Finding Her in History Rosemary Papa,2017-06-16 This monograph was cultivated from the AERA SIG Women in Education 2016 address and delivers a brief review of his story in terms of the lack of her story being included through three parallel lines 1 historical documents on formation of the family and work in and outside the home from the Paleolithic era 2 the development of traditional religions and the subjugation of women beginning with the conniving seductress Eve and 3 the discussion of major wars and the nation state policies produced throughout history with impacts on girls and women as well the precarious health of the planet This brief review of his story reveals the continued exclusion of her story with the example of Willystine Goodsell a historian ironically erased from history in education The premise that subjugation of women and children as lesser than males has been supported both in the name of protecting them and in shaming them The combined ubiquitous effects of disequilibrium created by mankind in wars religions education social capital economics and politics have ensured his story is the one recorded This monograph suggests a more balanced approach to the written her his story requires inclusion of all the population and the secular educating of especially girls and women

A Troubled Sleep James Waller,2021 Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork comparative research and over 110 hours of face to face interviews with a diverse range of political academic civil society and community actors across Northern Ireland Waller revisits one of the world s most deeply divided societies to analyze Northern Ireland s current vulnerabilities and points of resilience as an allegedly post conflict society

Constructing Ecoterrorism John Sorenson,2016-07-01T00:00:00Z Animal rights is an important social justice movement and the animal rights movement presents ethical and political challenges to deeply rooted structures of violence and exploitation challenging ideologies of capitalism and speciesism Corporate interests that form the animal industrial complex understand the animal rights movement as a threat to their profits and have mobilized to undermine it Informed by both critical animal studies and critical terrorism studies John Sorenson analyzes ecoterrorism as a social construction He examines how corporations that profit from animal exploitation fund and produce propaganda to portray the compassionate goals and nonviolent practices of animal activists as outlandish anti human campaigns that operate by violent means not only to destroy Western civilization but also to create actual genocide The idea of concern for others is itself a dangerous one and capitalism works by keeping people focused on individual interests and discouraging compassion and commitment to others Driven by powerful and wealthy industries founded upon the exploitation of nonhuman animals and the extraction of natural resources the discourse of ecoterrorism is a useful mechanism to repress criticism of the institutionalized violence and cruelty of these industries as well as their destructive impact on the environment their major contribution to global warming and ecological disaster and their negative impacts on human health Further by deliberately constructing an image of activists as dangerous and violent terrorists these corporations and their representatives in government have created a widespread climate of fear that is very useful in legitimizing calls for more policing and more repressive legislation such as Bill C 51 in Canada      U.S. Army Campaigns of the Civil War: The Civil War in the West, 1863 Andrew N. Morris, The Civil War in the West 1863 by Andrew N Morris is the latest addition to the Center of Military History's U S Army Campaigns of the Civil War series In 1863 Union and Confederate forces fought for control of Chattanooga a key rail center The Confederates were victorious at nearby Chickamauga in September However renewed fighting in Chattanooga that November provided Union troops a victory control of the city and drove the Confederates south into Georgia The Union success left its armies poised to invade the Deep South the following year      Desiring the Bomb Calum Lister Matheson, 2018-11-13 A timely interdisciplinary study that applies psychoanalysis and the rhetorical tradition of the sublime to examine the cultural aftermath of the Atomic Age Every culture throughout history has obsessed over various end of the world scenarios The dawn of the Atomic Age marked a new twist in this tale For the first time our species became aware of its capacity to deliberately destroy itself Since that time the Bomb has served as an organizing metaphor a symbol of human annihilation a stand in for the unspeakable void of extinction and a discursive construct that challenges the limits of communication itself The parallel fascination with and abhorrence of nuclear weapons has metastasized into a host of other end of the world scenarios from global pandemics and climate change to zombie uprisings and asteroid collisions Desiring the Bomb Communication Psychoanalysis and the Atomic Age explores these world ending fantasies through the lens of psychoanalysis to reveal their implications for both contemporary apocalyptic culture and the operations of language itself What accounts for the enduring power of the Bomb as a symbol What does the prospect of annihilation suggest about language and its limits Thoroughly researched and accessibly written this study expands on the theories of Kenneth Burke Jacques Lacan Sigmund Freud and many others from a variety of disciplines to arrive at some answers to these questions Calum L Matheson undertakes a series of case studies including the Trinity test site nuclear war games urban shelter schemes and contemporary survivalism and argues that contending with the anxieties individual social cultural and political born of the Atomic Age depends on rhetorical conceptions of the real an order of experience that cannot be easily negotiated in language Using aspects of media studies rhetorical theory and psychoanalysis the author deftly engages the topics of Atomic Age survival extinction religion and fantasy along with their enduring cultural legacies to develop an account of the Bomb as a signifier and to explore why some Americans have become fascinated with fantasies of nuclear warfare and narratives of postapocalyptic rebirth      Ecosociocentrism Gopi Upreti, 2023-11-30 This book on the subject of global environmental crisis and climate change that has threatened the very existence of humankind and the living system on planet Earth claims that the current Anthropocene is the most dangerous era of environmental and ecological crisis the planet Earth has ever witnessed This book not only insightfully reflects upon the crisis manifested by climate change breakdown of planetary ecosystem extinction and annihilation of millions of species acidification of oceans desertification of productive lands and toxic pollution attributing to the current dominant neoliberal
