Passing Penguin Classics

Nella Larsen

Passing Penguin Classics:

Passing Nella Larsen, 2025-02-14 Passing by Nella Larsen is a powerful novel that explores themes of race identity and societal expectations in 1920s America. The story centers around two childhood friends, Clare Kendry and Irene Redfield, who reconnect as adults. Clare is of mixed race and has a light complexion that allows her to pass as white. She has chosen to live in white society, distancing herself from her African American heritage. Irene, on the other hand, embraces her identity as a Black woman and is married to a successful African American man. As the two women meet again, their lives take different paths. Clare's life is filled with glamour and privilege, but it also comes with the complexities of hiding her true identity. Irene is initially intrigued by Clare's world but soon feels a mix of admiration and jealousy. The novel delves into the internal struggles both women face regarding their racial identities and the choices they make. Clare's desire to reconnect with her Black roots creates tension in her relationship with Irene. Irene becomes increasingly aware of the dangers and challenges Clare faces in her quest for acceptance in both worlds. The friendship between Clare and Irene highlights the emotional and psychological toll of passing for another race. It raises questions about loyalty, identity, and the societal pressures that dictate how individuals navigate their lives. The narrative is rich with vivid imagery and explores the vibrant cultural backdrop of the Harlem Renaissance. Larsen's writing captures the essence of the time, showcasing the complexities of race relations and the struggles of individuals seeking their place in society. The novel also addresses the intersections of gender and class, adding depth to the characters' experiences. Passing is a poignant exploration of the human experience and the choices people make in the face of societal expectations. It challenges readers to reflect on their own perceptions of race and identity. Nella Larsen's masterful storytelling invites readers into a world of intrigue and emotional depth. This novel remains relevant today, resonating with contemporary discussions about race and identity. Passing is a must-read for those interested in literature that confronts the complexities of race and the search for self in a divided society.

Passing Nella Larsen, 2024 Passing is a novel by American author Nella Larsen, first published in 1929. Set primarily in the Harlem neighborhood of New York City in the 1920s, the story centers on the reunion of two childhood friends, Clare Kendry and Irene Redfield, and their increasing fascination with each other's lives. The title refers to the practice of racial passing and is a key element of the novel. Clare Kendry's attempt to pass as white for her husband, John Jack Bellew, is a significant depiction in the novel and a catalyst for the tragic events.

The Cambridge Companion to the Black Body in American Literature Cherene Sherrard-Johnson, 2024-05-16 This volume tracks and uncovers the Black body as a persistent presence and absence in American literature. It provides an invaluable guide for teachers and students interested in literary representations of Blackness and embodiment. It centers Black thinking about Black embodiment from current, diverse, and intersectional perspectives.

PASSING. NELLA. LARSEN, 2024 Losing the Plot Pardis Dabashi, 2023-11-06 An examination of the relationship between literature and classical Hollywood cinema reveals a profound longing for plot in modernist fiction The modernist novel sought to escape what Virginia Woolf called the tyranny of plot Yet even as twentieth century writers pushed against the constraints of plot driven Victorian novels plot kept its hold on them through the influence of another medium the cinema Focusing on the novels of Nella Larsen Djuna Barnes and William Faulkner writers known for their affinities and connections to classical Hollywood Pardis Dabashi links the moviegoing practices of these writers to the tensions between the formal properties of their novels and the characters in them Even when they did not feature outright happy endings classical Hollywood films often provided satisfying formal resolutions and promoted normative social and political values Watching these films modernist authors were reminded of what they were leaving behind both formally and in the name of aesthetic experimentalism by losing the plot

Masquerade Vincent L. Wimbush, 2023-06-05 Continuing his project of critical analysis of the scriptural formation of culture Vincent L Wimbush has gathered in this book essays by scholars of various backgrounds and orientations who focus in different registers on the theme of masquerade as the play element in modern culture Masquerade functions as a window onto the mimetic performances dynamics arrangements psycho logics and politics scripturalizing by which the made up becomes fixed or one among our realities scripturalization Modern world racialization and its attendant explosions into racialisms and racisms as the hyper scripturalization of difference in human flesh registered in psychosocial relations as a type of scripture is argued in this book to be one of the most consequential examples and reflections of masquerade and thereby one of the primary impetuses behind and determinants of the shape of the realities of modernities The open window onto these realities is facilitated by touchstone references to not exhaustive treatment of a now famous eighteenth century life story The Interesting Narrative of the Life of Olaudah Equiano or Gustavus Vassa the African Written by Himself 1789 This story told by a complexly positioned Black fleshed self acknowledged ex slave stranger is itself a mask ing that throws light on the predominantly white Anglophone world as masking as scriptural formation Equiano Vassa s story as masking helps makes a compelling case for analyzing through Black flesh the ongoing shaping of the modern and the perduring mixed if not also devastating consequences
