The Freedom of a Christian Martin Luther, 2011-05-13 Martin Luther's The Freedom of a Christian stands as one of the crucial writings that fueled the 16th century reformation of the Christian church. In it, Luther argues that Christians are freed from the demands of the law to serve God and neighbor. A Christian, Luther writes, is a perfectly free lord of all, subject to none. A Christian is a perfectly dutiful servant of all, subject to all.

Prussian Conservatism 1815-1856 Laura Claudia Achtelstetter, 2021-10-31 The book examines the nexus between political and religious thought within the Prussian old conservative milieu. It presents early nineteenth century Prussian conservatism as a phenomenon connected to a specific generation of young Prussians. The book introduces the ecclesial political party of the Evangelische Kirchenzeitung (EKZ), a religious party within the Prussian state church, as the origins of Prussia's conservative party post 1848. It traces the roots of the EKZ party back to the experiences of the Napoleonic Wars (1806-15) and the social movements dominant at that time. Additionally, the book analyses this generation's increasing politicization and presents the German revolution of 1848 and the foundation of Prussia's first conservative party as the result of a decade-long struggle for a religiously motivated ideal of church, state, and society. The overall shift from church politics to state politics is key to understanding conservative policy post 1848. Consequently, this book shows how conservatives aimed to maintain Prussia's character as a Christian and monarchical state while at the same time adapting to contemporary political and social circumstances. Therefore, the book is a must-read for researchers, scholars, and students of Political Science and History interested in a better understanding of the origins and the evolution of Prussian conservatism as well as the history of political thought.

Encounters with Luther Kirsi I. Stjerna, Brooks Schramm, 2016-08-01 Encounters with Luther offers in one volume original primary research from an international and ecumenical pool of scholars. It examines Luther and Lutheran theological traditions along with their historical foundations and with a focus on relevant contemporary issues and ecumenical collegiality. Topics range from sacraments and marriage to violence and gender and sexuality to spiritual care, politics, and suffering. Chapters are based on the annual Luther Colloquy proceedings at Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg. The articles represent a diverse range of authors and methodologies that reward readers with relevant and genuinely contemporary and practical applications of Luther's thought. Contributors: B. A. Gerrish, Mary Jane Haemig, Douglass John Hall, Stanley Hauerwas, Kurt K. Hendel, Hans J. Hillerbrand, Eero Huovinen, Denis R. Janz, Peter D. S. Breaking Ground B. J. Condrey, 2019-08-21 Written primarily for new Christians, this discipleship-oriented book is designed to help people lay a biblical foundation in six weeks. In Psalm 11:3, David wrote, "If the foundations are destroyed, what will the righteous do?" A solid biblical foundation is key to long-term spiritual success. With this goal in mind, this book is uniquely formatted to encourage the reader to interact with the Bible, spend time with God daily, meet with a mentor, or small

Rich,2023-05-16 Within contemporary orthodoxy debates over sex and gender have become increasingly polemical over the past generation Beginning with questions around women s ordination arguments have expanded to include feminism sexual orientation the sacrament of marriage definitions of family adoption of children and care of transgender individuals Preliminary responses to each of these topics are shaped by gender essentialism the idea that male and female are ontologically fixed and incommensurate categories with different sets of characteristics and gifts for each sex These categories in turn delineate gender roles in the family the church and society Gender Essentialism and Orthodoxy offers an immanent critique of gender essentialism in the stream of the contemporary Orthodox Church influenced by the Paris School of Russian migr theologians and their heirs It uses an interdisciplinary approach to bring into conversation patristic reflections on sex and gender personalist theological anthropology insights from gender and queer theory and modern biological understandings of human sexual differentiation Though these are seemingly unrelated discourses Gender Essentialism and Orthodoxy reveals unexpected points of convergence as each line of thought eschews a strict gender binary in favor of more open ended possibilities The study concludes by drawing out some theological implications of the preceding findings as they relate to the ordination of women to the priesthood same sex unions and sacramental understandings of marriage definitions of family and pastoral care for intersex transgender and nonbinary parishioners Our True Beloved

Michael S. Whiting, 2024-10-17 C S Lewis s masterpiece The Four Loves published in 1960 provided the world with a Christian exploration of four dimensions of human love extolling the divine blessings and warning of the idolatrous distortions in familial belonging storge friendship as a common quest philia romantic desire for personal union eros and concluding with the perfection of divine unconditional love agape Whiting uses the four loves as a framework to interpret the Christian love of God in historical movements across Catholic Orthodox Protestant and Pentecostal Charismatic churches He illuminates the often reactionary and competing tensions swinging between emphases on loving God in liturgical ritual and worship storge the active moral life philia personal spiritual experience eros and approaches of faith to suffering agape Synthesizing a panoramic view of Christian history with philosophy literature and biblical reflection Whiting shows how the love of God is diminished when the loves become fractured He advocates for an integrated holistic love of God that both avoids excesses and challenges the modern narrative of secular progress Divine Causality and Human Free Choice

Robert Joseph Matava, 2016-01-19 In Divine Causality and Human Free Choice R J Matava explains the idea of physical premotion defended by Domingo B ez whose position in the Controversy de Auxiliis has been typically ignored in contemporary discussions of providence and freewill Through a close engagement with untranslated primary texts Matava shows B ez s relevance to recent debates about middle knowledge Finding the mutual critiques of B ez and Molina convincing Matava argues that common presuppositions led both parties into an insoluble dilemma However Matava also challenges the informal consensus that Lonergan definitively resolved the controversy Developing a position independently advanced by several recent scholars Matava explains how the doctrine of creation entails a position that is more satisfactory both philosophically and as a reading of Aquinas America ,1921 The Anarchy of Black Religion J. Kameron

Carter,2023-07-03 In The Anarchy of Black Religion J Kameron Carter examines the deeper philosophical theological and religious history that animates our times to advance a new approach to understanding religion Drawing on the black radical tradition and black feminism Carter explores the modern invention of religion as central to settler colonial racial technologies wherein antiblackness is a founding and guiding religious principle of the modern world He therefore sets black religion apart from modern religion even as it tries to include and enclose it Carter calls this approach the black study of religion Black religion emerges not as doctrinal confessional or denominational but as a set of poetic and artistic strategies for improvisatory living and gathering Potentiating non exclusionary belonging black religion is anarchic mystical and experimental it reveals alternative relationalities and visions of matter that can counter capitalism s extractive individualistic and imperialist ideology By enacting a black study of religion Carter elucidates the violence of religion as the violence of modern life while also opening an alternate praxis of the sacred Immanence and the Vertigo of Philosophy Christian
