Noahs Children Restoring The Ecology Of Childhood:

Noah's Children Sara Stein, 2002-05-15 Sara Stein interweaves her own observations with those of linguists biologists anthropologists and psychologists to reveal the world through the eyes of a child illuminating the features that their nature leads them to expect but that contemporary life often disappoints a place they will come to know intimately through their own explorations a chance to develop real skills in their play and adults who pass along through explanation and myth a way to comprehend the relationship between nature and culture She shows how we can restore such pathways to adulthood in our own homes and backyards Last Child in the Woods Richard Louv, 2008-01-01 Louv talks with parents children teachers scientists religious leaders child development researchers and environmentalists to find ways for children to experience the natural world more deeply Moving on to Key Stage 1: Improving Transition into Primary School, 2e Julie Fisher, 2020-10-06 Moving On to Key Stage 1 has been highly influential in developing innovative developmentally appropriate KS1 practice in schools across the country This new edition offers teachers further powerful and persuasive arguments for continuing play based learning into Year 1 and 2 This new edition contains Brand new research identifying the current concerns of teachers in KS1 and setting these in the context of the current school readiness agenda An updated chapter on how children learn most naturally age 5 7 years and how to capitalise on this A revised chapter on play which draws on teacher views about its benefits for KS1 children and the barriers they face in incorporating it into their practice A new chapter offering messages from headteachers advocating a play based approach and providing examples of how it has raised standards A fresh consideration of how to balance adult led and child led learning and the role of the teacher in supporting both The author has a deep understanding of the challenges facing teachers in developing this fusion of pedagogies and this book offers every reader principled and inspiring ways of meeting these challenges with success Julie Fisher is an independent Early Years Adviser and Visiting Professor of Early Childhood Education at Oxford Brookes University UK She has been Headteacher of two schools a University lecturer and a Local Authority Lead Adviser for Early Years Zen of Gardening in the High and Arid West David Wann, 2003 Drawing from his own considerable gardening experience and expertise as well as leaning on the wisdom of the people he calls The Zen Masters of the Western Garden David Wann gathers a mix of stories how to advice and simple doable projects that are ideal for gardeners in the high and arid landscapes of the West This covers topics such as strategic gardening how to coax fruits and vegetables from a sun parched garden pest proof planting choosing the right varieties of edibles for the region how to become a seed starting maniac a Farmer s Almanac approach to gardening plant peas when the first cottonwood leaves appear as well as profiles of colorful local gardens and gardeners Engaging Young Children Noirin Hayes, Margaret Kernan, 2008-04-22 This book is about the theory and processes that inform daily practice with young children in early childhood education and care settings It offers a clear overview of the historical developments of early childhood education policy and theoretical thinking in

Ireland within an international context It reflects on the rapid worldwide changes in the lives of parents and young children and takes on the question of how to provide quality childcare and education for your children It emphasises the concepts of the child as an active agent in his or her own development it introduces the concept of a nurturing pedagogy and highlights the fact that bringing up children is a social endeavour This book analyses and critiques early childhood policy development and implementation in Ireland while complimenting developments such as Siolta The National Quality Framework and the National Framework for Early Learning It contextualises international research findings on young children s development and learning and the role of practitioners and the critical importance of the learning environment as applied to children s everyday experiences and setting practice in Ireland In summary this book focuses on the centrality of the child in the learning process as well as on the critical role of the adult in early childhood pedagogy Good Toys, Bad Toys Andrew McClary,2015-02-18

In early America most children had only a few toys and parents received advice from family and friends on the best ways to make and use toys By the early 1900s the Industrial Revolution was producing a new world of toys and giving more parents the wealth to buy them Mass media also sang the praises of these new factory made store bought toys but that began to change as early as the mid 1900s when the mass media was used to inform parents of the many dangers of children s toys Many encourage violence sexism racism and some are actually unsafe and unhealthy The development of children s toys from early America to the present time and the shifting opinions of them expressed by parents and the mass media throughout this time are the main subjects of this book The first section discusses the many problems with toys while the second puts these problems in historical perspective How have these problems changed and are still changing today Might today s toys be about to enter a time when they will be better than ever The third section argues that many media toy watchers are biased toward the negative giving toys more of a black eye than they deserve and considers the challenges that face today s parents as they try to choose the best toys for their children " Every Child in a Garden" Christine B.
