Scarlet and Black, Volume Two Kendra Boyd, Marisa J. Fuentes, Deborah Gray White, 2020-02-21 The 250th anniversary of the founding of Rutgers University is a perfect moment for the Rutgers community to reconcile its past and acknowledge its role in the enslavement and debasement of African Americans and the disfranchisement and elimination of Native American people and culture Scarlet and Black Volume 2 continues to document the history of Rutgers's connection to slavery which was neither casual nor accidental nor unusual Like most early American colleges Rutgers depended on slaves to build its campuses and serve its students and faculty it depended on the sale of black people to fund its very existence This second of a planned three volumes continues the work of the Committee on Enslaved and Disenfranchised Population in Rutgers History This latest volume includes an introduction to the period studied from the end of the Civil War through WWII by Deborah Gray White a study of the first black students at Rutgers and New Brunswick Theological Seminary an analysis of African American life in the City of New Brunswick during the period and profiles of the earliest black women to matriculate at Douglass College To learn more about the work of the Committee on Enslaved and Disenfranchised Population in Rutgers History visit the project's website at <http://scarletandblack.rutgers.edu>

The Last Tour Ann Curthoys, 2025-07-16 Paul Robeson was once the most famous African American in the world Not only was he a renowned singer and actor with a stunning bass baritone voice revered throughout the world he was also a former professional athlete lawyer and civil rights activist To the delight of his many fans he and his wife Eslanda a notable civil rights activist author United Nations journalist and anthropologist were finally able to tour Australia and New Zealand First mooted in the 1930s it had been delayed by war and then the Cold War when Paul's outspoken support for the Soviet Union and against his country's race relations had led the US government to deny him a passport until 1958 Now in 1960 the tour occurred at a time when the world was at the tipping point between the Cold War 1950s and the turbulent 1960s The Robesons' tour encompassed concerts the first one ever at the Sydney Opera House which was still under construction talks to unionists fans women's organisations communists and peace activists It involved active engagement with Indigenous peoples and their struggles in both countries Through their engagement with a wide range of people we see life on the far Left the emergence of new forms of Aboriginal and Maori protest and the reception and influence of African American entertainers in Australia and New Zealand By bringing Eslanda's work as a writer and journalist to the fore historian Ann Curthoys sheds light on the intersections of race gender and women's political activism Based on extensive new documentary and oral history research The Last Tour explores why Paul and Eslanda Robeson's trip was such a success and how it exerted a profound influence both at the time and over future generations No man I've ever met has so impressed me with his personal greatness He's so simple and unaffected in his manner so dignified it's the man himself I think who demonstrates the greatness of the human spirit Katharine Susannah Prichard on Paul Robeson

Hannibal Lokumbe Lauren Coyle Rosen, Hannibal Lokumbe, 2024-11-05 For Hannibal Lokumbe music is a profound source of spiritual liberation A pathbreaking orchestral composer and visionary jazz musician he composes resonant works that give voice to the freedom struggle of the African diaspora the broader African American experience Indigenous histories and humanity Many of his works address historical traumas such as the Middle Passage the Vietnam War global environmental disharmony and
