

The above two graphs shows the comparison of RIP sent traffic in Failure and No_failure scenario. The above graphs the first represents overlaid comparison and second one is stacked comparison. The failure introduced into the RIP system changes the traffic sent signals and also the traffic received signals.

EXERCISES

- 1) Obtain and analyze the graphs that compare the sent RIP traffic for the Failure and NO_Failure scenarios. Make sure to change the draw style for the graphs to Bar.

In No failure scenario, it shows that routing table we created will build their routing table with no update tables as there is no link failure therefore, the routing table is smooth as shown in the above figure. In Failure scenario, we created a link failure where more traffic is sent and set time is 0.00025 seconds to fail the simulation. In result the RIP in effected nodes send out an update of their routing table to place that failure.

- 2) Change the Ping packet size to 5000 bytes. ( Hint: Edit the attributes of the Ping Parameters node.) Run the simulation to generate a new Ping report. What is the effect of the new size on the ICMP packet response time?
