Climate Resilient Agriculture: Adaptation And Mitigation Strategies Manish Bhan,Vijay Singh Tomar,Kamal Kishore Agrawal,Sahib Singh Tomar,Sunil Dutta Upadhyaya,2018-09-26 Climate is a vital factor that influences land use crop quality its productivity as well as all the other of agricultural systems The significant impact of climate change is visible on human societies and natural ecosystems around the world This impact will be more severe on agriculture if global warming continues As per estimates of IPCC 2014 the agriculture forestry and other land use contributes 24% of global greenhouse gas emissions These emissions need to be reduced to avoid the serious impact of climate change using mitigation measures and adaptation strategies Currently unreliable and seasonal variations in weather have emerged as a serious challenge for sustainability influencing vegetation biodiversity livestock soil water and other natural resources In the last decade more occurrence of extreme weather events affected farming community directly in their agricultural growth The matter is of great concern to country like India which require more produce from rainfed fields and shrinking crop land To understand the problems occurring due to climate change concerted efforts are required for mitigation and adaptation to reduce the vulnerability of rainfed agriculture and making it resilient Agricultural output as well as the livelihood of people who depend on it are particularly vulnerable to climate change and it is important that we assess adaptation mechanisms to reduce these vulnerabilities These practices should play a vital role to reduce GHG emissions by improving efficiency of farm inputs and others like agroforestry interventions for green agricultural technologies Similarly adoption of conservation agriculture suitable cultivars changing sowing dates irrigation scheduling and recycling waste water and solid waste in agriculture are production has been considered as the key sector for revitalization of the economy and well being of the people in any country For decades due to increasing food demand together with policies encouraging production agricultural science has focused on boosting production through the development of new technologies Agriculture has become increasingly intensive Farmers are becoming capable of producing higher yields using less labor and less land due to many factors including use of fertilizer and pesticides introduction of farm machinery development of hybrid and genetically modified strains and increased knowledge about farm management practices Intensification of agriculture has not however been an unmixed blessing because this success has come at a high environmental cost The damaging effects of intensification of agriculture include water air and soil pollution as well as the loss of wildlife habitats and landscape features As agricultural sustainability means maintaining productivity while protecting the natural resource base there is increasing general recognition of the need to improve environmental performance in agriculture through enhancing the benefits and reducing the harmful environmental effects The book Crop Production and Global Environmental Issues is a very timely effort in this direction It discusses the main environmental issues and challenges which affects the crop production and productivity throughout the globe particularly in developing countries The book also provides some solutions to cope up with such challenges Agricultural Development and Sustainable Intensification Udaya Sekhar Nagothu,2018 This book reviews current SI approaches to the major food crops advances made in technology and the institutional and policy measures necessary to overcome the constraints faced by smallholder farmers The Transition in Agriculture Edwin A.
