The Cultivation of Taste Christel Lane, 2014-02-14 After many decades if not centuries of neglect of fine food and high level restaurants in Britain we are seeing a massive explosion of interest in food cooking and dining out. Christel Lane's book charts the process of this transformation and examines top contemporary restaurants and their chefs. The Cultivation of Taste presents a comparative study of Michelin starred restaurants in Britain and Germany focusing on two countries without an indigenous haute cuisine but which nevertheless have developed internationally reputed fine dining sectors and comparing their development to the fine dining culture in France. Written from a sociological perspective chefs are portrayed as part of a complex network in their relationships with their employees their customers gastronomic critics suppliers of food and even their financiers. It will appeal to academics in the areas of economic and cultural sociology and those with an interest in small entrepreneurial firms and their work relations but also to all those who have an interest in fine dining restaurants and the chef patrons at the centre of them. The book draws on a large number of interviews with renowned chefs diners and Michelin inspectors to provide an unprecedented insight into what goes on in Michelin starred restaurants what makes their chefs tick intrigues their critics and beguiles or annoys their customers. Restaurants are viewed not simply as businesses but as cultural enterprises that shape our taste in food ambience and sociality.
