Regional Economic Change in Europe Gert-Jan Hospers, 2004 In this era of ongoing globalization a coherent vision on Europe's changing geo economy is more important than ever before Drawing on the work of Schumpeter Fourastié and Perroux the book at hand offers a new and policy oriented perspective on regional economic change in Europe Conceptually it develops a middle range theory by extending Schumpeter's vision with a sectoral and spatial dimension This neo Schumpeterian framework is concretized by exploring fifty years of structural change in Sardinia the Ruhrgebiet and the resund The Effortless Economy of Science? Philip Mirowski, 2004 A compilation of essays by the author that reveals the value for science studies of examples arising within the history of economics Prediction or Prophecy? Gregor Betz, 2007-10-06 Knowing in order to predict It was this leitmotiv alone that Auguste Comte in the 19th century considered suitable for the then rapidly developing empirical sciences This view remains unchanged until today not only in the empirical sciences themselves but also in the philosophy of science A scientific theory is and should be evaluated primarily on the grounds of its capacity to correctly predict observable phenomena The aim of predicting takes precedence over the other important aim of science namely to produce and purposefully manipulate phenomena by technical means in the laboratory moreover it even includes the latter For if scientists successfully produce and manipulate certain phenomena in an experiment they can ipso facto predict how that experiment will evolve under certain conditions We live in a scientifically dominated world The more science progresses the more important correct scientific predictions become To a sometimes even fatal extent we have made ourselves dependent on science and its results Our scientific technological interventions into nature yet also into social processes cover ever larger spatial and temporal distances and the consequences are ever more drastic given the increasing effort that would be required to reverse the effects if that is possible at all That is the reason why we ought to be very well informed about the consequences of our actions in particular those based on science and technology

The Politics of Method in the Human Sciences George Steinmetz, 2005-05-16 Collection of new essays on the past present and future of positivism in the various social sciences An Economic Analysis of the University Jutta

Novel Pedagogy Liwen Zhang, 2024-10-01 Is the novel a category of knowledge that merits serious study Even if the novel has shed the stigma of being mindless entertainment one might easily assume that reading a novel is not studying unless one reads closely and carefully preferably from a scholarly edition or for a scholarly purpose Novel Pedagogy explores how Victorian writers envisioned the novel s potential to become knowledge long before the form s ascendance into the ivory tower Liwen Zhang argues that Victorian novelists constant critique of schooling on the one hand and their frequent invocation of deep knowledge on the other are not self contradictory Instead of offering a blissful escape from education writers such as William Thackeray Charles Kingsley Charles Dickens Elizabeth Gaskell George Eliot and George Gissing seek to offer uniquely novelistic pathways to knowledge Novel Pedagogy offers a new model of novelistic epistemology by showing how the novel unlike other educational genres reflects on the unpleasant realities of learning and of not learning amid the ubiquity of ineffective textbooks reluctant students and false motivations Complex Adaptive Systems John H.

Miller, Scott E. Page, 2009-11-28 This book provides the first clear comprehensive and accessible account of complex adaptive social systems by two of the field s leading authorities Such systems whether political parties stock markets or ant colonies present some of the most intriguing theoretical and practical challenges confronting the social sciences Engagingly written and balancing technical detail with intuitive explanations Complex Adaptive Systems focuses on the key tools and ideas that have emerged in the field since the mid 1990s as well as the techniques needed to investigate such systems It provides a detailed introduction to concepts such as emergence self organized criticality automata networks diversity adaptation and feedback It also demonstrates how complex adaptive systems can be explored using methods ranging from mathematics to computational models of adaptive agents John Miller and Scott Page show how to combine ideas from economics political science biology physics and computer science to illuminate topics in organization adaptation decentralization and robustness They also demonstrate how the usual extremes used in modeling can be fruitfully transcended The Human Society and

Seawright,2022-10-13 The most important step in social science research is the first step finding a topic Unfortunately little guidance on this crucial and difficult challenge is available Methodological studies and courses tend to focus on theory testing rather than theory generation This book aims to redress that imbalance The first part of the book offers an overview of the book s central concerns How do social scientists arrive at ideas for their work What are the different ways in which a study can contribute to knowledge in a field The second part of the book offers suggestions about how to think creatively including general strategies for finding a topic and heuristics for discovery The third part of the book shows how data exploration may assist in generating theories and hypotheses The fourth part of the book offers suggestions about how to fashion disparate ideas into a theory Idealization XIV: Models in Science Giacomo Borbone,Krzysztof

Brzechczyn,2016-05-23 Idealization XIV Models in Science offers a detailed ontological epistemological and historical account of the role of models in scientific practice The volume contains contributions of different international scholars who developed many aspects of the use of idealizations and models both in the natural and the social sciences This volume is particularly relevant because it offers original contributions concerning one of the main topic in philosophy of science the role of models in such branches of the sciences and the humanities like comparative historical sociology economics history linguistics and political philosophy Contributors are Giacomo Borbone Krzysztof Brzechczyn Mieszko Ciesielski Adam Czerniak Xavier de Donato Rodríguez José L Falguera Adolfo García de la Sienra Lidia Godek Igor Hanzel Łukasz Hardt Krzysztof Kiedrowski Barbara Konat Zenonas Norkus Piotr Przybysz Piotr Szwochert The True Value of CSR B.

Fryzel, 2014-12-22 By considering the importance of Corporate Social Responsibility CSR as a business paradigm but also as a growing scepticism about its outcomes The True Value of CSR answers questions about true value behind this concept motivations of firms embedding CSR in their core strategies and a capacity of CSR to make a real difference on the market

Economics Without Laws Łukasz Hardt, 2017-09-22 This book offers a vision of economics in which there is no place for universal laws of nature and even for laws of a more probabilistic character The author avoids interpreting the practice of economics as something that leads to the formulation of universal laws or laws of nature Instead chapters in the book follow the method of contemporary philosophy of science rather than formulating suggestions for practicing scientists of how they should do research the text describes and interprets the very practice of scientific research This approach demonstrates how economists can explain economic phenomena not by subsuming them under general laws but rather by building models of these phenomena by referring to causes or even by investigating what is in the nature of given factors events or circumstances to produce The Oxford Handbook of Law and Economics Francesco Parisi, 2017 The Oxford Handbook of Law and Economics applies the theoretical and empirical methods of economics to the study of law Volume 1 surveys methodology and concepts
