On Craftsmanship On Craftsmanship:

On Craftsmanship Christopher Frayling, 2012-06-18 Craftsmanship has again become fashionable in high places just as it did in the last few recessions The concept of craftsmanship has never been as relevant and timely as it is today Assailed on all sides by among many other tendencies flexible working short termism portfolio careers quick fix training and the cult of celebrity it has recently re entered public debate with a new sense of urgency Why A bestseller in hardback this series of linked essays by the man who ran the Royal College of Art for many years is now available in paperback and explores the crafts in education in history and literature in the contemporary arts landscape in the language in the digital age taking an unsentimental hard headed look at craftsmanship today Only when the romantic cobwebs have been blown away it argues can the key importance of the crafts be fully understood Reprising Craftsmanship Pablo Rojas, 2021-08-31 Craftsmanship provides an insight into an inherently human dimension of work resulting from our immersion in an occupation or profession The present book illustrates and defines the vital social aesthetic and ethical dimensions involved in craftsmanship which rejects a dissociation between handwork and wit or between action and thought This also contrasts with the neglect contemporary psychology has shown toward craftsmanship and its reduction to mere human factors Drawing on artistry as an emblem the present account conveys that skilful action can only be renewed in a cycle involving both the personal and the transgenerational There is little doubt in psychological and anthropological literature that the current global crises cannot be separated from social predicaments namely from the commodification of craftsmanship In this book the development of skilful action attests to a fundamental involvement required to sustainably perpetuate human endeavours The role of expressivity in reappropriating technical activity is key in showing the continuous revaluation of our ethics and aesthetics of work practice and creation The overall arc of the volume shows a movement from responsivity to responsibility In short if we are to reformulate our relationship to work and craft we need to see through our responsibility in technique The particularities of craftsmanship described here aim to contribute to such reformulation Craftsmanship in Teaching William Chandler Bagley, 1911 The Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild John L. Jacobus, 2015-05-07 The Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild was a national auto design competition sponsored by the Fisher Body Division of General Motors This competition was for teenagers to compete for college scholarships by designing and building scale model dream cars Held from the 1930s through the 1960s it helped identify and nurture a whole generation of designers and design executives Virgil M Exner Jr Charles M Jordan Robert W Henderson Robert A Cadaret Richard Arbib Elia Russ Russinoff Galen Wickersham Ronald C Hill Edward F Taylor George R Chartier Charles W Pelly Gary Graham Charles A Gibilterra E Arthur Russell William A Moore Terry R Henline Paul Tatseos Allen T Weideman Kenneth J Dowd Stuart Shuster John M Mellberg Harry E Schoepf and Ronald J Will are among those designers and design executives who participated in the Guild The book also describes many aspects of the miniature model Napoleonic Coach and other scale model cars the students designed The

Cook, 2024-03-27 This powerful collection shows that public value has come of age Its reach has extended far beyond the Anglosphere from which it has emerged And it provides a prism for strategic thinking about how governments are to deal with the grittiness of the contexts and challenge they currently face This must read volume sits at the cutting edge of these important developments Paul t Hart Professor of Public Administration Utrecht University The Netherlands

Challenges to Public Value Creation is a wonderful addition to the growing literature on public value creation John M Bryson McKnight Presidential Professor Emeritus University of Minnesota USA The purpose of government is to create public value While this has become an increasingly accepted refrain in public policy administration and management numerous questions remain about where when why how and by whom public value is created With everything from philosophical and conceptual arguments to empirical analyses and cases the contributors to this noteworthy volume offer new ideas reveal important insights suggest exciting directions for research and practice and ultimately give more substance and shape to the idea of public value creation Tina Nabatchi Director Program for the Advancement of Research on Conflict Collaboration Syracuse University USA This volume examines fundamental questions about the public value of public decisions More specifically it seeks to assess whether all public decisions create public value if it is possible to know what value for the public as a whole a government decision will create and how government officials can justify their decisions in terms of public value Leading experts bring a diverse array of perspectives on the normative epistemological and processual challenges to identifying describing measuring and evaluating the public value claims that public officials often articulate in defending their decisions and the results that citizens often seek The book will appeal to scholars and students of public policy and public administration Brian J Cook is Emeritus Professor of Public Administration and Policy at Virginia Tech USA

Gustav Stickley's Craftsman Farms Mark Alan Hewitt, 2001-03-01 From 1911 to 1917 Craftsman Farms now a major museum was the home of Gustav Stickley one of the central figures in the American Arts and Crafts Movement This book unravels the rich and sometimes contradictory ideas that informed not only Stickley but many of the artists and literary figures of the progressive era in America The year 1900 was the fulcrum in a long arc of utopian ideals dating back to Thomas Carlyle John Ruskin and William Morris in England a movement which would eventually lead up to the art communes of the Guild of Handicraft Woodstock and the MacDowell colony Craftsman Farms was at the center of a large group of American experiments in living the artistic life With this book Mark Alan Hewitt provides a foil for a critical examination of the theories that guided many architects artists and craft artisans at the turn of the last century Illustrated with specially commissioned photographs as well as many archival photographs from the Winterthur Museum and Library this book provides both a visual and historical record of Stickley's life and work during his most fertile creative period
