Contreras,2017 Consistent accurate and understandable jury instructions are critical to the determination of damages in patent cases In January 2016 the Federal Circuit Bar Association FCBA amended its popular model jury instructions Among other things the 2016 amendments substantially reframed the instructions regarding the calculation of reasonable royalty damages in patent cases replacing the fifteen Georgia Pacific factors with a streamlined set of three factors emphasizing the value contribution of the patented technology to the overall product and comparable license agreements This Essay discusses the history and implications of the FCBA instruction change for reasonable royalty damages It assesses the adherence of the reformulated damages analysis to the Federal Circuit s rulings regarding damages calculations in Ericsson v D Link and other recent case law and compares the FCBA instruction with corresponding instructions developed by the American Intellectual Property Law Association AIPLA and the Northern District of California We also present new empirical data regarding the use and adoption of model jury instructions in cases in which reasonable royalty damages are adjudicated We find that a wide variety of instructions are used partially defeating the goals of consistency and efficiency that model instructions seek to achieve We conclude by recommending that the Federal Circuit endorse a single set of model jury instructions for patent cases and that it consider the new FCBA instructions for this purpose We also urge the FCBA and other organizations developing model jury instructions to continue to emphasize the traditional incremental value approach to patent valuation and to develop additional jury instructions addressing issues raised by standards essential patents
