District Court (Illinois : Northern District), 1994 The Case For Patents Daniel F Spulber, 2021-03-02 The Case for Patents offers an affirmative case for the many economic benefits of the patent system and shows how patents provide incentives for invention innovation and technological change The discussion highlights the many contributions of patents to economic growth and development The Case for Patents helps restore balance to public policy debates by recognizing the important contributions of the patent system Model Jury Instructions for Reasonable Royalty Patent Damages Jorge L. Contreras, 2017 Consistent accurate and understandable jury instructions are critical to the determination of damages in patent cases In January 2016 the Federal Circuit Bar Association FCBA amended its popular model jury instructions Among other things the 2016 amendments substantially reframed the instructions regarding the calculation of reasonable royalty damages in patent cases replacing the fifteen Georgia Pacific factors with a streamlined set of three factors emphasizing the value contribution of the patented technology to the overall product and comparable license agreements This Essay discusses the history and implications of the FCBA instruction change for reasonable royalty damages It assesses the adherence of the reformulated damages analysis to the Federal Circuit's rulings regarding damages calculations in Ericsson v D Link and other recent case law and compares the FCBA instruction with corresponding instructions developed by the American Intellectual Property Law Association AIPLA and the Northern District of California We also present new empirical data regarding the use and adoption of model jury instructions in cases in which reasonable royalty damages are adjudicated We find that a wide variety of instructions are used partially defeating the goals of consistency and efficiency that model instructions seek to achieve We conclude by recommending that the Federal Circuit endorse a single set of model jury instructions for patent cases and that it consider the new FCBA instructions for this purpose We also urge the FCBA and other organizations developing model jury instructions to continue to emphasize the traditional incremental value approach to patent valuation and to develop additional jury instructions addressing issues raised by standards essential patents

Interfaces on Trial 2.0 Jonathan Band, Masanobu Katoh, 2011-03-04 The debate over the use of copyright law to prevent competition and interoperability in the global software industry We live in an interoperable world Computer hardware and software products from different manufacturers can exchange data within local networks and around the world using the Internet The competition enabled by this compatibility between devices has led to fast paced innovation and prices low enough to allow ordinary users to command extraordinary computing capacity In Interfaces on Trial 2.0 Jonathan Band and Masanobu Katoh investigate an often overlooked factor in the development of today's interoperability the evolution of copyright law Because software is copyrightable copyright law determines the rules for competition in the information technology industry This book a follow up to Band and Katoh's successful 1995 book Interfaces on Trial examines the debates surrounding the use of copyright law to prevent competition and interoperability in the global software industry in the last fifteen years Band and Katoh are longtime advocates for interoperable devices but present a reasoned view of contentious issues related to interoperability issues in the United States the European Union and the Pacific Rim They discuss such topics as the protectability of interface specifications the permissibility of reverse engineering and legislative and executive endorsement of pro interoperability case law the interoperability exception to the U S Digital Millennium Copyright Act and the interoperability cases decided under it the enforceability of contractual restrictions on reverse engineering and recent legal developments affecting the future of interoperability including those related to open source software and software patents
