Treasure Hidden Pedrameh Manoochchri, 2019-06-14 Before He entered my world and transformed it miraculously I went about my days giving no thought to my Maker I was a high school art teacher back then While I worked hard to impact my students and school for good I also enjoyed weekend happy hours and a pot habit On a couple of occasions just before I came to know the Lord I could easily have killed myself or someone else driving drunk This was a warning from God that my life was about to change drastically No one evangelized me I had warning dreams One seared the image of a brightly lit cross and crown into my mind s eye In another my friend warned me I would come to know the love of Christ I thought to myself But I m not religious Nevertheless by the Holy Spirit s leading and touch my heart was awakened to realize I love Jesus for some reason deeply Thus began my journey learning who He is in love and in justice Proverbs 4 23 states Keep your heart with all vigilance for from it flow the springs of life The question concluding this book and reflection on faith is this How do you choose to spend your heart in all the limits that shape life What does my love speak of life and how do I spend my love I know that God s love spoke eternal life over me a sinner and He spent all His love on man s salvation He purchased such grace in the ultimate sacrifice Now how will I purchase Him my treasure How do I spend all I have buying my field The American Experience with Alcohol G.M. Ames,L.A. Bennett,2013-11-11 This volume is an important contribution to our understanding of culture and alcohol in the United States Its appearance is also a milestone in the history of alcohol studies in American anthropology Over the last six years the volume s editors initially along with Miriam Rodin have served as the coorganizers of the Alcohol and Drug Study Group of the American Anthropological Association AAA In this capacity they have organized sessions at the AAA and other meetings greatly strengthened the research network with a regular and informative newsletter and painstakingly promoted the publication of anthropological work on alcohol and drugs Appearing just as the responsibility for the Study Group is passed on to others this book is a fitting emblem of the care and energy with which its editors have built an institutional nexus for alcohol and drug anthropology in North America The contents of this volume offer a uniquely wide sampling of the diversity of cultural patterns that make up the American experience with alcohol The collective portrait the editors have assembled extends in several dimensions through time and history across such social differentiations as gender age grade and social class and through such major social institutions as the church and the family Clearly the dominant dimension of variation in the material that follows however is ethnicity The book offers us a sampler of unprecedented richness of the different experiences with alcohol of American ethnoreligious groups

The End of the Christian Life J. Todd Billings, 2020-09-15 We're all going to die Yet in our medically advanced technological age many of us see death as a distant reality something that happens only at the end of a long life or to other people In The End of the Christian Life Todd Billings urges Christians to resist that view Instead he calls us to embrace our mortality in our daily life and faith This is the journey of genuine discipleship Billings says following the crucified and resurrected Lord in a world of distraction and false hopes Drawing on his experience as a professor and father living with incurable cancer Billings offers a personal yet deeply theological account of the gospel's expansive hope for small mortal creatures Artfully weaving rich theology with powerful narrative Billings writes for church leaders and laypeople alike Whether we are young or old reeling from loss or clinging to our own prosperity this book challenges us to walk a strange but wondrous path in the midst of joy and lament to receive mortal limits as a gift an opportunity to give ourselves over to the Lord of life
