Contributors examine how queer Iberian cinema has responded to historical trauma from the AIDS crisis to the repressive and homophobic Franco regime and explore how these films demonstrate a fluid understanding of sexuality gender and national identity. The result will give readers a new appreciation for the cultural diversity of Iberia and the richness of its thought-provoking queer cinema. Published by Bucknell University Press. Despite his films being subjected to censorship and denigration in his native China Jia Zhangke has become the country's leading independent film director internationally. Seen as one of world cinema's foremost auteurs he has played a crucial role in documenting and reflecting upon China's era of intense transformations since the 1990s. Cecília Mello provides in-depth analysis of Jia's unique body of work from his early films Xiao Wu and Platform to experimental quasi-documentary 24 City and the audacious Mountains May Depart. Mello suggests that Jia's particular expression of the realist mode is shaped by the aesthetics of other Chinese artistic traditions allowing Jia to unearth memories both personal and collective still lingering within the ever changing landscapes of contemporary China Mello's groundbreaking study opens a door into Chinese cinema and culture addressing the nature of the so called impure cinematographic art and the complex representation of China through the ages Foreword by Walter Salles      National Latino Film and Video Festival ,1988
