Language Ideologies and the Globalization of 'Standard' Spanish Darren Paffey, 2012-09-06 This book examines how language ideologies are manifested in newspaper media Using the Spanish press as a case study it considers how media discourse both from and about the Real Academia Española constitutes a set of language ideological debates in which the institution represents a vision of what the Spanish language is and what it should be like Paffey adopts a Critical Discourse Analysis approach to a large corpus of texts from Spain's best selling daily newspapers El País and ABC. More generally the book sheds light on how institutions produce and maintain visions of standard language in the contemporary context. A global language such as Spanish is by nature more widely used outside of the nation state in question than in it. The book covers recent research on language ideologies, standardization and CDA and considers the application of these to three core discursive themes: language unity and a concept of a panhispanic speech community, the RAE's construction of its authority and institutional ideologies and management of language on a global scale.
