Heat is the transfer of energy from one object to another. Temperature is a measure of the average kinetic energy of the particles in a system.
4. Discuss the difference between potential and kinetic energy.
Potential energy is the energy stored in a system. Kinetic energy is the energy of motion. Potential energy can be converted into kinetic energy and vice versa.
5. Discuss the first law of thermodynamics.
The first law of thermodynamics states that energy cannot be created or destroyed, only transferred. This means that the total energy of a system is constant. The first law is also known as the law of conservation of energy.
6. Discuss the second law of thermodynamics.
The second law of thermodynamics states that the entropy of a system always increases. Entropy is a measure of the disorder of a system. The second law is also known as the law of increasing entropy.
7. Discuss the third law of thermodynamics.
The third law of thermodynamics states that the entropy of a system approaches zero as the temperature approaches absolute zero. Absolute zero is the lowest possible temperature.
8. Discuss the relationship between energy and matter.
Energy and matter are related by the equation  $E=mc^2$ , where  $E$  is energy,  $m$  is mass, and  $c$  is the speed of light. This equation shows that energy and matter are interchangeable.
9. Discuss the relationship between energy and life.
