The Courage Consort Michel Faber, 2014-04-22 The Courage Consort possibly the seventh best known a cappella vocal ensemble in Britain are given two weeks in a Belgian chateau to rehearse their latest commission the monstrously complicated Partitum Mutante But can the piece be performed Does it matter that its composer is a maniac best known for attacking his wife with a stiletto shoe at the baggage reclaim of Milan airport Can the five members of the Consort endure their own sexual tensions and wildly differing temperaments And what is the inhuman voice that calls out to them from the woods at night The esoteric world of avant garde classical music is the unlikely setting for a story of rare power perhaps the most moving Michel Faber has yet written

Under The Skin Michel Faber, 2013-10-15 A brilliantly told and beautifully written novel that defies categorization Under the Skin introduces Isserley a woman obsessed with picking up male hitchhikers so long as they're well muscled and alone But why As the story unfolds and the reason is made explicit the reader is drawn inexorably into a completely unexpected and increasingly terrifying world

The Ontology of Death Aaron Aquilina, 2023-05-18

Through examination of the death penalty in literature Aaron Aquilina contests Heidegger's concept of being towards death and proposes a new understanding of the political and philosophical subject

Dickens

Nabokov Hugo Sophocles and many others explore capital punishment in their works from Antigone to Invitation to a Beheading Using these varied case studies Aquilina demonstrates how they all highlight two aspects of the experience First they uncover a particular state of being or more precisely non being that comes with a death sentence and second they reveal how this state exists beyond death row as sovereignty and alterity are by no means confined to a prison cell In contrast to Heidegger s being towards death which individualizes the subject only I can die my own death supposedly this book argues that when condemned to death the self and death collide putting under erasure the category of subjectivity itself Be it death row or not when the supposed futurity of death is brought into the here and now we encounter what Aquilina calls relational death Living on with death severs the subject s relation to itself the other and political sociality as a whole rendering the human less a named and recognizable being than an anonymous living corpse a human thing In a sustained engagement with Blanchot Levinas Hegel Agamben and Derrida The Ontology of Death articulates a new theory of the subject beyond political subjectivity defined by sovereignty and beyond the Heideggerian notion of ontological selfhood

Character and Dystopia Aaron S. Rosenfeld, 2020-07-08 This is the first extended study to specifically focus on character in dystopia Through the lens of the last man figure Character and Dystopia The Last Men examines character development in Yevgeny Zamyatin's We, Anthony Burgess's A Clockwork Orange, Kazuo Ishiguro's Never Let Me Go, Fyodor Dostoevsky's Notes from Underground, George Orwell's Nineteen Eighty-Four, Nathanael West's A Cool Million, David Mamet's Glengarry Glen Ross, Octavia Butler's Parable of the Sower, Lois Lowry's The Giver, Michel Houellebecq's Submission, Chan Koonchung's The Fat Years, and Maggie Shen King's An Excess Male showing how in the 20th and 21st centuries dystopian nostalgia shades into reactionary humanism, a last stand mounted in defense of forms of subjectivity no longer supported by modernity. Unlike most work on dystopia that emphasizes dystopia's politics, this book's approach grows out of questions of poetics. What are the formal structures by which dystopian character is constructed? How do dystopian characters operate differently than other characters within texts and upon the reader? What is the relation between this character and other forms of literary character such as are found in romantic and modernist texts? By reading character as crucial to the dystopian project, the book makes a case for dystopia as a sensitive register of modern anxieties about subjectivity and its portrayal in literary works.

The Ethics and Aesthetics of Vulnerability in Contemporary British Fiction, Jean-Michel Ganteau, 2015-05-08. This book visits vulnerability in contemporary British fiction, considering vulnerability in its relation to poetics, politics, ethics, and trauma. Vulnerability and risk have become central issues in contemporary culture, and artistic productions have increasingly made it their responsibility to evoke various types of vulnerabilities, from individual fragilities to economic and political forms of precariousness and dispossession. Informed by trauma studies and the ethics of literature, this book addresses such issues by focusing on the literary evocations of vulnerability and analyzing various aspects of vulnerable form as represented and performed in British narratives from contemporary classics by Peter Ackroyd, Pat Barker, Anne Enright, Ian McEwan, and Jeanette Winterson to less canonical texts by Nina Allan, Jon McGregor, and N. Royle. Chapters on romance, elegy, the ghost story, and the state of the nation novel draw on a variety of theoretical approaches from the fields of trauma studies, affect theory, the ethics of alterity, the ethics of care, and the ethics of vulnerability, among others. Showcasing how the contemporary novel is the privileged site of the expression and performance of vulnerability and vulnerable form, the volume broaches a poetics of vulnerability based on categories such as testimony, loss, unknowing, temporal disarray, and performance. On top of providing a book-length evocation of contemporary fictions of vulnerability and vulnerable form, this volume contributes significantly to considerations of the importance of Trauma Studies to Contemporary Literature.
