O-bon in Chimunesu Catherine Lang, 2002-07-01 O Bon in Chimunesu A Community Remembered is a moving tribute to a community of Japanese Canadians and the way they lived their lives Prior to the Second World War when Canada's official policy of internment changed the lives of Japanese Canadians forever the Vancouver Island town of Chemainus Chimunesu was home to a thriving Japanese Canadian community whose members struggled to adapt to the difficulties of life in a new country while at the same time keeping their own traditions alive During the war Japanese Canadians on the west coast were shunted off to internment camps in the British Columbia interior and were not permitted to return until 1949 Most decided to take up new roots elsewhere and what had been a significant community in Chemainus was relegated to memory Catherine Lang was a freelance reporter working on a story when she attended a 1991 reunion of Chemainus former Japanese Canadian community The reunion occurred during O bon the annual Buddhist festival for the dead in which burning candles light the way for the souls of ancestors Lang couldn't resist such a meaningful encounter with living history O Bon in Chimunesu consists of poignant personal narratives of former residents of Chemainus Japanese Canadian community They include the stories of Shige Yoshida who after being refused entry into the Boy Scouts formed his own troop made up entirely of Japanese boys Matsue Taniwa who moved to Chemainus after an arranged marriage to raise children and tend a store and Kaname Izumi who remembers as a boy throwing candy from his boat to the children at the Native residential school on Kuper Island Winner of the Hubert Evans Non Fiction Prize Banana Bending Tseen-ling Khoo, 2003-06-01 This is the first book ever to present a comparative reading of East Asian Australian and East Asian Canadian novels while addressing the literary and political cultures of Australia and Canada Generally the book examines the limits and possibilities for these diasporic literatures in multicultural societies and their placement in relation to national literatures Issues discussed in the book include citizenship belonging community images of suburbia tensions in gender sexuality and recycling traditional folklore for contemporary situations The book offers new perspectives on Australian and Canadian life and society addressing contemporary anxieties about citizenship cohesion in multicultural communities ideas of homeland and the cultural potential of the melting pot The author offers extensive background information so that those unfamiliar with either Australian or Canadian material can quickly acquaint themselves with the necessary contexts as well as delving further into their details Its comparative approach offers a unique way to deal with issues of diasporic asian ness a dynamic area of study and national stereotypes The book also provides a useful counter point to recent discussions of Asian American literature Tseen Khoo offers a fascinating and insightful study of the politics and poetics of literary production by Asian Australian and Asian Canadian writers and image makers The comparative methodology including the contrasts made to the Asian American context usefully resituates debates about nationalism cultural policies and diasporic histories away from narrow nationalist frameworks to afford a more global perspective Jacqueline Lo School of Humanities Australian National University This is an original and timely contribution to debates in diasporic Asian literatures The author knows her Australian material extremely well and situates these within important and very relevant discussions concerning both cultural and political issues The comparisons with Canada and to some degree Asian American material are also very well informed Overall the book is a pleasure to read Professor Sneja Gunew Professor of English and Women s Studies University of British Columbia One Hundred Years' History of the Chinese in Singapore Ong Siang Song, 1923 Remembering Kakaako, 1910-1950 University of Hawaii at Manoa. loss and devastation This point is noteworthy given current debates on recovery surrounding the Khmer Rouge Tribunal Forest of Struggle offers a compelling case study that is relevant to anyone interested in post conflict recovery social memory the anthropology of morality and violence and Cambodia studies The Chinese Times ,1889 Story Revolutions Helga Lenart-Cheng,2022-11-29 Social media has facilitated the sharing of once isolated testimonies to an extent and with an ease never before possible The MeToo movement provides a prime example of how such pooling of individual stories in large enough numbers can fuel political movements fortify a sense of solidarity and community and compel public reckoning by bringing important issues into mainstream consciousness In this timely and important study Helga Lenart Cheng has uncovered the antecedents of this phenomenon and provided a historical and critical analysis of this seemingly new but in fact deeply rooted tradition Story Revolutions features a rich variety of case studies from eighteenth century memoir collections to contemporary Web 2 0 databases including memoir contests digital story maps crowd sourced Covid diaries and AI assisted life writing It spans the Enlightenment the 1930s and the twenty first century three historical periods marked by a convergence of mass movements and new methods of data collection that led to a boom in activism based in the aggregation and communication of stories Ultimately this book offers readers a critical perspective on the concept of community itself with incisive reflections on what it means to use storytelling to build democracy in the twenty first century
