Maternal Connections: Kandee Kosior, Joan Garvan, 2022-09-15 This is a wonderful and insightful collection of stories and reflections of mothers on the connection with their own mother after becoming a mother themselves. The chapters are primarily autobiographical and are told through a range of lenses, be it a graphic chapter or the more literary. An author outlines Anishinaabeg ceremonial practices that honour and represent maternal connections, and others demonstrate how art and craft can both assist in working through and carry forward maternal stories. Two further pieces use a combination of literary critique, feminist theory, and post-Freudian psychoanalysis to interpret varied texts, and another highlights findings from a series of interviews with women reflecting on the attributes and practices they will carry forward or discard from their experience of being mothered.

Mothering Rhetorics Lynn O'Brien Hallstein, 2020-03-03 Once only a topic among women in the private sphere motherhood and mothering have become important intellectual topics across academic disciplines Even so no book has yet devoted a sustained look at how exploring mothering rhetorics the rhetorics of reproduction rhetorics about the reproductive function of women mothers and reproducing rhetorics the rhetorical reproduction of ideological systems and logics of contemporary culture expand our understanding of mothering motherhood communication and gender Mothering Rhetorics begins to fill this gap for scholars and teachers interested in the study of mothering rhetorics in their historical and contemporary permutations The contributions explore the racialized rhetorical contexts of maternity how fixing food is thought to fix families while also regulating maternal activities and identity how Black female breastfeeding activists resisted the exploitation of African American mothers in Detroit how women in pink collar occupations both adhere to and challenge maternity leave discourses by rhetorically positioning their leaves as time off and disability identifying verbal and nonverbal shaming practices related to unwed motherhood during the mid twentieth century and redefining alternative postpartum placenta practices This book was originally published as a special issue of Women's Studies in Communication
