Rhetoric, Scripture and Theology Stanley E. Porter, Thomas H. Olbricht, 1996-09-01 Rhetoric Scripture and Theology aptly describe the contents of this collection of essays from the 1994 Pretoria Rhetoric Conference The conference marked a significant dialogue among scholars gathered from many nations to consider how rhetoric engages with the study of scripture and theology South Africa provided a suitable context for such discussion Although the contributors are not only from South Africa the addressing of issues pertinent to a South African context shows through in many of the essays Those that do not address particularly South African issues raise equally important issues regarding the topic of rhetoric and its relation to contemporary theological discourse

Reading with a Passion Jeffrey Staley, 2002-06-01 In this strikingly personal account of recent literary approaches to the Bible Jeffrey Staley shows how people s life experiences relate to what they read in the Scriptures He illustrates his argument from theories of autobiography where recent literary and feminist critiques provide him with tools for reflecting upon his childhood on a Navajo reservation and his family s five generations of contact with the Navajo people in northern Arizona and New Mexico Using Tony Hillerman s popular detective novels as a lens to refract his own childhood memories Staley investigates how his cross cultural childhood and family history have contributed to his understanding of the Fourth Gospel By combining such diverse materials as popular fiction medieval passion plays cultural anthropology rhetorical studies and autobiographical reflection Staley takes his readers on a fascinating spiritual and intellectual journey through the Gospel of John Playful Memories Jordana Blejmar, 2016-12-28 This volume examines the blending of fact and fiction in a series of cultural artefacts by post dictatorship writers and artists in Argentina many of them children of disappeared or persecuted parents Jordana Blejmar argues that these works which emerged after the turn of the millennium pay testament to a new cultural formation of memory characterised by the use of autofiction and playful aesthetics She focuses on a range of practitioners including Laura Alcoba Lola Arias Félix Bruzzone Albertina Carri María Giuffrè Victoria Grigera Dupuy Mariana Eva Pérez Lucila Quieto and Ernesto Semán who look towards each other's works across boundaries of genre and register as part of the way they address the legacies of the 1976-1983 dictatorship Approaching these works not as second hand or adoptive memories but as memories in their own right Blejmar invites us to recognise the subversive power of self figuration play and humour when dealing with trauma Reader's Guide to Lesbian and Gay Studies Timothy F. untouched sociocriticism aims to prove that the encounter with ideological traces and with antagonistic tensions between social classes is central to any reading of texts. Cros's method distinguishes between the semiotic and ideological elements within a text and involves the patient exacting reconstruction of the concrete text from these elements, a process that enables the sociocritic to interpret its fault lines, its internal contradictions, in the end its irreducibly social nature. As its title suggests, Theory and Practice of Sociocriticism is structured in two parts. Its opening chapters analyze sociological theories of discourse including those of Foucault, Bakhtin, and Goldman. In the second part, Cros applies theory to practice in readings of specific works: the film Scarface, contemporary Mexican poetry and prose, Octavio Paz, Carlos Fuentes, and the picaresque novel of the Spanish Golden Age. In their foreword, Jürgen Link and Ursula Link Heer differentiate sociocriticism from other social approaches to literature and show how Cros's method works in specific textual readings. They emphasize his resistance to the reductive modes and misreadings that dominate much of contemporary theory. Edmond Cros is a professor of literary theory and Hispanic studies at the Université Paul Valéry in Montpellier, France, and Andrew W. Mellon Professor of Hispanic Studies at the University of Pittsburgh. Jürgen Link teaches at the Ruhr-Universität Bochum, and Ursula Link Heer at the Universität Siegen, both in West Germany.

Mockingbird Passing Holly Blackford, 2011-06 Blackford finds the basis of Mockingbird's broad appeal in its ability to embody the mainstream culture of romantics like Emerson and social reform writers like Stowe, even as alternative canons, southern gothic, deadpan humor, queer literatures, regional women's novels lurk in its subtexts. Central to her argument is the notion of passing, establishing an identity that conceals the inner self so that one can function within a closed social order. For example, the novel's narrator Scout must suppress her natural tomboyishness to become a lady. Meanwhile, Scout's father Atticus Finch must contend with competing demands of thoughtfulness, self-reliance, and masculinity that ultimately stunt his effectiveness within an unjust society. Blackford charts the identity dilemmas of other key characters: the mysterious Boo Radley, the young outsider Dill modeled on Lee's lifelong friend Truman Capote, the oppressed victim Tom Robinson in similarly intriguing ways.
