The Sunken Gold Joseph A. Williams, 2017-09-01
 On January 25 1917 HMS Laurentic struck two German mines off the coast of Ireland and sank The ship was carrying 44 tons of gold bullion to the still neutral United States via Canada in order to finance the war effort for Britain and its allies Britain desperately needed that sunken treasure but any salvage had to be secret since the British government dared not alert the Germans to the presence of the gold Lieutenant Commander Guybon Damant was the most qualified officer to head the risky mission Wild gales battered the wreck into the shape of an accordion turning the operation into a multiyear struggle of man versus nature As the war raged on Damant was called off the salvage to lead a team of covert divers to investigate and search through the contents of recently sunk U boats for ciphers minefield schematics and other secrets The information they obtained once in the hands of British intelligence proved critical toward Allied efforts to defeat the U boats and win the war But Damant had become obsessed with completing his long deferred mission His team struggled for five more years as it became apparent that the work could only be accomplished by muscle grit and persistence Using newly discovered sources author Joseph A Williams provides the first full length account of the quest for the Laurentian gold More than an incredible story about undersea diving adventure The Sunken Gold is a story of human persistence bravery and patriotism Sport Diver, 2001-05 Ecstatic Worlds Janine Marchessault, 2023-10-31 When media translate the world to the world twentieth century utopian projects including Edward Steichen's Family of Man Jacques Cousteau's underwater films and Buckminster Fuller's geoscope Postwar artists and architects have used photography film and other media to imagine and record the world as a wonder of collaborative entanglement to translate the world for the world In this book Janine Marchessault examines a series of utopian media events that opened up and expanded the cosmos creating ecstatic collective experiences for spectators and participants Marchessault shows that Edward Steichen's 1955 Family of Man photography exhibition for example and Jacques Cousteau's 1956 underwater film Le monde du silence The Silent World both gave viewers a sense of the earth as a shared ecology The Festival of Britain 1951 in particular its Telekinema a combination of 3D film and television and its Live Architecture exhibition along with Expo 67's cinema experiments and media city created an awareness of multiple worlds Toronto's alternative microcinema CineCycle Agnès Varda's 2000 film Les glaneurs et la glaneuse and Buckminster Fuller's World Game geoscope representing ecologies of images and resources encouraged planetary thinking The transspecies communication platform the Dolphin Embassy devised by the Ant Farm architecture collaborative extends this planetary perspective toward other species and Finnish artist Erkki Kurenniemi's Death of the Planet projects a postanthropocentric future Drawing on sources that range from the Scottish town planner Patrick Geddes to the French phenomenologist Maurice Merleau-Ponty Marchessault argues that each of these media experiments represents an engagement with connectivity and collectivity through media that will help us imagine a new form of global humanism Doing Educational Research, 2015-01-01 In the second edition of Doing Educational Research we explore a variety of critical issues and methodologies Authors include some of the most influential voices selected from across the spectrum of career disciplines The scholars provide detailed insights into dimensions of the research process that engage both students and experienced researchers with key concepts and recent innovations in the art of doing research The contributors adopt a stance that is practical as it introduces beginning scholars to social inquiry and innovative as it transforms the boundaries of conversations about educational research Doing Educational Research appears at a critical moment in which educational researchers are pushed to align with a pervasive scientism that embraces tenets of crypto-positivism The book addresses logics of inquiry underpinning cutting edge approaches to educational research that extend far beyond limited visions that are presented through the lenses of positivism The chapters explore a variety of methodologies including action research bricolage ethnography hermeneutics historiography media based research psychoanalysis and conversation analysis in a matrix of social theory authentic inquiry critical pedagogy and differences in epistemology ontology and axiology A diverse array of complex topics are presented in accessible forms and will compel both scholars and students The Underwater Eye Margaret Cohen, 2022-04-12 In The Underwater Eye Margaret Cohen tells the fascinating story of how the development of modern diving equipment and movie camera technology has allowed documentary and narrative filmmakers to take human vision into the depths creating new imagery of the seas and the underwater realm and expanding the scope of popular imagination Innovating on the most challenging film set on earth filmmakers have tapped the emotional power of the underwater environment to forge new visions of horror tragedy adventure beauty and surrealism entertaining the public and shaping its perception of ocean reality Examining works by filmmakers ranging from J E Williamson inventor of the first undersea film technology in 1914 to Wes Anderson who filmed the underwater scenes of his 2004 The Life Aquatic with Steve Zissou entirely in a pool The Underwater Eye traces how the radically alien qualities of underwater optics have shaped liquid fantasies for more than a century Richly illustrated the book explores documentaries by Jacques Cousteau Louis Malle and Hans Hass art films by Man Ray and Jean Vigo and popular movies and television shows such as 20 000 Leagues Under the Sea Creature from the Black Lagoon Sea Hunt the Bond films Jaws The Abyss and Titanic In exploring the cultural impact of underwater filmmaking the book also asks compelling questions about the role film plays in engaging the public with the remote ocean a frontline of climate change Deep Cuba Bill Belleville, 2010-01-25 Geography politics and other factors have allowed Cuba to preserve the region s most pristine coast and offshore marine environment Deep Cuba recounts Bill Belleville s month long journey around the island in the company of American and Cuban marine biologists and a Discovery Channel film crew It was the first and so far only United States submersible research expedition in Cuban waters From coral reefs to mangrove swamps to a submerged volcanic mountain the voyagers encountered sublimely wild places unseen before by anyone from the United States or even by many Cubans Belleville conveys the tempo of the scientists workday during which the routine gathering of data and specimens could be punctuated by trips in a state of the art submersible the discovery of new species or a tropical storm Throughout the trip as well all on board had to work through differences that arose from the expedition s contrary goals to produce a commercially viable seagoing adventure film and to conduct controlled methodical scientific investigations Belleville paces his coverage of the expedition with absorbing stories about the history and culture of the island s peoples from the indigenous Taino to its current inhabitants of African and European heritage Deep Cuba even includes a candid portrait of Castro himself An avid diver sport fisherman and naturalist El Comandante paid a visit aboard the research vessel Deep Cuba is an engaging mix of nature and travel writing along with scientific reportage that is keenly attuned to current crises in research funding Revealed here is a magnificent marine world with crucial ecological links to the Caribbean Basin and the southeastern United States

The Concept of Water Rupert D. V. Glasgow, 2009 Water is commonly taken for granted and treated with contempt yet it is the very foundation of human existence Assuming countless forms it is deeply associated both with life and death body and soul purity and pollution creation and destruction The Concept of Water seeks to bring together the various aspects of our deeply ambiguous relationship with water providing a systematic account of its symbolic and philosophical significance

This involves looking at how water has been conceived and the role it has played in everyday thought mythology literature religion philosophy politics and science both across cultures and through history R D V Glasgow was born in Sheffield and currently lives in Zaragoza His previous books are Madness Masks and Laughter 1995 Split Down the Sides 1997 and The Comedy of Mind 1999 One Breath Emma Farrell,2006 The Physics of Scuba Diving Marlow Anderson,2011-06-28
