Poems Written in a Time of Plague Tim Vivian, 2020-08-19 Plague is both metaphor and physical presence The poems in this volume written between January and June of 2020 address the plagues of COVID 19 racism police brutality and political indifference ineptness and malfeasance The poems offer the hope that the first plague has taught us about the good fruits of compassion and community and that the continuing nonviolent protests in the United States over the second plague racism will help birth a resurrection in the hearts minds and souls of all Americans a new Easter The twentieth century theologian Karl Barth astutely said The pastor and his congregation should not imagine that they are a religious society that is fixated only on certain themes but that they live in this world We do indeed need according to my old formulation the Bible and the newspaper With the poems in this volume the author newspaper in hand reflects on events from January to early June 2020 and does so by integrating reflections on Scripture with current events

Doris Day and my search for relatives Marianne E. Meyer,2014-03-21 The mystery of life puzzles all of us Marianne Meyer had her first out of body experience at age two Not being able to make herself understood led to a seeker's life. The confusing nothing called time drifts us relentless toward the end. As long as the brain makes connections we can leap back and forth in time. From infancy to middle age and back the author scavenges tidbits from those times and transfers them to the present. Shortly after moving from Frankfurt to L.A. Marianne met her great grandfather on a higher level of consciousness. She was told he had migrated to USA, took on the last name Victor and lived in the Carmel area. He had left his homeland after creating the child of love on Christmas 1901. Wilhelmina Meckes was married in a hurry in vindication of honor and on October 5 Maria Herr was born as a credited 7 month child. A few years ago Marianne learned about her mother's family relationship with the Carmel resident Doris Day. Both their grandmothers descended from J.J. Mann and M.E. Nollert and grew up in Neckarhausen, a tiny village near Heidelberg. The synchronicity of both her parents' relatives living in Carmel. Mrs. Meyer views this as an appeal to go forward with searching for her father's family members. She still has a clear vision of her incorporeal ancestor. Will she find a picture of him in photo albums of a Victor family living in or near Carmel. Enthralling. Marianne portrays her exciting life in India, USA, South Pacific, Africa and Europe. Proving prophecy, past lives and synchronizes. Dr. Meyer presents metaphysics as the true science and shows how she heals herself and her pets. She also uncovers how she cracks the mysterious water code via exploring water crystal photos. Marianne wishes men to fast progress on the way of knowledge. That would be likely if scientists would go out on a limb, rid themselves of blinders and examine life without preconceptions just like children. She is inspired by a pioneering spirit and a passionate dedication on the well being of the people and the animals. Therefore 50 cents of each sold copy goes to DDAF and two pounds.

Puerto Rico: Land of Lost Dreams T.J. Mihelich, 2010-03-26

Based on a true story of one man's journey living over 14 years in Puerto Rico. Details his life, his loves, his struggles with the Puerto Rican government and the Puerto Rican police as the society of the island falls into an abyss. He copes with living in an island that is called in the Caribbean the island of enchantment but in the end becomes the island of sudden fear as his love for the island and its people turns into his lost dream.

Anthropology-Based Computing John N.A.

Brown, 2016-03-16. We have always built tools to improve our productivity and help us lead better lives; however, we find ourselves constantly battling against our new computerized tools, making us less productive and putting our health and our lives at risk. This book looks at Human-Computer Interaction (HCI) from a truly human-centred perspective, focusing on human physiology and psychology rather than the motley series of brilliant innovations, glorified mistakes and cross-generational habits that comprise the computer-centred HCI that we practice today. This three-part guide argues that human interest and calm technology need to be at the heart of HCI. It begins by exposing the inherent dangers in past and present HCI. Using his past experiences within Anthropology, Linguistics, Education, Ergonomics, Human Factors and Computer Science, the author introduces and explores the theory of Anthropology-Based Computing (ABC) as well as new ideas like Dynamic Environmental Focus (DEF), a new model of General Human Interaction (GHI) and a new triune model of the brain. Brown's

Representation of Anthropogenic Interaction in Natural Settings
BRAINS Detailed illustrations show how HCI can be improved by considering how human bodies and brains actually work The final part is a series of simple illustrated experiments each applying an aspect of ABC to improve the way our computers and computerized devices treat us
Anthropology Based Computing is written for those who work with computers not just those who work on them Students and researchers in Design and Psychology and Computer Scientists as well will benefit from seeing what is missing from the devices that are already in place why that is and how to make the practical changes that will immediately improve the physiological and psychological experience of using phones on board navigation systems and the countless other computers we use at work and at home today and will continue to use in the future Seed to Harvest Shawna DeForest

Morby,2022-05-13 Do you ever wonder why the Bible uses so many references to seeds plants and harvest Or why the first home for humanity was a garden Does the abundance of foliage all around us perhaps have some wisdom from our maker entwined within its roots When we compare our lives to the life cycle of plants we can see similarities that allow us to relate and in that relationship there is wisdom and answers Our world is surrounded by plant life in various stages of their life cycle from seed form to harvest There s no mistake that God first created a garden and had us work the ground God s garden is the world around us When we sit in the garden not only are we blessed by God s colorful artistry but we find wisdom for how to live our lives in abundance producing fruit for God s harvest As you read this book you will discover God s love his plan and his purpose for you as you compare yourself to the seed sprout leaves flowers fruit and harvest You will also learn from God s divine design as we study the storms and pests that may hinder growth and stall or completely stop a potential harvest How can we be prepared to weather the storms in our life Is there something to be learned from the plants that have survived through drought storms and pests You do not have to be a farmer or gardener to enjoy this book because everything we discuss is all around you If your thumb isn t even the faintest bit of green you can still gain great wisdom from this book God does not call the qualified but qualifies the called and that is you Believe it or not you are valuable You are important in God s massive design and he wants your help with the harvest This book dives deep into the promises of God and how he planted you specifically with a purpose to enact change in this world whether big or small it s all impactful and so are you 2 Rick
