributions of technology NLP psychometrics artificial intelligence and the learning sciences The present handbook is evidence that the theories methodologies and underlying technology that surround automated scoring have reached maturity and that there is a growing acceptance of these technologies among experts and the public From the Foreword by Alina von Davier ACTNext Senior Vice President Handbook of Automated Scoring Theory into Practice provides a scientifically grounded overview of the key research efforts required to move automated scoring systems into operational practice It examines the field of automated scoring from the viewpoint of related scientific fields serving as its foundation the latest developments of computational methodologies utilized in automated scoring and several large scale real world applications of automated scoring for complex learning and assessment systems The book is organized into three parts that cover 1 theoretical foundations 2 operational methodologies and 3 practical illustrations each with a commentary In addition the handbook includes an introduction and synthesis chapter as well as a cross chapter glossary

My School Lesley Scanlon, 2014-12-17 Education issues feature almost daily in print media online on the radio and on television much of which focuses on the perceived deficits of students and teachers Singled out for special attention are low socio economic status SES schools which are frequently characterised by teachers and students with little investment in learning and teaching Yet within this plethora of educational discussion there is no contemporary longitudinal study of what it means to learn and teach in a disadvantaged school within the policy context of the education revolution in Australia Drawing on 500 interviews conducted over a four period with the Principal parents teachers and students at a regional low SES school this book challenges the profile of one school as represented on the My School website which publishes the results of National Assessment Program in Literacy and Numeracy NAPLAN Chapters situate the original research within an international and national educational context before exploring topics including leadership and management student behaviour constructs of the good teacher the involvement of parents in school and the digital revolution The book closes with an appraisal of the major themes that emerged from the multiple perspectives of the study This is the first book to provide a longitudinal ethnographic study of a school in Australia which examines the impact of the education revolution on the Principal parents teachers and students It comprehensively challenges the official My School representation of a low SES school and will appeal to researchers in education as well as those involved in postgraduate teacher education and sociology courses both from Australia and internationally

Visible Learning into Action John Hattie, Deb Masters, Kate Birch, 2015-10-30 Recently at the Visible Learning Conference Professor John Hattie stood up in his opening address and said I m looking at you all and thinking What if I got this wrong I feel the same way when educators ask to visit and I always end up in the same place that Keilor Views is a living breathing example that he didn t Charles Branciforte Principal of Keilor Views Primary School Melbourne Australia Visible Learning into Action takes the next step in the evolving Visible Learning story It translates one of the biggest and most critically acclaimed education research projects ever undertaken into case studies of actual success stories implementing John Hattie s ideas in the classrooms of schools all
