On The Margins Of The World The Refugee Experience Today:

On the Margins of the World Michel Agier, 2008 Fifty million people in the world today are victims of forced relocation caused by wars and violence Whole new countries are being created occupied by Afghan refugees displaced Columbians deported Rwandans exiled Congolese fleeing Iraqis Chechens Somalians and Sudanese who have witnessed wars massacres aggression and terror New populations appear defined by their shared conditions of fear and victimhood and by their need to survive outside of their homelands Their lives are marked by the daily trudge of dislocation refugee camps humanitarian help and the never ending wait These populations are the emblems of a new human condition which takes shape on the very margins of the world In this remarkable book Michel Agier sheds light on this process of dislocation and quarantine which is affecting an ever growing proportion of the world s population He describes the experience of these people speaking of their pain and their plight but also criticising their victimization by the rest of the world Agier analyses the ambiguous and often tainted nature of identities shaped in and by conflicts but also the process taking place in the refugee camp itself which allows refugees and the deported to create once again a sense of community and of shared humanity

Refugees Now

Kelly Oliver, Lisa M. Madura, Sabeen Ahmed, 2019-04-03 This important new book examines the status of refugees from a philosophical perspective The contributors explore the conditions faced by refugees and clarify the conceptual practical and ethical issues confronting the contemporary global community with respect to refugees The book takes up topics ranging from practical matters such as the social and political production of refugees refugee status and the tension between citizen rights and human rights and the handling of detention and deportation to more conceptual and theoretical concerns such as the ideology rhetoric and propaganda that sustain systems of exclusion and expulsion to the ethical dimensions that invoke hospitality and transnational responsibility Ideal for students and scholars in Political and Social Philosophy and Migration Studies more broadly the book provides a critical commentary on material responses to contemporary refugee crises as a means of opening pathways to more pointed assessments of both the political and ideological underpinnings of statelessness

Law and Asylum Simon Behrman, 2018-06-18 In contrast to the claim that refugee law has been a key in guaranteeing a space of protection for refugees this book argues that law has been instrumental in eliminating spaces of protection not just from one s persecutors but also from the grasp of sovereign power By uncovering certain fundamental aspects of asylum as practised in the past and in present day social movements namely its concern with defining space rather than people and its role as a space of resistance or otherness to sovereign law this book demonstrates that asylum has historically been antagonistic to law and vice versa In contrast twentieth century refugee law was constructed precisely to ensure the effective management and control over the movements of forced migrants To illustrate the complex ways in which these two paradigms asylum and refugee law interact with one another this book examines their historical development and concludes with in depth studies of the Sanctuary Movement in the United States and the Sans Papiers of France The book will appeal to researchers and students of refugee law and refugee studies legal and political philosophy ancient medieval and modern legal history and sociology of political movements      Gender, Violence, Refugees Susanne Buckley-Zistel, Ulrike Krause, 2017-08-01 Providing nuanced accounts of how the social identities of men and women the context of displacement and the experience or manifestation of violence interact this collection offers conceptual analyses and in depth case studies to illustrate how gender relations are affected by displacement encampment and return The essays show how these factors lead to various forms of direct indirect and structural violence This ranges from discussions of norms reflected in policy documents and practise the relationship between relief structures and living conditions in camps to forced military recruitment and forced return and covers countries in Africa Asia and Europe      Refugees, Prisoners and Camps B. Møller, 2014-12-09 What do refugee and concentration camps prisons terrorist and guerrilla training camps and prisoner of war camps have in common Arguably they have all followed an outside inside model enforcing a dichotomy between perceived desirable and undesirable characteristics This separation is the subject of Møller's multidisciplinary study

Refugees and the Media Nasir Uddin, Delaware Arif, 2024-07-17 Media and refugees rhetorically live together and practically complement each other Yet it involves plenty of hidden political agendas and ethical issues in the representation of refugees in media This collection raises questions Should the media stand by refugees or maintain deliberate neutrality Should the media dehumanize the refugees further in their humanitarian conditions Are the media entitled to publish photographs of refugees without informed consent Should the media stand by the state being responsible for generating refugee crisis or should the state be accountable for rendering its people refugees What effective roles can media play in redressing the refugee crisis in the world The book brings together scholars across disciplines and continents who reflect on the nexus between media and refugees in contexts around the world It engages in cutting edge methodological and theoretical discussions and challenges regarding the reciprocal engagement between media and refugees from both local and global perspectives      The Urbanization of Forced Displacement Neil James Wilson Crawford, 2022-01-31 Displacement in the twenty first century is urbanized The United Nations Refugee Agency UNHCR the world's largest humanitarian organization and the main body charged with assisting displaced people globally estimates that over 60 per cent of refugees now live in urban areas a proportion that only increases in the case of internally displaced people and asylum seekers Though cities and local authorities have become essential participants in the protection of refugees only three decades ago they were considered to sit firmly beyond UNHCR's remit with urban refugees typically characterized as aberrations In The Urbanization of Forced Displacement Neil James Wilson Crawford examines the organization's response to the growing number of refugees migrating to urban areas Introducing a broader study of policy making in international organizations Crawford addresses how and why UNHCR changed its policy and practice in response to shifting trends in displacement Citing over 400 primary UN documents Crawford provides an in depth study of the internal and external pressures faced by

UNHCR pressures from above below and within that explain why it has radically transformed its position from the 1990s onward UNHCR and global refugee policies have come to play an increasingly important role in the governance of global displacement The Urbanization of Forced Displacement sheds new light on how the organization works and how it conceives its role in global politics today Postcolonial Asylum David Farrier,2011-02-24 This book investigates how as postcolonial studies revises its agenda to incorporate twenty first century concerns asylum has emerged as a key field of enquiry

Refugees and Forced Migration in the Horn and Eastern Africa Johannes Dragsbaek Schmidt,Leah Kimathi,Michael Omondi Owiso,2019-05-13 This volume sheds new light on the refugees and forced migration at the Horn of Africa and East Africa Adopting a multidisciplinary perspective it traces historical structural and geopolitical factors to reveal the often brutal uprooting of people in a region that hosts more than three million refugees and almost six million internally displaced persons IDPs By doing so it enriches our understanding of the socio economic geopolitical and humanitarian causes and implications of migration and population displacement The book is divided into five parts focusing on different drivers of involuntary displacement and people s uprooting The first part covers geopolitical conflicts rooted partly in the colonial and Cold War geographies The second part then focuses on security aspects and conflicts while the third looks at encampment and refugee policies as well as refugee agencies Part four highlights issues of forced repatriation and human trafficking Lastly part five analyzes the dynamics of refugee camps Inhabiting Borders, Routes Home Ala Sirriyeh,2016-05-23 In recent years there has been growing interest in the experiences of young people seeking asylum in Europe While the significance of the role of age is recognized both youth transitions and trajectories beyond the age of eighteen are still largely unexplored the role and impact of mobility predominantly centering on experiences of movement from country of origin to country of settlement Inhabiting Borders Routes Home contends that in considering migration and settlement experiences of young refugees it is also important to consider the role of their mobility through age and transitions in the country of settlement Based on narrative research with young refugees this book explores how migration journeys are intertwined with life course journeys and transitions into adulthood shedding light on the manner in which gender intersects with age in experiences of migration and settlement with close attention to the processes by which home is understood and constructed Through the concept of home the book draws together and reflects on interconnections between integration in areas such as education or housing and experiences of social networks Examining experiences of the asylum process and the manner in which they are interwoven within a wider narrative of home both within and beyond Inhabiting Borders Routes Home will be of interest to social scientists working in the areas of migration asylum intersectionality and the life course

Deter, Detain, Dehumanise Rachel Sharples,Linda Briskman,2024-06-19 Taken together this body of work examines how Australia has politicised the right to seek asylum to the detriment of asylum seekers and refugees as well as Australian citizens and tentatively offers hope on how we might seek to normalise legitimise and re humanise the processes

Children of the Camp Catherine-Lune Grayson, 2017-10-01 Chronic violence has characterized Somalia for over two decades forcing nearly two million people to flee A significant number have settled in camps in neighboring countries where children were born and raised Based on in depth fieldwork this book explores the experience of Somalis who grew up in Kakuma refugee camp in Kenya and are now young adults This original study carefully considers how young people perceive their living environment and how growing up in exile structures their view of the past and their country of origin and the future and its possibilities

Governing Refugees Kirsten McConnachie, 2014-04-24 Refugee camps are imbued in the public imagination with assumptions of anarchy danger and refugee passivity Governing Refugees Justice Order and Legal Pluralism challenges such assumptions arguing that refugee camps should be recognized as spaces where social capital can not only survive but thrive This book examines camp management and the administration of justice in refugee camps on the Thailand Burma border Emphasising the work of refugees themselves in coping with and adapting to encampment it considers themes of agency sovereignty and legal pluralism in an analysis of local governance and the production of order beyond the state Governing Refugees will appeal to anyone with relevant interests in law anthropology and criminology as well as those working in the area of refugee studies

Dehumanization in the Global Migration Crisis Adrienne de Ruiter, 2024-03-06 What does it mean to fail to recognise people s humanity This book analyses dehumanization in the global migration crisis to answer this complex question Drawing from interviews with refugees and asylum seekers Dehumanization in the Global Migration Crisis presents a philosophical yet empirically grounded account of what dehumanization entails While dehumanization is commonly used as a key concept in scholarship popular media and public debate to call attention to remediable harms faced by the forcibly displaced its precise meaning is far from clear A wide variety of practices is called dehumanizing ranging from international policies that confine people under undignified circumstances within refugee camps to using forced migrants as bargaining chips in political negotiations Yet how do these practices exactly deny the humanity of the persons involved What sense of humanity is at stake in the adversities that refugees asylum seekers and unwanted migrants face Through a detailed examination of victims descriptions of their lived experiences with dehumanization animalization objectification and brutalization De Ruiter finds that dehumanisation is best understood as a distinct form of moral exclusion that is characterised by blindness to the significance of their human subjectivity The book provides a critical discourse analysis of the usage of the term dehumanization in reporting on the global migration crisis and sets out what should be done to counteract the dehumanization of refugees asylum seekers and unwanted migrants

A Great Many Refugees Thomas A. Krainz, Building Noah's Ark for Migrants, Refugees, and Religious Communities Jin-Heon Jung, 2015-06-03 Building Noah's Ark for Migrants Refugees and Religious Communities examines religion within the framework of refugee studies as a public good with the spiritual and material use of religion shedding new light on the agency of refugees in reconstructing their lives and positioning themselves in hostile environments

Resistance Angeliki Sioli, Nishat Awan, Kristopher Palagi, 2024-08-16 Borders between countries neighbourhoods people beliefs and policies are proliferating and expanding despite what self proclaimed progressive societies wish or choose to believe For a wide variety of reasons the early 21st century is caught struggling between breaking down barriers and raising them Architecture is complicit in both It is central to the perpetuation of borders and key to their dismantling Architectures of Resistance Negotiating Borders Through Spatial Practices approaches borders as sites of meaningful encounter between others other cultures other nations other perspectives guided not by fear or hatred but by respect and tolerance The contributors to this volume including architects urban planners artists human geographers and political scientists address spatial boundaries as places where social and political conditions are intensified and where new spatial practices of architectural resistance arise Moving across contemporary historical and speculative conditions of borders Architectures of Resistance discusses new and innovative forms of architectural artistic and political practice that facilitate constructive human interaction

Asylum Seeking and the Global City Francesco Vecchio, 2014-08-13 Asylum seeking and the global city are two major contemporary subjects of analysis to emerge both in the literature and in public and official discourses on human rights urban socioeconomic change and national security Based on extensive original ethnographic research this book examines the situation of asylum seekers in Hong Kong and offers a narrative of their experiences related to internal and external borders the performance of border crossing and asylum politics in the context of the global city Hong Kong is a city with no comprehensive legislation covering refugee claims and official and public opinion is dominated by the view that the city would be flooded with illegal economic migrants were policy changes to be implemented This book considers why Hong Kong has become a destination for asylum seekers how asylum seekers integrate into local and global economic markets and why the illegalization of asylum seekers plays a significant role in the processes of global city formation This book will be essential reading for academics and students involved in the study of migration globalization and borders research methods in criminology social problems and urban sociology

International Migration in the Euro-Mediterranean Region Ibrahim Awad, 2019-05-20 This issue of Cairo Papers takes up the various dimensions of migration and refugees in the Euro Mediterranean region over different periods in the last two centuries It looks at both the migration of waves of Italians and Greeks to Egypt from the mid nineteenth to the early twentieth century and at migration from the Arab southern and eastern rims of the Mediterranean to Europe starting in the twenty first century The disciplines of history sociology anthropology and political science have been mobilized to undertake the research its chapters embody They address the history of migration in the region relations between Mediterranean countries of origin and their diasporas the impact of interest groups on the formulation of migration policies in countries of destination and the policies for integration of recent flows arriving in Europe The chapters are based on papers delivered at Cairo Papers 25th annual symposium in collaboration with the Center for Migration and Refugee Studies

Intersections of Tourism, Migration, and Exile Natalia Bloch, Kathleen M.

Adams, 2022-12-30 This book challenges the classic and often tacit compartmentalization of tourism migration and refugee studies by exploring the intersections of these forms of spatial mobility each prompts distinctive images and moral reactions yet they often intertwine overlap and influence one another Tourism migration and exile evoke widely varying policies diverse popular reactions and contrasting imagery What are the ramifications of these siloed conceptions for people on the move To what extent do gender class ethnic and racial global inequalities shape moral discourses surrounding people's movements This book presents 12 predominantly ethnographic case studies from around the world and a pandemic focused conclusion that address these issues In recounting and juxtaposing stories of refugees and migrants returns marriage migrants voluntourists migrant retirees migrant tourism workers and entrepreneurs mobile investors and professionals and refugees pursuing educational mobility this book cultivates more nuanced insights into intersecting forms of mobility Ultimately this work promises to foster not only empathy but also greater resolve for forging trails toward mobility justice This accessibly written volume will be essential to scholars and students in critical migration tourism and refugee studies including anthropologists sociologists human geographers and researchers in political science and cultural studies The book will also be of interest to non academic professionals and general readers interested in contemporary mobilities

chapter 1 thin walled circular cylinders under internal and - May 04 2023

web thin walled circular cylinders these stresses which entail a triaxial stress state can be readily obtained by simply setting equilibrium conditions i.e. without making use of compatibility conditions

thick cylinders springerlink - Aug 27 2022 web in chapter 2 we examined the stresses in thin walled cylinders subjected to internal pressure the assumption of thin walls allowed us to develop a simple analysis that ignored the variation of radial stress when the wall thickness becomes appreciable in proportion thin walled cylinders and spheres cylinders and spheres - Jul 26 2022 web oct 12 2011 if the cylinder walls are thin and the ratio of the thickness to the internal diameter is less than about then it can be assumed that the hoop and longitudinal stresses are constant across the thickness it may also be assumed that the radial stress is small and can be neglected

danotes cylinders thin cylinders university of cambridge - Dec 31 2022 web a fluid container sealed by a piston is open c in this case an external axial force  $f_a$  is mandatory for equilibrium of the overall piston and cylinder assembly a bicycle pump is a common example if  $a_i$  is the internal circular area then a free body of either piston or cylinder end c must have  $f_a p_i a_i$  and there is no need for axial wall stresses to
