Black Lives Have Always Mattered, A Collection of Essays, Poems, and Personal Narratives Abiodun Oyewole, 2017-07-08 BLACK LIVES HAVE ALWAYS MATTERED: A COLLECTION OF ESSAYS, POEMS, AND PERSONAL NARRATIVES edited by Abiodun Oyewole extends beyond the Black Lives Matter movement's primary agenda of police brutality to acknowledge that even when affronted with slavery, segregation, and Jim Crow racial injustice and inequality, black lives have always mattered. While written primarily by African American poets, writers, activists, and scholars, selections are also from people of the Latino and African diasporas and white activists. Collectively, these 79 contributors provide a call to action that challenges readers to confront long-held values and beliefs about black lives as well as white privilege and fragility as it surveys the historical and contemporary ravages of racism and its persistence of structural inequality. More importantly, BLACK LIVES HAVE ALWAYS MATTERED provides a first-hand perspective to a problem known to the African American community long before the Black Lives Matter movement revealed it to the general public: that black lives have always mattered. Connecting the past to the present, the contributors of BLACK LIVES HAVE ALWAYS MATTERED provide an eye-opening and engaging collection that has the potential to reignite a broader push for black liberation and equality for all.

Recognizing Race and Ethnicity Kathleen J. Fitzgerald, 2020-06-03 This best-selling textbook explains the current state of research in the sociology of race and ethnicity, emphasizing white privilege, the social construction of race, and the newest theoretical perspectives for understanding race and ethnicity. It is designed to engage students with an emphasis on topics that are meaningful to their lives, including sports, popular culture, interracial relationships, and biracial/multiracial identities and families. The new third edition comes at a pivotal time in the politics of race and identity. Fitzgerald includes vital new discussions on white ethnicities and the politics of Trump and populism. Prominent attention is given to immigration and the discourse surrounding it, police and minority populations, and the criminal justice system. Using the latest available data, the author examines the present and future of generational change. New case studies include athletes and racial justice activism, removal of Confederate monuments, updates on Black Lives Matter and Native American activism at Standing Rock, and against the Bayou Bridge pipeline.

Gone Dollywood Graham Hoppe, 2018-03-15 Dolly Parton isn't just a country music superstar. She has built an empire. At the heart of that empire is Dollywood, a 150-acre fantasy land that hosts three million people a year. Parton's prodigious talent and incredible celebrity have allowed her to turn her hometown into one of the most popular tourist destinations in America. The crux of Dollywood's allure is its precisely calibrated Appalachian image itself drawn from Parton's very real, hard-scrabble childhood in the mountains of east Tennessee. What does Dollywood have to offer besides entertainment? What do we find if we take this remarkable place seriously? How does it both confirm and subvert outsiders' expectations of Appalachia? What does it tell us about the modern South and in turn what does that tell us about America at large? How is regional identity molded in service of commerce and what is the interplay of race, gender, and class when that happens? In Gone Dollywood, Graham Hoppe blends tourism studies, celebrity studies, cultural analysis, folklore, and the acute observations and personal reflections of longform journalism into an unforgettable interrogation of Southern and American identity.

Crimesploitation Daniel LaChance, Paul Kaplan, 2022-05-31 Due to the graphic nature of this program, viewer discretion is advised. Most of us have encountered this warning while watching television at some point. It is typically attached to a brand of reality crime TV that Paul Kaplan and Daniel LaChance call crimesploitation: spectacles designed to entertain mass audiences by exhibiting real criminal behavior and its consequences. This book examines their enduring popularity in American culture. Analyzing the structure and content of several popular crimesploitation shows including Cops, Dog the Bounty Hunter, and To Catch a Predator as well as newer examples like Making a Murderer and Don't F--- with Cats, Kaplan and LaChance highlight the troubling nature of the genre though it presents itself as ethical and righteous; its entertainment value hinges upon suffering. Viewers can imagine themselves as deviant and ungovernable like the criminals in the show, thereby escaping a law-abiding lifestyle. Alternatively, they can identify with law enforcement officials exercising violence, control, and justice on criminal others. Crimesploitation offers a sobering look at the depictions of criminals, policing, and punishment in modern America.

Africans in Exile Nathan Riley Carpenter, Benjamin N. Lawrance, 2018-09-10 This rich volume will interest scholars and students of Africa, the African diaspora, world history, legal history, and international affairs. Lorelle Semley, author of To Be Free and French: Citizenship in France's Atlantic Empire, The enforced removal of individuals has long been a political tool used by African states to create generations of asylum seekers, refugees, and fugitives. Historians often present such political exile as a potentially transformative experience for resilient individuals, but this reading singles the exile out as having an exceptional experience. This collection seeks to broaden that understanding within the global political landscape by considering the complexity of the experience of exile and the lasting effects it has had on African peoples. The works collected in this volume seek to recover the diversity of exile experiences across the continent. This corpus of testimonials and documents is presented as an archive that provides evidence of a larger shared experience of persecution and violence. This consideration reads exiles from African colonies and nations as active participants within rather than simply as victims of the larger global diaspora In this way exile is understood as a way of asserting political dissidence and anti imperial strategies Broken into three distinct parts the volume considers legal issues geography as a strategy of anticolonial resistance and memory and performative understandings of exile The experiences of political exile are presented as fundamental to an understanding of colonial and postcolonial oppression and the history of state power in Africa

Kevin Macdonald's Metaphysical Failure: a Philosophical, Historical, and Moral Critique of Evolutionary Psychology, Sociobiology, and Identity Politics Jonas E. Alexis, 2022-04-25 In Kevin MacDonald's Metaphysical Failure Jonas E Alexis offers a thoroughly researched nuanced and lucid analysis of Kevin MacDonald's thought in particular MacDonald's belief in biological and philosophical Darwinism It is an important book that fills a critical gap in the literature on the history of revolutionary movements and Darwinism both in the West and in Asia It is also a study that adds many significant strands to the densely interwoven history of ideas such as Malthusianism and Eugenics Alexis's book engages debates in the history of ideas going back to Madison Grant and beyond and the history of Darwinism It challenges many of the life long prevailing assumptions about identity politics and produces a powerful critique of how scientific theories have been misused to uphold misguided and faulty categorizations Powerfully reasoned and backed with a startling array of documented studies Kevin MacDonald's Metaphysical Failure presents an in depth look at key beliefs behind many mistaken and consequently destructive actions taken by numerous writers and thinkers particularly Darwin's ardent enthusiasts and devoted disciples The book presents eye opening insights into the historical development of Darwin's ideological project and how that project ended up crippling Darwin's intellectual children from Richard Dawkins Francis Crick James Watson Daniel Dennett Ernst Mayr and E O Wilson to Kevin MacDonald Richard Spencer David Duke and Jared Taylor

The clamour of nationalism Sivamohan Valluvan, 2019-07-26 Nationalism has reasserted itself today as the political force of our times remaking European politics wherever one looks Britain is no exception and in the midst of Brexit it has even become a vanguard of nationalism's confident return to the mainstream Intellectual attempts to account for nationalism's resurgence have however floundered Desperately trying to read nationalism through one overarching cause as capitalist crisis as cultural backlash or as social media led anti Establishment politics these accounts have proven woefully inadequate This book argues that the only way to understand nationalism is through nationalism itself To understand it as the key force of modernity that calls upon all existing ideological traditions in asserting its appeal whether it is liberal conservative neoliberal or left wing This ideological clamour that characterises today's British nationalism requires both recognition and theorisation A meaningful understanding of new nationalism must reckon with the ideological range animating it and the deeply hostile aversion to different racial minorities that pervades its respective ideologies Drawing on a variety of cultural and political themes ranging from Corbyn's dithering the cult of Churchillism the neoliberal fixation with a point system immigration policy the muscular secularism of Richard Dawkins and friends fears that the white working class have become black and even simply the strange appeal of Harry Potter and Game of Thrones this book provides a dazzling but always detailed study of how nationalism is the politics of today only because it is a politics of everything Race, Ethnicity and Social Theory

John Solomos, 2022-07-01 Race Ethnicity and Social Theory provides a critical analysis of the main areas of scholarly research and debate about racial and ethnic relations over the past few decades The book covers substantive areas of scholarly debate in this fast changing field including race and social relations identities and the construction of the racial other feminism and race the relationship between race and nationalism antisemitism the evolution of new forms of racism race and political representation and more generally the changing debates about race and ethnicity in our global environment The book argues that there is a need for more dialogue across national and conceptual boundaries about how to develop the theoretical tools needed to understand both the historical roots of contemporary forms of racialised social and political relations and the contemporary forms through which race is made and re made A key argument that runs through the book is the need to develop conceptual frameworks that can help us to make sense of the changing forms of racial and ethnic relations in contemporary societies This means developing more dialogue across national research cultures as well as empirical research that seeks to engage with the key issues raised by contemporary theoretical debates The book will be of interest to both students wanting to develop a deeper understanding of this area of scholarship and to researchers of race ethnicity and migration working in various national and disciplinary environments
