Lighting Technologies in Denmark Mikkel Bille, 2020-05-26 Using case studies such as the use of candlelight and energy-saving lightbulbs in Denmark, this book unravels light's place at the heart of social life. In contrast to common perception of light as a technical and aesthetic phenomenon, Mikkel Bille argues that there is a cultural and social logic to lighting practices. By empirically investigating the social role of lighting in people's everyday lives, Mikkel Bille reveals how and why people visually shape their homes. Moving beyond the impact of its use, Bille also comments on the politics of lighting to examine how ideas of pollution and home act as barriers for technological fixes to curb energy demand. Attitudes to these issues are reflective of how human perceptions and practices are central to the efforts to cope with climate change. This ethnographic study is a must-read for students of anthropology, cultural studies, human geography, sociology, and design.

Living and Working With Snow, Ice and Seasons in the Modern Arctic Hannah Strauss-Mazzullo, Monica Tennberg, 2023-08-31 This book describes everyday practices of life in changing Arctic winter conditions. The authors explore the contemporary and situated outdoor practices in different work settings in Finnish Lapland and investigate how, for example, tourism, reindeer herding, cattle breeding, and urban snow management adapt to the physically limiting or enabling features of cold temperatures, snow, and ice. The book also highlights individual and societal adjustments to such harsh conditions and their seasonal changes in mobility, including winter cycling, use of snow mobiles, and walking with studded shoes. The impact of a warming climate is a great concern for those utilising the enabling qualities of winter weather. The need then for continuous adaptation in everyday practices of work and mobility will increase in the future. The Routledge Handbook of Place Tim Edensor, Ares Kalandides, Uma Kothari, 2020-05-26 The handbook presents a compendium of the diverse and growing approaches to place from leading authors as well as less widely known scholars, providing a comprehensive yet cutting-edge overview of theories, concepts, and creative engagements with place that resonate with contemporary concerns and debates. The volume moves away from purely western-based conceptions and discussions about place to include perspectives from across the world.
