leading international scholars that collectively demonstrates the intrinsic interconnectedness of sport gender and sexuality. It introduces what is in essence a sophisticated sub area of sport sociology covering the field comprehensively as well as signalling ideas for future research and analysis. Wide ranging across different historical periods, different sports and different local and global contexts, the book incorporates personal ideological and political narratives, varied conceptual, methodological and theoretical approaches and examples of complexities and nuanced ways of understanding the gendered and sexualized dynamics of sport. It examines structural and cultural forms of gender segregation, homophobia, heteronormativity and transphobia as well as the ideological struggles and changes that have led to nuanced ways of thinking about the sport gender and sexuality nexus. This is a landmark work of reference that will be a key resource for students and researchers working in sport studies, gender studies, sexuality studies or sociology.

Boxing, Narrative and Culture Sarah Crews, P. Solomon Lennox, 2023-10-16. Boxing Narrative and Culture: Critical Perspectives is the first interdisciplinary response to the dominant boxing narratives that are produced, performed and circulated in commercial boxing culture. This collection includes global perspectives on boxing. It highlights the diverse range of bodies and communities that engage with boxing practices but are oftentimes overlooked and overwritten by popular narrative tropes and misconceptions of the sport. These interdisciplinary and global perspectives engage with boxing's shared narrative resources, offering new readings and insights on how and what boxing performs and for whom. The contributors to this collection are academics, artists, amateur boxers and/or coaches who provide a culture critique of boxing. The work shows how boxing practices are performed and channelled by individuals and communities who access and utilise boxing culture as a means of physical enquiry, political statement and community building. These contributions challenge the notion that boxing is a sport reserved for masculine bodies adorned as heroes, warriors or victims of the sport. Exploring key themes in socio-cultural studies including gender, race, community, media and performance, this book is fascinating reading for anybody with an interest in physical culture, sport studies, cultural studies, gender studies, cultural geography, critical race theory, labour studies, performance studies or media studies.

Seconds Out Alison Dean, 2021-05-25. Kicking ass and taking notes: what it's like to be a woman in the ring. Alison Dean teaches English literature. She also punches people. Hard. But despite several amateur fights under her belt, she knows she will never be taken as seriously as a male boxer. You punch like a girl, still isn't a compliment. Women aren't supposed to choose to participate in violence. Her unique perspective as a 30-something university lecturer turned amateur fighter allows Dean to articulately and with great insight delve into the ways martial arts can change a person's and particularly a woman's relationship to their body and to the world around them and at the same time considers the ways in which women might change martial arts. Combining historical research, anecdotal experience and interviews with coaches and fighters, Seconds Out explores our culture's relationship with violence and particularly with violence practiced by women. An important addition to women's martial arts scholarship, Dean provides personal insight into the radical space women

On Cussing: Bad Words and Creative Cursing Katherine Dunn, 2019-03-26 Fuck the Fuckity Fuckin Fucker Readers of Katherine Dunn won't be surprised that this was her father's favorite sentence or that as a young girl she heard it as a kind of profane poem a secret song For many of us the language of Geek Love carries a similar staying power born of Dunn's agile use of language and her strange beautiful diction And as a true exegete of the expletive she remained undividedly devoted to obscenity both as scholar and practitioner In On Cussing Dunn sketches a brief history of swear words and creates something of a field guide to their types and usages from the common threat I'll squash you like a shithouse mouse to the portmanteau intensifier Fan fucking tastic But she also explores their physiology the physical impact on the reader or listener and makes an argument for how and when to cuss with maximum effect Equal parts informative and hilarious this volume will delight Dunn's legion of fans but it's also a must have for anyone looking to more successfully wield their expletives be it in writing or in everyday speech
