The Social Lives of Books Edward Frederick Finn, 2011 This project explores how changing models of literary production are blurring or erasing the divisions between authors critics and readers Millions of cultural consumers are participating in previously closed literary conversations and expressing forms of mass distinction through their purchases and reviews of books These traces of popular reading choices constitute a fresh perspective on elusive audience reactions to literature and reveal evolving networks of conversation Employing network analysis methodologies and distant reading of book reviews recommendations and other digital traces of cultural distinction I develop a new model for literary culture in America today Through readings of the fiction and reception of Thomas Pynchon Toni Morrison David Foster Wallace and Junot Diaz this model outlines the fundamental requirements for contemporary literary fame My introduction outlines methodological tools I developed and situates them in the critical traditions of literary reception cultural sociology and media theory before describing the digital ecologies that have emerged around literature online and their value Chapter 1 explores the nature of literary fame through a case study of Thomas Pynchon whose carefully guarded anonymity and ironic distance from capitalism are reflected in the networks his readers construct around his long challenging books In stark contrast Toni Morrison the subject of Chapter 2 has succeeded critically and commercially tirelessly seeking out readers to form literary communities around her writing most prominently through her collaboration with Oprah s Book Club Chapter 3 considers David Foster Wallace and Junot Diaz and sets out a model for contemporary literary culture a reading society that demands new forms of authorial reflexivity to mirror the collaborative iterative nature of digital literary conversations I conclude with a brief consideration of the exciting prospects and challenges for fiction in a world that reads more than ever but is growing disaffected with the material realities of literary production broadcast design in cognitive radio ad hoc networks - Sep 20 2023 broadcast design in cognitive radio ad hoc networks is designed for professionals and researchers working in the wireless networks industry advanced level students in electrical engineering and computer science especially those focused on wireless networks will find this information very valuable 2101 07173 the broadcast approach in communication networks - Jun 05 2022 jan 18 2021 the broadcast approach in communication networks ali tajer avi steiner shlomo shamai shitz this paper reviews the theoretical and practical principles of the broadcast approach to communication over state dependent channels and networks in which the transmitters have access to only the probabilistic description of the time varying states opportunistic spectrum sharing in cognitive radio networks - Dec 11 2022 this springer brief investigates spectrum sharing with limited channel feedback in various cognitive radio systems such as point to point broadcast scheduling and ad hoc networks the design aim is to optimally allocate the secondary resources to improve the throughput of secondary users while maintaining a certain quality of service for opportunistic spectrum sharing in cognitive radio networks - Mar 02 2022 mar 18 2015 this springer brief investigates spectrum sharing with limited channel feedback in various cognitive radio systems such as point to point broadcast scheduling and ad hoc networks the design aim is to optimally allocate the secondary resources to improve the throughput of secondary users while maintaining a certain quality of service for the broadcast approach in communication networks pmc - Feb 01 2022 jan 18 2021 other examples include opportunistic scheduling in which the transmitter adjusts encoding and transmission based on a quality of service metric that depends on the state of the channel 8 9 10 e g signal to noise ratio latency and throughput opportunistic spectrum access across time space and frequency and cognitive radio
