Motor Trade Theory 2013 November:

The Political Economy of Automotive Industrialization in East Asia Richard F. Doner, Gregory W. Noble, John Ravenhill, 2021 East Asia is a powerhouse of automobile production Yet across the region national automobile industries have had strikingly different patterns of development Despite starting from equally low levels of performance and initially similar strategies countries have experienced vastly different results From Thailand's success as an assembly hub for foreign automakers and China's unexpected achievements in building its own car industry to South Korea's impressive development of an integrated industry to the Philippines persistent weakness these divergent paths offer a fascinating window into the determinants of economic growth The Political Economy of Automotive Industrialization in East Asia provides a political explanation for why development strategies and performance have been so uneven within one of the world's most important regions Utilizing interviews and original language research from multiple nations this book explains that factors such as market size and neoclassical economic policies alone cannot explain these patterns of development Richard F Doner Gregory W Noble and John Ravenhill instead highlight the significance of two sets of factors countries very different capabilities for implementing policies and the political forces that help to explain the emergence of effective institutions Through cross national analyses of China Taiwan South Korea Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines and Thailand the book sets up a clear structure for understanding industrial development and how it enables or constrains the capabilities of domestic firms Brief comparisons with Brazil Mexico and other developing countries confirm the utility of the analytic framework and demonstrate how it is superior both to accounts in mainstream economics and much of political science which fail to give sufficient emphasis to the role of public and public private institutions or provide an explanation of the political bases of those institutions In a world where auto assemblers and suppliers are facing new challenges in an ever evolving industry such as the transition to electric and autonomous vehicles this book offers a crucial perspective on the centrality of institutional capacities and political economy By tracing the divergent trajectories of seven nations The Political Economy of Automotive Industrialization in East Asia offers lessons beyond the automobile industry that illustrate the broader importance of institutions to economic growth

Competitiveness and Death Gary Winslett, 2021-03-09 Competitiveness and Death examines the increase and reduction of regulatory barriers to trade across three industries environmental labor and safety rules on automobiles consumer protection regulations on meat and intellectual property regulations on medicines The fundamental negotiation in trade and regulatory policymaking occurs between businesses activists and government officials Gary Winslett builds on new trade theories to explain when and why businesses are most likely to lobby governments to reduce these regulatory trade barriers He argues that businesses prevail when they can connect with broader concerns about national economic competitiveness He examines how activist organizations overcome collective action problems and defend regulatory differences arguing that they succeed when they can link their desire for barriers with preventing needless death Competitiveness and Death provides a political companion to new trade theories in economics questioning cleavage based explanations of trade politics demonstrating the underappreciated importance of activists suggesting the limits of globalization providing in depth examination of previously ignored trade negotiations qualifying the California Effect the shift toward stricter regulatory standards and showing the relative rarity of regulations used as disguised protectionism suggested porn sites and un moderated discussions about why black women are so sassy or why black women are so angry presents a disturbing portrait of black womanhood in modern society In Algorithms of Oppression Safiya Umoja Noble challenges the idea that search engines like Google offer an equal playing field for all forms of ideas identities and activities Data discrimination is a real social problem Noble argues that the combination of private interests in promoting certain sites along with the monopoly status of a relatively small number of Internet search engines leads to a biased set of search algorithms that privilege whiteness and discriminate against people of color specifically women of color Through an analysis of textual and media searches as well as extensive research on paid online advertising Noble exposes a culture of racism and sexism in the way discoverability is created online As search engines and their related companies grow in importance operating as a source for email a major vehicle for primary and secondary school learning and beyond understanding and reversing these disquieting trends and discriminatory practices is of utmost importance An original surprising and at times disturbing account of bias on the internet Algorithms of Oppression contributes to our understanding of how racism is created maintained and disseminated in the 21st century
