On Good Land The Autobiography Of An Urban Farm:

On Good Land Michael Ableman, 1998-05 Chronicles the life of the one hundred year old Fairview Gardens a thriving farm in the heart of suburban Santa Barbara , Bitter Harvest Ann Cooper, Lisa M. Holmes, 2013-12-16 The history of food is not as straightforward as it may seem Food isn't just food It is ritual tradition and memory So begins Ann Cooper's groundbreaking new book on the history of sustenance Cooper a renowned chef and graduate of New York's famed Culinary Institute of America expertly guides us from the roots of agriculture in North America through the profound changes initiated by the Industrial Revolution all the way up to the present day offering analyses of recent controversies such as Europe's campaign against Frankenfood and the genetic engineering of plants and animals in the United States Throughout Cooper takes both a macro and micro approach examining the effect politics technology war international trade and agribusiness have had on the world's food supply as well as the changing social patterns which have made a family meal at the table almost a relic of the past Did you know 80% of chicken has salmonella By the year 2010 95 percent of items bought at the grocery store may be consumed within 20 minutes of getting them home Cancer researchers believe that over one third of all future cancers will be diet related roughly the same proportion now attributable to smoking Passionate political informed and engaging Bitter Harvest is filled with fascinating facts and anecdotes Cooper offers a comprehensive analysis of the issue of sustainability arguing persuasively why we must begin to change everything from the way food is shipped to the basic components of our diets Touching on virtually every aspect of the food culture Bitter Harvest is a vibrant example of the emergence of the chef as a political voice to be reckoned with A food manifesto for the new millennium it is a must read for anyone concerned with health nutrition and the future of our planet You will never look at your dinner plate in quite the same way again The Best of All Worlds Charlene Sherman, 2003-09 Confused by conflicting diet information Seeking an eating style that extends your youth prevents disease helps you achieve your ideal weight and is still delicious and easy to live with Not another fad The Best of All Worlds is a complete common sense guide that combines the wisdom of ancient medicine with the latest modern research Learn what every consumer needs to know about genetic engineering pesticides factory farming and organic food According to the Surgeon General One personal choice seems to influence long term health prospects more than any other what you eat This choice has far reaching effects not only on your own health but also on the health of the Earth In the seemingly small act of buying groceries you exercise unparalleled power over your energy level longevity emotional state cognitive function and even the future of your children and grandchildren The Best of All Worlds includes over 100 seasonally appropriate vegetarian recipes that even the staunchest meat and potatoes person will love Discover how easy it is to transform your eating style transform your life and save the Earth one forkful at a time You really can have the best of all worlds The Routledge Handbook of Sustainable Cities and Landscapes in the Pacific Rim Yizhao Yang, Anne Taufen, 2022-03-17 This handbook addresses a growing list of challenges faced by regions and cities in the Pacific

Rim drawing connections around the what why and how questions that are fundamental to sustainable development policies and planning practices These include the connection between cities and surrounding landscapes across different boundaries and scales the persistence of environmental and development inequities and the growing impacts of global climate change including how physical conditions and social implications are being anticipated and addressed Building upon localized knowledge and contextualized experiences this edited collection brings attention to place based approaches across the Pacific Rim and makes an important contribution to the scholarly and practical understanding of sustainable urban development models that have mostly emerged out of the Western experiences Nine sections each grounded in research dialogue and collaboration with practical examples and analysis focus on a theme or dimension that carries critical impacts on a holistic vision of city landscape development such as resilient communities ecosystem services and biodiversity energy water health and planning and engagement This international edited collection will appeal to academics and students engaged in research involving landscape architecture architecture planning public policy law urban studies geography environmental science and area studies It also informs policy makers professionals and advocates of actionable knowledge and adoptable ideas by connecting those issues with the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs of the United Nations The collection of writings presented in this book speaks to multiyear collaboration of scholars through the APRU Sustainable Cities and Landscapes SCL Program and its global network facilitated by SCL Annual Conferences and involving more than 100 contributors from more than 30 institutions The Open Access version of chapters 1 2 4 11 17 23 30 37 42 49 and 56 of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781003033530> have been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Superbia! Dan Chiras, Dave Wann, 2009-03-01 The only book that shows how to transform existing suburbs to create environment and people friendly neighborhoods

Food and the City Jennifer Cockrall-King, 2012 Discusses how urban agriculture can help revolutionize the environmentally unsustainable modern food industry providing evidence of thriving urban farms within food deserts and describing the global movement towards alternative food production

Planning for Equitable Urban Agriculture in the United States Samina Raja, Marcia Caton Campbell, Alexandra Judelson, Branden Born, Alfonso Morales, 2024-03-19 This open access book building on the legacy of food systems scholar and advocate Jerome Kaufman examines the potential and pitfalls of planning for urban agriculture UA in the United States especially in how questions of ethics and equity are addressed The book is organized into six sections Written by a team of scholars and practitioners the book covers a comprehensive array of topics ranging from theory to practice of planning for equitable urban agriculture Section 1 makes the case for reimagining agriculture as central to urban landscapes and unpacks why how and when planning should support UA and more broadly food systems Section 2 written by early career and seasoned scholars provides a theoretical foundation for the book Section 3 written by teams of scholars and community partners examines how civic agriculture is unfolding across urban landscapes led largely by community organizations Section 4 written by planning practitioners and scholars documents local government planning tied to urban agriculture focusing especially on how they address questions of equity Section 5 explores UA as a locus of pedagogy of equity Section 6 places the UA movement in the US within a global context and concludes with ideas and challenges for the future The book concludes with a call for planning as public nurturance an approach that can be illustrated through urban agriculture Planning as public nurturance is a value explicit process that centers an ethics of care especially protecting the interests of publics that are marginalized It builds the capacity of marginalized groups to authentically co design and participate in planning policy processes Such a planning approach requires that progress toward equitable outcomes is consistently evaluated through accountability measures And finally such an approach requires attention to structural and institutional inequities Addressing these four elements is more likely to create a condition under which urban agriculture may be used as a lever in the planning and development of more just and equitable cities This is an open access book This is an open access book

The Revolution Will Not Be Microwaved Sandor Ellix Katz, 2006-11-15 From James Beard Award winner and New York Times bestselling author of The Art of Fermentation An instant classic for a new generation of monkey wrenching food activists Food in America is cheap and abundant yet the vast majority of it is diminished in terms of flavor and nutrition anonymous and mysterious after being shipped thousands of miles and passing through inscrutable supply chains and controlled by multinational corporations In our system of globalized food commodities convenience replaces quality and a connection to the source of our food Most of us know almost nothing about how our food is grown or produced where it comes from and what health value it really has It is food as pure corporate commodity We all deserve much better than that In The Revolution Will Not Be Microwaved author Sandor Ellix Katz Sandor Katz's Fermentation Journeys The Art of Fermentation and Wild Fermentation profiles grassroots activists who are taking on Big Food creating meaningful alternatives and challenging the way many Americans think about food From community supported local farmers community gardeners and seed saving activists to underground distribution networks of contraband foods and food resources rescued from the waste stream this book shows how ordinary people can resist the dominant system revive community based food production and take direct responsibility for their own health and nutrition The Small-Mart Revolution (Volume 1 of 2) (EasyRead Super Large 20pt Edition) , The Small-Mart Revolution (Volume 1 of 2) (EasyRead Super Large 24pt Edition) , Breaking Through Concrete David Hanson,Edwin Marty,2012-01-30 People have always grown food in urban spaces on windowsills and sidewalks and in backyards and neighborhood parks but today urban farmers are leading an environmental and social movement that transforms our national food system To explore this agricultural renaissance brothers David and Michael Hanson and urban farmer Edwin Marty document twelve successful urban farm programs from an alternative school for girls in Detroit to a backyard food swap in New Orleans to a restaurant supply garden on a rooftop in Brooklyn Each beautifully illustrated essay offers practical advice for budding farmers such as composting and keeping livestock in the city decontaminating toxic soil even changing zoning laws Crossings Walter C. Jr. Wright,2001-03 As the president of Regent College Dr Walter C Wright welcomed theological students from around the world for 12 years At the closing of each academic year he would then see those same students off to the rest of their lives following their formative time at Regent Collected here are Dr Wright s introductory and closing chapel talks that explore the difficulties associated with transitioning to the places where God is calling us to be These encouraging expositions from Scripture will speak to anyone who is pulling up roots and moving on to follow God s leading at Regent College or elsewhere or preparing for life after Regent after completing their theological studies Book jacket Spirit of Disobedience Curtis White,2020-07-24 Trained relentlessly to work and consume we make daily lifestyle decisions that promote corporate profits more than our own well being We also find ourselves working more living in fragmented communities and neglecting our most basic spiritual and political values As Curtis White puts it In order to live you will be asked to do what is no good what is absurd trivial demeaning and soul killing Although we belong to the world s most affluent society somehow we never have the chance to ask How shall we live With his trademark humor and acerbic wit White raises this impertinent question He also debunks the conventional view that liberalism can answer it without drawing on spiritual values Surveying American popular culture including Office Space and The Da Vinci Code to illustrate his points White urges us to renew our commitment to human fundamentals as articulated by Henry David Thoreau especially free time home and food and to reclaim Thoreau s spirit of disobedience Seeking imaginative answers to his central questions White also interviews John De Graaf Affluenza James Howard Kunstler The Long Emergency and Michael Ableman Fields of Plenty about their views of the good life in our time The Small-Mart Revolution Michael H Shuman,2007-08-20 Defenders of massive multinational chains like Wal Mart and Fortune 500 big business argue that like it or not there is no alternative Their huge scale and international reach they claim make them more efficient and profitable better able to deliver value and an uncontested boon for the job market

According to the big boys locally owned small businesses are simply quaint remnants of the past unable to compete in the global economy But in em The Small Mart Revolution Michael Shuman shows that the benefits these mega stores and huge corporations supposedly deliver to communities are illusory Crunch the numbers and you ll find that locally owned businesses turn out to be much more reliable generators of good jobs economic growth tax dollars community wealth charitable contributions social stability and political participation Unlike their global competitors they do this without massive tax breaks and subsidies that often put local economies in a permanent hole Plus contrary to popular belief local businesses are competitive with the multinationals and gaining ground every day Shuman highlights numerous trends that are making the old bigger is better economies of scale argument obsolete and he describes a variety of innovative strategies these businesses are using to successfully compete with their over sized competitors He also shows how consumers investors and policymakers can support their own communities by going local The Small Mart Revolution offers a robust alternative to go go globalization one that nurtures the creative capacities of local businesses and enables communities everywhere to thrive

Street Farm Michael Ableman, 2016-08-17 Street Farm is the inspirational account of residents in the notorious Low Track in Vancouver British Columbia one of the worst urban slums in North America who joined together to create an urban farm as a means of addressing the chronic problems in their neighborhood It is a story of recovery of land and food of people and of the power of farming and nourishing others as a way to heal our world and ourselves During the past seven years Sole Food Street Farms now North America s largest urban farm project has transformed acres of vacant and contaminated urban land into street farms that grow artisan quality fruits and vegetables By providing jobs agricultural training and inclusion in a community of farmers and food lovers the Sole Food project has empowered dozens of individuals with limited resources who are managing addiction and chronic mental health problems Sole Food s mission is to encourage small farms in every urban neighborhood so that good food can be accessible to all and to do so in a manner that allows everyone to participate in the process In Street Farm author photographer farmer Michael Ableman chronicles the challenges growth and success of this groundbreaking project and presents compelling portraits of the neighborhood residents turned farmers whose lives have been touched by it Throughout he also weaves his philosophy and insights about food and farming as well as the fundamentals that are the underpinnings of success for both rural farms and urban farms Street Farm will inspire individuals and communities everywhere by providing a clear vision for combining innovative farming methods with concrete social goals all of which aim to create healthier and more resilient communities

Digging the City Rhona McAdam, 2012 At the last census in 2006 just over 80 percent of Canada s population lived in urban centres How we feed that population and protect its food sources is an enduring subject of debate in food security circles these days As consumers and citizens we all need to take a hard look at the deficiencies in Canada s ability to feed the urban poor our dependence on imported foods and centralized food processing our detachment from our food sources the often problematic solutions to food security devised by governments municipalities and non profit groups and where we are headed if we change nothing in these times when change is urgently needed Many efforts are being made to introduce urban agriculture initiatives all across the country to address the problems we ve created and to protect our cities from real and potential crises in the food supply With passion and lyricism Digging the City addresses the problems facing urban omnivores in the 21st century and looks at various policy grassroots and utopian solutions being developed and implemented while considering the pros and cons of plans such as vertical farms urban fish farms transition town initiatives seed banks permaculture and water conservation projects

City Farmer Lorraine Johnson, 2011 City Farmer celebrates the new ways that urban dwellers are getting closer to their food Not only are backyard vegetable plots popping up in places long reserved for lawns but some renegades are even planting their front yards with food People in apartments are filling their balconies with pots of tomatoes beans and basil while others are gazing skyward and greening their rooftops with food plants Still others are colonizing public spaces staking out territory in parks for community gardens and orchards or convincing school boards to turn asphalt school grounds into growing grounds Woven through the book are the stories of guerrilla urban farmers in various cities of North America who are tapping city trees for syrup gleaning fruit from parks foraging for greens in abandoned lots planting heritage vegetables on the boulevard and otherwise placing food production at the centre of the urban community Additional stories describe the history of urban food production in North America revealing the roots of our current hunger for more connection with our food and the visionaries who have directed that hunger into action Throughout the book sidebars offer practical tips for how to compost how to convert a lawn into a vegetable bed and what edible plants are easy to grow with children among other topics
