mediators new possibilities for the transformative power of nonviolence      Methodologies in Peace Psychology Diane Bretherton, Siew Fang Law, 2015-09-03 This volume looks at research methods through the lens of peace studies and peace values Apart from reviewing established methods from peace psychology it presents some innovative ideas for conducting research in the area of peace psychology Many of these methods are drawn from the field from activities used by active peace practitioners A critical component of this volume is its core argument that peace research should be conducted by peaceful means and should model peaceful processes Organized thematically the volume begins with a review of the established best practices in peace psychology research methodology including methods for qualitative research for quantitative research and participative action networks In doing so it also points to some of the limitations of working for peace within the tradition of a single discipline and to the need to expand psychology methodology to methodologies Therefore the second half of the volume proceeds to explore the realm of innovative relatively unorthodox research methods such as participatory and workshop methods the creative arts and sports for research purposes The use of new advances in information technology to conduct peaceful research are also discussed The concluding chapters synthesize key issues from the previous chapters and links peace psychology with ideas and implementation of research designs and practices Finally it discusses the nature of academic knowledge and more specifically academic knowledge in peace psychology and where that fits into the mission to build a more peaceful world Overall this book aims to provide peace psychologists with an array of possibilities and best practices for approaching their research Many researchers find the experience of doing research a somewhat lonely if not isolating experience Methodologies in Peace Psychology Peace Research by Peaceful Means aims to alleviate this feeling as the use of these more innovative methods leads to a closer engagement with the community and a much more social experience of research This volume is a useful tool for both new and experienced researchers because it provides leads for idealistic young researchers who want their work to make a difference in addition to encouraging more reflection and analysis for experienced peace psychologists      ,      Psychology Serving Humanity: Proceedings of the 30th International Congress of Psychology Saths Cooper, Kopano Ratele, 2014-06-27 This is the second of two volumes collecting the key proceedings of the 30th International Congress of Psychology the first to be held in Africa in the 123 years of its history The theme of the conference was Psychology Serving Humanity a recognition of psychology's unfulfilled mission in the majority world and a reflection of what that world requires from psychology Mainstream Psychology finds its largest number of exponents and leading personalities in the high income countries of the global West The Other Psychologies referred to by different names are scattered across the rest of the world Some of the names of these other forms of Psychology include indigenous Psychology The main driver of indigenous and other forms of non mainstream Psychology is the endeavour to embed the discipline in the dynamics of local societies Psychology has entered an interesting era however While the dominant philosophy underpinning the discipline remains Western Psychology in the majority world in 2000s may have reached a tipping point It took over a hundred years but the 2004 and 2012 International Congresses of Psychology held in China and South Africa heralded a newfound possibility for the discipline There is an opening of the field to potentially new thought and forms of the practice of Psychology These proceedings are published in the hope that all psychologists especially those located in well resourced institutions in the West confront the divided reality that characterizes Psychology so as to creatively consider the opportunity opened up by the growing field at the peripheries Care was taken when assembling both conference and proceedings to ensure that the entire international psychological community was represented Volume One contains contributions to Majority World Psychology Volume Two contains contributions to Western Psychology

The major highlight of the book is the collection of work of Indian scholars recorded in the form of research articles, book chapters, and books, some of which were even used to develop models by Western scholars but never received their due credit. The research activities conducted at universities and institutions have been the backbone of scientific progress, and they are also highlighted here, especially the contributions of the Research Designs and Standards Organisation (RDSO), Lucknow; Defence Institute of Psychological Research (DIPR), Delhi; and Institute of Banking Personnel Selection (IBPS), Mumbai. The Cultural Dimensions of Peacebuilding Marty Branagan, 2024-10-08 This broad-ranging book examines the creation through the arts and culture of societies that enjoy sustainable positive peace. It begins with a critique of the pervasive nature of militarism and violence embedded deep in the cultural fabric of many societies, influencing the language and discourses we use, the films we watch, our museums and histories, our journalism, and our education systems. It also examines the roots of violence in our parenting styles, gender roles, and spiritual practices. It contrasts this with an examination of a number of peaceful societies that already exist, drawing useful lessons from their cultures. It critiques discrepancies in history education with regard to war and peace, and examines artistic and cultural processes, institutions, and artifacts designed to create peace, such as peace museums and parks, peace journalism, peace education, and resistance to violence through cultural means such as film making, fine arts, satirical theatre, and protest music.
