Measurement, Design, and Analysis Elazar J. Pedhazur,Liora Pedhazur Schmelkin,2013-04-15 In textbooks and courses in statistics substantive and measurement issues are rarely if at all considered Similarly textbooks and courses in measurement virtually ignore design and analytic questions and research design textbooks and courses pay little attention to analytic and measurement issues This fragmentary approach fosters a lack of appreciation of the interrelations and interdependencies among the various aspects of the research endeavor Pedhazur and Schmelkin s goal is to help readers become proficient in these aspects of research and their interrelationships and to use that information in a more integrated manner The authors offer extensive commentaries on inputs and outputs of computer programs in the context of the topics presented Both the organization of the book and the style of presentation allow for much flexibility in choice sequence and degree of sophistication with which topics are dealt Measuring African Development Morten Jerven,2016-04-14 The chief economist for the World Bank s Africa region Shanta Devarajan delivered a devastating assessment of the capacity of African states to measure development in his 2013 article Africa s Statistical Tragedy Is there a statistical tragedy unfolding in Africa now If so then examining the roots of the problem of provision of statistics in poor economies is certainly of great importance This book on measuring African development in the past and in the present draws on the historical experience of colonial French West Africa Ghana Sudan Mauritania and Tanzania and the more contemporary experiences of Ethiopia and the Democratic Republic of Congo The authors each reflect on the changing ways statistics represent African economies and how they are used to govern them This bookw as published as a special issue of the Canadian Journal of Development Studies
