The history and development of stout and porter and intertwined. Porter was originally an English dark beer style made popular by street and river porters of London in the 18th century. Because of its huge popularity, London brewers made them in a variety of strengths and the term stout was used for the stronger, fuller bodied porters. They were labeled as stout porters but eventually porter was dropped from the label and stout became its own unique dark brew, distinctively made with roasted barley. Porters are conceived as sweeter on the nose and palate and remain firmly in the brown spectrum.
