More On Mediterranean Diets Volume 97 More On Mediterranean Diets Volume 97:

More on Mediterranean Diets Artemis P. Simopoulos, Francesco Visioli, 2007 This book is an update of the previous volume on Mediterranean diets published in 2000 which provided extensive reviews of the various diets existing in the Mediterranean region Since then a number of studies have been published on the relationship between a Mediterranean type diet and chronic diseases However because the diet score used in those studies does not provide any information on the nutritional composition or quality of the diet this publication takes an entirely different approach Particular attention is given to the nutritional factors and their mechanisms in cardiovascular disease cancer metabolic syndrome and obesity and the results of decreasing the omega 6 omega 3 ratio and its anti inflammatory effects on several biomarkers are evaluated Moreover the effects of olive oil relative to its antioxidant properties and the anti inflammatory and anticarcinogenic aspects of melatonin from plants and fruits common in the Mediterranean region are discussed BOOK JACKET World Review of

Nutrition and Dietetics Geoffrey Howard Bourne, Artemis P. Simopoulos, 2007 International Financial Crises and Agriculture, 2000 More than Medicine Robert M. Kaplan, 2019-02-04 American science produces the best medical treatments in the world Yet U S citizens lag behind in life expectancy and quality of life Robert Kaplan marshals extensive data to make the case that U S health care priorities are sorely misplaced invested in attacking disease not in solving social problems that engender disease in the first place Sustainable Production Technology in Food Jose M. Lorenzo, Paulo E.S. Munekata, Francisco J. Barba, 2021-08-06 Sustainability is an essential part of our modern food production system Carrying out food research that considers environmental social and economic factors is a major objective for food producers and researchers Strategic development and use of technology can greatly assist in the progression toward a more sustainable food system Sustainable Production Technology in Food explores important scientific and practical aspects related to sustainable technologies used in all aspects of the food system This book is organized into 13 chapters that cover the main concepts related to sustainability and technology Coverage includes current technology in the industry technological developments to improve sustainability of food production biopreservation pulsed electric fields high pressure processing ultrasound cold plasma and nanotechnology regulatory aspects and future perspectives Presents a comprehensive discussion around the technological advances of sustainable food production Addresses the current relationship between food production and sustainability Focuses on how technology can impact the sustainability of the food production system
