On The Beaten Track Tourism Art And Place:

On the Beaten Track Lucy R. Lippard, 1999 Essays explore the conception of tourism sites and their impact on the places they transform     Memorial Mania Erika Doss, 2022-12-22 In the past few decades thousands of new memorials to executed witches victims of terrorism and dead astronauts along with those that pay tribute to civil rights organ donors and the end of Communism have dotted the American landscape Equally ubiquitous though until now less the subject of serious inquiry are temporary memorials spontaneous offerings of flowers and candles that materialize at sites of tragic and traumatic death In Memorial Mania Erika Doss argues that these memorials underscore our obsession with issues of memory and history and the urgent desire to express and claim those issues in visibly public contexts Doss shows how this desire to memorialize the past disposes itself to individual anniversaries and personal grievances to stories of tragedy and trauma and to the social and political agendas of diverse numbers of Americans By offering a framework for understanding these sites Doss engages the larger issues behind our culture of commemoration Driven by heated struggles over identity and the politics of representation Memorial Mania is a testament to the fevered pitch of public feelings in America today     A Companion to Tourism Alan A. Lew, C. Michael Hall, Allan M. Williams, 2008-04-15 This groundbreaking Companion offers readers an opportunity to reassess key themes in contemporary tourism studies in the light of recent theoretical developments in tourism studies and the social sciences as well as dramatic changes in the operating environment for tourism A critical overview of current research in tourism studies Offers readers an opportunity to reassess key themes in tourism studies in the light of recent developments such as terrorist attacks SARS and the financial failure of airlines Comprises 48 specially commissioned essays written by more than 50 acknowledged experts from around the world Covers cutting edge perspectives and topics including tourism s role in globalization sustainable tourism and the state s role in tourism development Sets an agenda for future tourism research Includes a wealth of bibliographic references     Hard Bargaining in Sumatra Andrew Causey, 2003-01-01 Hard Bargaining in Sumatra is an artfully written and penetrating examination of interactions between Western travelers and Toba Batak wood carvers in the souvenir marketplaces of Samosir Island North Sumatra Toba Batak carvings ranging from simple human figures of wood to elaborately engraved water buffalo horns are described in tourist guidebooks and by Toba Batak vendors alike as traditional and antique despite many recent changes and inventions in form This pathbreaking work investigates how notions of place and self are constructed by the travelers and the Bataks in the context of ethnic tourism The author proposes that these interactions be understood in light of Louis Marin s concept of utopics suggesting that tourist venues such as hotels and marketplaces are neutral spaces where both locals and visitors can act out behaviors that would ordinarily be constrained by their respective cultures Rich in ethnographic description and employing a lively narrative style Hard Bargaining in Sumatra is essential reading for students and scholars with interests in anthropology cultural studies globalization and tourism research art history and identity studies

Framing Nature Yolonda Youngs, 2024-06 Winner of the 2024 John Brinkerhoff Jackson Prize from American Association of Geographers The Grand Canyon of the Colorado River is an internationally known feature of the North American landscape attracting more than five million visitors each year A deep cultural visual and social history has shaped the Grand Canyon's environment into one of America's most significant representations of nature Yet the canyon is more than a vacation destination a movie backdrop or a scenic viewpoint it is a real place as well as an abstraction easily summoned in the minds of Americans The Grand Canyon or the idea of it is woven into the fabric of American cultural identity and serves as a cultural reference point an icon In Framing Nature Yolonda Youngs traces the idea of the Grand Canyon as an icon and the ways people came to know it through popular imagery and visual media She analyzes and interprets more than fourteen hundred visual artifacts including postcards maps magazine illustrations and photographs of the Grand Canyon supplemented with the words and ideas of writers artists explorers and other media makers from 1869 to 2022 Youngs considers the manipulation and commodification of visual representations and shifting ideas values and meanings of nature exploring the interplay between humans and their environments and how visual representations shape popular ideas and meanings about national parks and the American West Framing Nature provides a novel interpretation of how places especially national parks are transformed into national and environmental symbols Suburbanization of New York

Jerilou Hammett, Kingsley Hammett, 2007-01-25 What's next for New York Is it cooking or cooling Brimming with vitality or sinking into somnolence Will it retain its edgy preeminence as global crucible the place par excellence where the world's peoples come to clash and fuse and create the future Will the forces of suburbanization now sprawling and malling their way into town tame the raucous metropolis subdue its contrarian politics make of it just another outlet for Disneyfied culture big box commerce and franchise food Or is something altogether new busy being born at the contested urban suburban frontier Only two things are sure New York is in rapid motion and this book is a great guide to where it might be headed Its diverse array of observations written by some of the country's smartest and wittiest analysts and activists are incisive and accessible provocative and entertaining perfect for an urban studies course and for anyone interested in pondering the past and future of cities

Culture, Creativity and Environment Fiona Becket, Terry Gifford, 2007 Culture Creativity and Environment New Environmentalist Criticism is a collection of new work which examines the intersection between philosophy literature visual art film and the environment at a time of environmental crisis This book is unusual in the way in which the imaginative creative element is privileged notwithstanding the creativity of rigorous cultural criticism Genuinely interdisciplinary this book aims to be inclusive in its discussions of diverse cultural media different literary genres art forms and film for instance which offer thoughtful and thought provoking critiques of our relationships with the environment Our ability to transcend the ethical and aesthetic categories and discourses that have contributed to our alienation from our environment is dependant upon an enlargement of our imaginative capacities In a modest way this book might contribute to what Ted Hughes speaking of the imagination of each new child described as nature's chance to correct culture's error      Cities' Vocabularies and the Sustainable Development of the Silkroads Stella Kostopoulou, Gricelda Herrera-Franco, Jacob Wood, Kheir

Al-Kodmany, 2023-09-27 This book discusses how cities' identities are formed and developed over time and portrays architecture and the arts as the embodiment of the historical, cultural, and economic characteristics of cities. Furthermore, it explores strategies and solutions to preserve the cultural heritage along the Silk Road, representing a compilation of research addressing the economic and social opportunities and challenges related to the development of a more sustainable and responsible approach to tourism development and the preservation of heritage. As such, it covers a wide range of audiences, including economists, architects, planners, tourism experts, and decision makers interested in making use of cities' available resources and features, offering strategies to explore development opportunities through sustainable and responsible tourism along the Silk Road. This book is a culmination of selected research papers from the first version of the International Conference on Silk Road Sustainable Tourism Development and Cultural Heritage (SRSTDCH) which was held in 2021 in collaboration with Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, the European Interdisciplinary Silk Road Tourism Centre Greece, and the 5th Edition of the International Conference on Cities Identity Through Architecture and Arts (CITAA) which was held in 2021 in collaboration with University of Pisa, Italy.

Africa in the American Imagination Carol Magee, 2012-04-26 In the American world, the presence of African culture is sometimes fully embodied and sometimes leaves only a trace. Africa in the American Imagination: Popular Culture, Racialized Identities, and African Visual Culture explores this presence, examining Mattel's world of Barbie, the 1996 Sports Illustrated swimsuit issue, and Disney World, each of which repackages African visual culture for consumers. Because these cultural icons permeate American life, they represent the broader U.S. culture and its relationship to African culture. This study integrates approaches from art history and visual culture studies with those from culture, race, and popular culture studies to analyze this interchange. Two major threads weave throughout. One analyzes how the presentation of African visual culture in these popular culture forms conceptualizes Africa for the American public. The other investigates the way the uses of African visual culture focus America's own self-awareness, particularly around black and white racialized identities. In exploring the multiple meanings that Africa has in American popular culture, Africa in the American Imagination argues that these cultural products embody multiple perspectives and speak to various sociopolitical contexts: the Cold War, civil rights, and contemporary eras of the United States; the apartheid and post-apartheid eras of South Africa; the colonial and postcolonial eras of Ghana; and the European era of African colonization.

Women, Performance, and the Material of Memory Laura Engel, 2018-12-12 This book proposes that the performance of archival research is related to the experience of tourism, where an individual immerses herself in a foreign environment, relating to and analyzing visual and sensory materials through embodiment and enactment. Each chapter highlights a particular set of tangible objects, including pocket diaries, portraits, drawings, magic lanterns, silhouettes, waxworks, and photographs, in relation to actresses authors and artists such as Elizabeth Inchbald Sally Siddons Marguerite Gardiner the Countess of Blessington Isabella Beetham Jane Read Madame Tussaud and Amelia M Watson Ultimately operating as an archival tourist in my analyses I offer strategies for thinking about the presence of women artists in the archives through methodologies that seek to connect materials from the past with our representations of them in the present

Architecture and Tourism in Italian Colonial Libya Brian McLaren, 2006 To be a tourist in Libya during the period of Italian colonization was to experience a complex negotiation of cultures Against a sturdy backdrop of indigenous culture and architecture modern metropolitan culture brought its systems of transportation and accommodation as well as new hierarchies of political and social control Architecture and Tourism in Italian Colonial Libya shows how Italian authorities used the contradictory forces of tradition and modernity to both legitimize their colonial enterprise and construct a vital tourist industry Although most tourists sought to escape the trappings of the metropole in favor of experiencing difference that difference was almost always framed contained and even defined by Western culture McLaren argues that the modern and the traditional were entirely constructed by colonial authorities who balanced their need to project an image of a modern and efficient network of travel and accommodation with the necessity of preserving the characteristic qualities of the indigenous culture What made the tourist experience in Libya distinct from that of other tourist destinations was the constant oscillation between modernizing and preservation tendencies The movement between these forces is reflected in the structure of the book which proceeds from the broadest level of inquiry into the Fascist colonial project in Libya to the tourist organization itself and finally into the architecture of the tourist environment offering a way of viewing state driven modernization projects and notions of modernity from a historical and geographic perspective This is an important book for architectural historians and for those interested in colonial and postcolonial studies as well as Italian studies African history literature and cultural studies more generally

Bibles and Baedekers Michael Grimshaw, 2014-12-05 Contemporary tourism and travel have become a form of religion a new opiate of the masses However could Church and theology be religious forms of tourism and travel Bibles and Baedekers offers a theology of tourism and exile for a modern and postmodern world It examines the ways in which location identity and movement have made use of religious texts and metaphor and questions the relative absence of secular texts and ideas in theology The theology of the tourist and traveller is one of new experiences the acquisition of identity through movement Bibles and Baedekers uniquely applies this to the postmodern Christian embodying the fulfilment of Bonhoeffer's religionless Christianity dislocated from both a secular and religious world

Contested Tourism Commodities Konstantinos Tomazos, 2020-05-21 This book discusses tourism niches as contested commodities that have grown and become part of the tourist setting in many destinations Over time they develop organically and in some cases underground before they explode into the mainstream and more often than not cause controversy The text traces the roots of different tourism trends using examples from both industry and existing studies revealing the importance of understanding their key drivers dynamics and impacts It is in managers interest to monitor such trends and tourist pursuits as they cross over because they hold the potential to influence new markets as destinations diversify their tourist offering This volume explores a number of different tourism niches including slum tourism trophy hunting tourism cosmetic surgery tourism volunteer tourism and sex tourism to name but a few It shows that the margins between contested commodity and mainstream acceptance are fluid and relative becoming increasingly blurred In this environment it is easy for a seemingly marginal tourist pursuit to cross into the mainstream What is pivotal in this emerging picture is that as the understanding of each niche matures into the broader public s consciousness and supply grows it becomes another experience that can be replicated homogenised and sold Turning these niches into tourism products requires enough understanding of them to be sold commercially and further segmented to benefit as many stakeholders as possible In this reality it is paramount that the tourism industry maintains an open mind and explores the potential of turning new trends into products for tourist consumption

Cross-cultural Behaviour in Tourism Yvette Reisinger, Lindsay W. Turner, 2003 Reisinger and Turner illustrate the importance of cultural background in the tourist experience in this in depth study The authors cover the concepts definitions and measures of these cultural components and the tools used to analyse them Dark Heritage Tourism in the Iberian Peninsula Sara Cerqueira Pascoal, Laura Tallone, Marco Furtado, 2023-04-03 This book seeks to offer a collection of relevant essays dealing with different aspects of dark tourism sites in the Iberian Peninsula delving into issues related to shared attitudes in the face of death and suffering Thus all the chapters explore the ideological readings that may turn dark sites into places of dissonant heritage and therefore make them meaningful elements in the formation of collective identities Illustrating the multidisciplinary potential of dark tourism studies the contributors come from different fields of study including historiography literary studies sociology This collection reflects on how tourism managers researchers academics policy makers and local communities can mobilize transition and adapt to cultural tourism fluctuations as well as mitigate the negative impacts of global crises It also provides examples of tourist practices which despite their local scope have a strong potential impact on collective and social levels as well as on business and multiple fields of study research and education Early Modern Women in the Low Countries Susan Broomhall, Jennifer Spinks, 2016-05-13 Combining historical historiographical museological and touristic analysis this study investigates how late medieval and early modern women of the Low Countries expressed themselves through texts art architecture and material objects how they were represented by contemporaries and how they have been interpreted in modern academic and popular contexts Broomhall and Spinks analyse late medieval and early modern women s opportunities to narrate their experiences and ideas as well as the processes that have shaped their representation in the heritage and cultural tourism of the Netherlands and Belgium today The authors study female authored objects such as familial and political letters dolls houses account books visual sources funeral monuments and buildings commissioned by female patrons and further artworks as well as heritage sites streetscapes souvenirs and clothing with gendered historical resonances Employing an innovative range of materials from written sources to artworks material objects heritage sites and urban precincts the authors argue that interpretations of late medieval and early modern women s experiences by historians and art scholars interact with presentations by cultural and heritage tourism providers in significant ways that deserve closer interrogation by feminist researchers Tourism and Politics Peter M. Burns, Marina Novelli, 2007-03-14 Tourism and Politics aims to disseminate ideas on the critical discourse of tourism and tourists as they relate to politics through a series of case studies from around the world written by specialists with an emphasis on linking theory to practice That tourism is a profoundly important economic sector for most countries and regions of the world is widely accepted even if some of the detail remains controversial However as tourism matures as a subject the theories underpinning it necessarily need to be more sophisticated tourism cannot be simply read as a business proposition with a series of impacts Wider questions of politics power and identity need to be articulated investigated and answered While the making and consuming of tourism takes place within complex political milieux with multiple stakeholders competing for benefit the implications are not fully understood Literature on tourism and politics is surprisingly limited This book will make a substantial contribution to the theoretical framework of tourism Public Art (Now) Claire Doherty, 2015-03-09 Public Art Now Out of Time Out of Place is the first survey of progressive public art from around the world It presents some of the most significant artworks in the public realm from the last decade challenging preconceptions about where when and how public art takes place The face of public art is changing For decades art in the public realm has been characterized by the landmark sculpture or spectacular outdoor event that helps to define or brand a place But in recent years a new wave of international artists and producers has rejected the monumental scale and mass appeal of such artworks Instead these individuals and groups favour unconventional forms that unsettle rather than authenticate a place s identity disrupt rather than embellish a particular location and contest rather than validate the design and function of public space Performed interactions collaborative social movements and small scale subversive acts are just some of the unorthodox approaches taken by these artists Their works challenge preconceived ideas about the role of art in place making as they seek to remake places through radical forms and practices Public Art Now Out of Time Out of Place presents the artists who have been redefining the practice of public art over the past decade They directly address the most pressing issues of our time including the encroachment of corporate concerns on public space the implications of global migration and the isolation of the individual and the potential of collective action to share the future of our towns and cities Some forty key works from around the world are organized into five sections Displacement Intervention Disorientation Occupation and Perpetuation with detailed descriptions and dozens of installation and process shots Interviews and quotes from practitioners commissioners and commentators reveal the impetus and context for the projects while the editor s introduction sets out the conceptual practical and ethical issues raised by the works Bringing together the most significant artworks in the public realm of the last ten years from ephemeral interventions to long term ongoing projects this dynamic survey is an essential reference for anyone interested in the ideas issues and impulses behind progressive public art and an accessible introduction to one of the most vibrant areas of contemporary art      Moral Encounters in Tourism Mary Mostafanezhad, Kevin Hannam, 2016-04-15 This first full length treatment of the role of morality in tourism examines how the tourism encounter is also fundamentally a moral encounter Drawing upon interdisciplinary perspectives leading and new authors in the field address topics that range from volunteer tourism to fertility tourism to reveal new insights into the ways tourism encounters are implicated in and contribute to broader moral reconfigurations in Western and non Western contexts Illustrating the role of power and power relations in tourism encounters within different political economic environmental and cultural contexts the authors in this anthology analyse theoretically and empirically the implications of the privileging of some moralities at the expense of others Key themes include the moral consumption of tourism experiences embodiment in tourism encounters environmental moralities as well as methodological aspects of morality in tourism research Crossing disciplinary and chronological boundaries Moral Encounters in Tourism provides a much anticipated overview of this new interdisciplinary terrain and offers possible routes for new research on the intersection of morality and tourism studies      Dark Tourism and Rural Crime Jenny Wise, 2024-10-08 Bringing a unique rural lens to the analysis of dark tourism in Australia this book covers a range of sites including convict museums sites of serial killings and colonial violence ghost tours and the emerging tourism of bushfire sites While some rural communities develop a dark tourism strategy to maintain economic viability others may distance themselves from what they perceive to be unethical tourism practices Jenny Wise examines the roles geographical locations play in dark tourist sites and how their histories are portrayed considering how the concept of the rural idyll or dystopia plays a part in Australia s national identity
