and fungi but all plants that humanity has tried to forget from invasive plants and those we can't domesticate to those that have been regulated arbitrarily or simply feared as toxic or poison. He shows how the dark herbalist seeks out plants that are adversarial or taboo because the qualities we consider dark are really the plant's spiritual medicine and can offer powerful wisdom and healing. Examining poison history, lore, and occult toxicology, he explains how the aim of using these plants is not to cause physical death but rather death of the ego. He shows how poison in this sense is an alchemical force that allows the practitioner to become a vessel for the forbidden fruit of knowledge and how the transmutation of our personal poisons can lead to powerful self-transformation.
