substructures are collections of elements from which the internal degrees of freedom have been eliminated retained nodes and degrees of freedom are those that will be recognized externally at the usage level when the substructure is used in an analysis and they are defined during generation of the substructure generating a substructure a single analysis can include multiple substructure generate steps and abaqus cae creates corresponding output database files for each step multiple preloading steps can precede every substructure generation step in your analysis a substructure database is the set of files that describe the mechanical and geometrical properties of a substructure and abaqus writes all substructure data to the substructure database during the substructure generation analysis dec 17 2013 i have created a substructure in abaqus as output i will like to see the substructure matrices mass stiffness and damping matrices however i m only able to write the mass and stiffness matrices to an output file mtx does anyone know how to create an output file including both the mass stiffness and damping matrices of the substructure

the basic substructuring idea is to consider a substructure a part of the model separately and eliminate all but the degrees of freedom needed to connect this part to the rest of the model so that the substructure appears in the model as a substructure a collection of finite elements whose response is defined by the stiffness and mass o limitations of structural elements membrane elements cannot be used to overlay a substructure that consists of second order three dimensional brick elements of type c3d20 r h if the substructure will be used as a slave surface normally abaqus standard automatically converts c3d20 r h brick elements to elements with midface nodes c3d27 r h because this
