Educational Metamorphoses Jane Roland Martin,2007 A preeminent philosopher of education in the United States Jane Roland Martin challenges conventional wisdom that education consists of small incremental changes within a student s life Using case studies of personal transformations or metamorphoses Martin examines Malcolm X George Bernard Shaw s Eliza Doolittle Victor the Wild Boy of Aveyron Minik the Inuit Child and several others to demonstrate how substantial personal change can be and how vital education is as a fundamental determinant of the human condition Martin s study results in three important claims that each of us undergoes personal metamorphoses as a result of education that these changes can result in a radically altered identity and can therefore be either good or bad and that each change constitutes a culture crossing which can be accompanied by feelings of guilt accusations of betrayal alienation and a sense of loss

Mixed Magic Anna Katrina Gutierrez,2017-07-26 Mixed Magic Global local dialogues in fairy tales for young readers considers retellings and adaptations from a glocal context a framework focused on the reciprocal and cross cultural exchange between global processes and local practices and their potential transformative effects The study examines an eclectic range of retellings from the East and West from the 19th century until the present among them orientalized picturebook versions of Beauty and the Beast and Bluebeard Disney's animated classics Asian versions of Hans Christian Andersen's The Little Mermaid Gene Luen Yang's graphic novel American Born Chinese and the fantasy films of Hayao Miyazaki Drawing on theories of globalization cognitive narratology subjectivity and eastern thought the book reveals new implications for intertextual analysis This beautifully illustrated volume is the first sustained study of the effects of global local and East West interchanges on representations of self and Others in children's literature and folklore studies Ovid's Metamorphoses and the Environmental Imagination Giulia Sissa, Francesca

Martelli, 2023-07-27 This book positions Ovid's Metamorphoses as a foundational text in the western history of environmental thought The poem is about new bodies Stones springs plants and animals materialize out of human origins to create a world of hybrid objects which retain varying degrees of human subjectivity while taking on new physical form In bending the boundaries of known categories of being these hybrid entities reveal both the porousness of human and other agencies as well as the dangers released by their fusion Metamorphosis unsettles the category of the human within the complex ecologies that make up the world as we know it Drawing on a range of modern environmental theorists and approaches the contributors to this volume trace how the Metamorphoses models the relationship between humans and other life forms in ways that resonate with the preoccupations of contemporary eco criticism They make the case for seeing the worldview depicted in Ovid's poem as an exemplar of the premodern ecological mindset that contemporary environmental thought seeks to approximate They also highlight critical moments in the history of the poem's ecological reception including reflections by a contemporary poet as well as studies of Medieval and Renaissance responses to Ovid Teaching Drama and Theatre

Martin Lewis, John Rainer, 2005-07-28 Rainer and Lewis present a series of new exciting and challenging practical units for teaching drama in the modern classroom The tried and tested units of work in this book are placed in the context of current ideas about classroom practice The authors present a new model of how teachers can draw together the various methodologies of process drama and traditional theatre teaching The flexible content makes the book suitable for specialist and non specialist drama teachers Newly trained teachers student teachers and those new to drama will feel supported by the full detailed layout Experienced teachers will find the main benefit of the book as a springboard into their own drama teaching around the themes and topics given and as a means of clarifying theoretical concepts Lapham-Richards Luther Samuel Livingston, 1905 Lesson Guide for Captioned Films, XX, 1984 Computer Animation and Simulation '95

Demetri Terzopoulos, Daniel Thalmann, 2012-12-06 This volume contains research papers that were presented at the Sixth Eurographics Workshop on Animation and Simulation which took place at Maastricht The Netherlands September 2-3 1995 A core area within computer graphics animation is concerned with the computer synthesis of dynamic scenes The creation of realistic animation based on the simulation of physical and biological phenomena is a unifying and rapidly evolving research theme This series of workshops an activity of the Eurographics Working Group on Animation and Simulation is an international forum where researchers representing the animation and simulation communities convene to exchange knowledge and experience related to this theme and to physics based modelling human modelling motion control visualization etc Of keen interest at this sixth workshop were novel animation techniques and animation systems that simulate the dynamics and interactions of physical objects solid fluid and gaseous as well as the behaviors of living systems such as plants lower animals and humans The workshop continued to promote the confluence of animation and simulation as a leading edge of computer graphics research that is providing animators with sophisticated new algorithms for synthesizing dynamic scenes The call for extended abstracts for the workshop issued in February 1995 elicited an enthusiastic response
