Bourbon's Backroads Karl Raitz, 2021-06-29 Kentucky's landscape is punctuated by landmark structures that signpost bourbon's venerable story distilleries long standing relict razed and brand new the grand nineteenth century homes of renowned distillers villages and neighborhoods where distillery laborers lived Whiskey Row storage warehouses river landings and railroad yards and factories where copper distilling vessels and charred white oak barrels are made During the nineteenth century distilling changed from an artisanal craft practiced by farmers and millers to a large scale mechanized industry that practiced increasingly refined production techniques Distillers often operated at comparatively remote sites along the backroads to take advantage of water sources or river or turnpike transport access As time passed steam power and mechanization freed the industry from its reliance on waterpower and permitted distillers to relocate to urban and rural rail side sites This shift also allowed distillers to perfect their production techniques increase their capacity and refine their marketing strategies The historic progression produced the fine Kentucky bourbons that are available to present day consumers Yet distillers have not abandoned their cultural roots and traditions their iconic products embrace the modern while also engaging their history and geography Blending several topics inventions and innovations in distilling and transport technologies tax policy geography landscapes and architecture this primer and geographical guide presents an accessible and detailed history of the development of Kentucky's distilling industry and explains how the industry continues to thrive Debates in History Teaching Ian Davies, 2017-02-16 Now in its second edition Debates in History Teaching remains at the cutting edge of history education. It has been fully updated to take into account the latest developments in policy research and professional practice. With further exploration into the major issues that history teachers encounter in their daily professional lives, it provides fresh guidance for thinking and practice for teachers within the UK and beyond. Written by a range of experts in history education, chapters cover all the key issues needed for clear thinking and excellent professional action. This book will enable you to reach informed judgements and argue your point of view with deeper theoretical knowledge and understanding. Debates include: What is happening today in history education? What is the purpose of history teaching? What do history teachers need to know? What are the key trends and issues in international contexts? What is the role of evidence in history teaching and learning? How should you make use of ICT in your lessons? Should moral learning be an aim of history education? How should history learning be assessed? Debates in History Teaching remains essential reading for any student or practising teacher engaged in initial training, continuing professional development or Master's level study. Narrative Hermeneutics, History, and Rhetoric, 2024-12-23 David P. Moessner has pioneered the study of early Christian narrative both through the investigation of the principles and methods of good storytelling outlined by ancient authors and through the demonstration that Christians, especially the author of Luke Acts, used these principles and methods in crafting their own stories. The contributors to this volume recognize Moessner's enormously valuable research and warm collegiality with twenty-one essays on narrative hermeneutics, characterization, genre, intertextuality, and reception history. Several focus fittingly on Luke and Acts, while others press the implications of Moessner's work for comprehension of the wider world of Jewish Christian and Greco-Roman storytelling. David Lowenthal's Archipelagic and Transatlantic Landscapes Kenneth R. Olwig, 2023-07-31 David Lowenthal was well known for his historical and geographical contribution to conservation and environmental thinking, his understanding and appreciation of landscape, and his critical public and scholarly contribution to heritage debates as a founder of heritage studies. He was a public intellectual and academic scholar who worked with scholars and practitioners as well as within public fora. His contribution can only be fully grasped in the light of his research and his practical and political engagement with islands, particularly Caribbean islands, as a geographer, historian, and scholarly activist. This engagement with material islands was also linked to his more abstract concern with the archipelagic quality of knowledge as it straddles the humanities and natural sciences. Of importance was furthermore his felt need to engage actively in both public and scholarly debates deriving from his family's background in law, public service, and social activism. The integrated chapters in this book, authored by prominent scholars together, illuminate the many facets of Lowenthal's biography and written works. With an updated Editor's introduction and a new afterword by Charles Saumarez Smith, this book will interest students, scholars, and academics in Landscape and Planning Heritage Studies Conservation History and Caribbean Studies The book was originally published as a special issue in Landscape Research Geographers Elizabeth Baigent, André Reyes Novaes, 2021-08-12

Geographers is an annual collection of studies on individuals who have made major contributions to the development of geography and geographical thought Volume 39 celebrates the contribution of Hugh Clout to the discipline The thirty ninth volume of Geographers Biobibliographical Studies adds significantly to the corpus of scholarship on geography s multiple histories and biographies each chapter includes a select biography of its chosen figure and a brief chronology of their work In this edition Hugh Clout memorialises the forgotten those who had made an important local contribution which went unnoticed on the national stage or those who continued along the intellectual path blazed by one of the discipline s major figures and thus helped to secure the reputation of that major figure In this collection of essays Clout draws from used literary works reviews in the scholarly and other press obituaries in newspapers and geographical publications funeral orations and papers in a large number of archives Each study includes a select bibliography and a brief chronology The work includes a general index and a cumulative index of geographers listed in volumes published to date As with other volumes in the series the purpose is not to evaluate but to present individuals and their contributions as they really were and in the context of their time Published under the auspices of the International Geographical Union

China's Heritage through History Yujie Zhu, 2024-07-26 China s Heritage through History employs a longue durée approach to examine China s heritage through history From Imperial to contemporary China it explores the role of practices and material forms of the past in shaping social transformation through knowledge production and transmission The art of collecting reproducing and reinterpreting the past has been an enduring force shaping cultural identity and political legitimacy in China Offering a unique non Western perspective on the history of heritage in China Zhu considers who the key players have been in these ongoing processes of reconfigured pasts what methods they have employed and how these practices have shaped society at large The book tackles these questions by delving into the transformation of practices related to heritage through examples such as the book collection at Tianyi Private Library the reproduction of the Orchid Pavilion Preface calligraphy and its associated sites and the dynamics of exchange within the Liulichang antique market Zhu reveals how these practices once reserved for elites have become accessible to the broader public These processes of transformation embodied in various forms of reconfigured pasts have given rise to modern approaches to preservation digitisation museums and the burgeoning heritage tourism industry China s Heritage through History will be an invaluable resource for academics students and practitioners working in the fields of heritage museum studies and art history

Lukas, 2016 Themed spaces have at their foundation an overarching narrative symbolic complex or story that drives the overall context of their spaces Theming in some very unique ways has expanded beyond previous stereotypes and oversimplifications of culture and place to now consider new and often controversial topics themes and storylines Publisher s website Men of the House Seeliger, Henriette-Juliane, 2024-01-22 A Concise History of History Daniel Woolf, 2019-01-17 This short history of history is an ideal introduction for those studying or teaching the subject as part of courses on the historian s craft historical theory and method and historiography Spanning the earliest known forms of historical writing in the ancient Near East right through to the present and covering developments in Europe Asia Africa and the Americas it also touches on the latest topics and debates in the field such as Big History Deep History and the impact of the electronic age It features timelines listing major dynasties or regimes throughout the world alongside historiographical developments guides to key thinkers and seminal historical works further reading a glossary of terms and sample questions to promote further debate at the end of each chapter This is a truly global account of the process of progressive intercultural contact that led to the hegemony of Western historiographical methods A Nation of Descendants Francesca Morgan, 2021-09-15 From family trees written in early American bibles to birther conspiracy theories genealogy has always mattered in the United States whether for taking stock of kin when organizing a family reunion or drawing on membership by blood or other means to claim rights to land inheritances and more And since the advent of DNA kits that purportedly trace genealogical relations through genetics millions of people have used them to learn about their medical histories biological parentage and ethnic background A Nation of Descendants traces Americans fascination with tracking family lineage through three centuries Francesca Morgan examines how specific groups throughout history grappled with finding and recording their forebears focusing on Anglo American white Mormon African American Jewish and Native American people Morgan also describes how individuals and researchers use genealogy for personal and scholarly purposes and she explores how local businesspeople companies like Ancestry com and Henry Louis Gates Jr s

Finding Your Roots series powered the commercialization and commodification of genealogy Making Evangelical History Andrew Atherstone, David Ceri Jones, 2019-04-08 This volume makes a significant contribution to the history of ecclesiastical histories with a fresh analysis of historians of evangelicalism from the eighteenth century to the present It explores the ways in which their scholarly methods and theological agendas shaped their writings Each chapter presents a case study in evangelical historiography Some of the historians and biographers examined here were ministers and missionaries while others were university scholars They are drawn from Anglican Baptist Congregationalist Methodist Presbyterian Fundamentalist and Pentecostal denominations Their histories cover not only transatlantic evangelicalism but also the spread of the movement across China Africa and indeed the whole globe Some wrote for a popular Christian readership emphasising edification and evangelical hagiography others have produced weighty monographs for the academy These case studies shed light on the way the discipline has developed and also the heated controversies over whether one approach to evangelical history is more legitimate than the rest As a result this book will be of considerable interest to historians of religion

Christianity and Confucianism Christopher Hancock, 2020-12-10 Christianity and Confucianism Culture Faith and Politics sets comparative textual analysis against the backcloth of 2000 years of cultural political and religious interaction between China and the West As the world responds to China's rise and China positions herself for global engagement this major new study reawakens and revises an ancient conversation As a generous introduction to biblical Christianity and the Confucian Classics Christianity and Confucianism tells a remarkable story of mutual formation and cultural indebtedness East and West are shown to have shaped the mind heart culture philosophy and politics of the other and far more perhaps than either knows or would want to admit Christopher Hancock has provided a rich and stimulating resource for scholars and students diplomats and social scientists devotees of culture and those who pursue wisdom and peace today Thinking of Questions Peter Limm, 2015-09-23 This is not a conventional book It is designed to stimulate and challenge all people who are curious to find out about the world they inhabit and their place within it It does this by suggesting questions and lines of questioning on a wide range of topics The book does not provide answers or model arguments but prompts people to create their own questions and a reading log or journal To this end almost all questions have a list of books or articles to provide a starter for stimulating further reading Once you start you will be hooked Never stop questioning Key Terms of Public

History Christine Gundermann, Juliane Brauer, Filippo Carlà-Uhink, Judith Keilbach, Georg Koch, Thorsten Logge, Daniel Morat, Arnika Peselmann, Stefanie Samida, Astrid Schwabe, Miriam Sénécheau, 2025-01-27 This volume introduces key terms of public history and makes them accessible via the most important subject areas and central research perspectives It is aimed at students teachers and practitioners who deal with history in the public sphere and offers approaches to the theoretical foundation of public history as part of historical cultural studies Public Memory, Race, and Heritage

Tourism of Early America Cathy Rex, Shevaun E. Watson, 2021-10-20 This book addresses the interconnected issues of public memory race and heritage tourism exploring the ways in which historical tourism shapes collective understandings of America's earliest engagements with race. It includes contributions from a diverse group of humanities scholars including early Americanists and scholars from communication, English, museum studies, historic preservation, art and architecture, Native American studies, and history. Through eight chapters, the collection offers varied perspectives and original analyses of memory making and re-making through travel to early American sites, bringing needed attention to the considerable role that tourism plays in producing and possibly unsettling racialized memories about America's past. The book is an interdisciplinary effort that analyses lesser-known sites of historical and racial significance throughout North America and the Caribbean up to about 1830 to unpack the relationship between leisure travel, processes of collective remembering or forgetting, and the connections of tourist sites to colonialism, slavery, genocide, and oppression. Public Memory, Race, and Heritage Tourism of Early America provides a deconstruction of the touristic experience with racism, slavery, and the Indigenous experience in America that will appeal to students and academics in the social sciences and humanities.

Narrating Heritage Veysel Apaydin, 2023-11-02. Narrating Heritage critically examines the links among heritage, rights, and social justice. This book brings important original ethnographic research and unique case studies together in a coherent and cohesive way to examine patterns and differences of approaches to heritage. It exposes discourses of the uses and abuses of heritage and provides narratives of persistence, demonstrating the importance of heritage in securing human rights and social justice. Drawing on over ten years of research and ethnographic fieldwork based on six complex case studies from Turkey and comparing them with case studies from across the world, the book explores a variety of social, political, cultural, and economic heritage discourses, making explicit the relationship between cultural and natural heritage. This book expands on these discourses by examining the role of violence in heritage, expanding on the concepts of both direct and slow violence. It situates heritage discourse within the sphere of human rights and lays out redistribution, recognition, and representation as dimensions of social justice in a heritage context. The case studies in this volume explore multiple themes: from the links between cultural performance and the construction of collective identity and sense of belonging to the roles of education, learning about other cultures, and nationalist use of education. They also discuss the relationship between construction of heritage space and access and exclusion, as well as the impact of authoritarianism and heavy neoliberal policies on heritage making.
