

The background of the cover is a dark, deep blue. Scattered across this background are several microscopic cells, likely eukaryotic, shown in various stages of division or in different sizes. The cells are rendered with a soft, ethereal glow, featuring shades of light blue, green, and yellow. Some cells show distinct internal structures, such as nuclei and nucleoli, which are highlighted in a warm orange or red hue. The overall effect is a scientific yet artistic representation of cellular biology.
