Stranger America Josh Toth, 2018-04-30 Contradictory ideals of egalitarianism and self reliance haunt America's democratic state We need look no further than Donald Trump's 2016 presidential campaign and victory for proof that early twentieth century anxieties about individualism race and the foreign or intrusive other persist today In Stranger America Josh Toth tracks and delineates these anxieties in America's aesthetic production finally locating a potential narrative strategy for circumnavigating them Toth's central focus is simply strangeness or those characters who adamantly resist being fixed in any given category of identity As with the theorists employed Nancy i ek Derrida Freud Hegel the subjects and literature considered are as encompassing as possible from the work of Herman Melville William Faulkner James Weldon Johnson and Nella Larsen to that of Philip K Dick Woody Allen Larry David and Bob Dylan from the rise of nativism in the early twentieth century to object oriented ontology and the twenty first century zombie craze from ragtime and the introduction of sound in American cinema to the exhaustion of postmodern metafiction Toth argues that American literature music film and television can show us the path toward a new ethic one in which we organize identity around the stranger rather than resorting to tactics of pure exclusion or inclusion

Ultimately he provides a new narrative approach to otherness that seeks to realize a truly democratic form of community

American Routes Angel Adams Parham, 2017 American Routes provides a comparative and historical analysis of the migration and integration of white and free black refugees from nineteenth century St Domingue Haiti to Louisiana and follows the progress of their descendants over the course of two hundred years The refugees reinforced Louisiana's tri racial system and pushed back the progress of Anglo American racialization by several decades But over the course of the nineteenth century the ascendance of the Anglo American racial system began to eclipse Louisiana s tri racial Latin Caribbean system The result was a racial palimpsest that transformed everyday life in southern Louisiana White refugees and their descendants in Creole Louisiana succumbed to pressure to adopt a strict definition of whiteness as purity that conformed to standards of the Anglo American racial system Those of color however held on to the logic of the tri racial system which allowed them to inhabit an intermediary racial group that provided a buffer against the worst effects of Jim Crow segregation The St Domingue Haiti migration case foreshadows the experiences of present day immigrants of color from Latin America and the Caribbean many of whom chafe against the strictures of the binary U S racial system and resist by refusing to be categorized as either black or white The St Domingue Haiti case study is the first of its kind to compare the long term integration experiences of white and free black nineteenth century immigrants to the U S In this sense it fills a significant gap in studies of race and migration which have long relied on the historical experience of European immigrants as the standard to which all other immigrants are compared MALDI Mass Spectrometry Imaging Tiffany Siegel

Award Indian Science Fiction has evolved over the years and can be seen making a mark for itself on the global scene Dalit speculative fiction writer and editor Mimi Mondal is the first SF writer from India to have been nominated for the prestigious Hugo award In fact Indian SF addresses themes such as global climate change Debates around G C C are not just limited to science fiction but also permeate in critical discussions on SF This volume seeks to examine the different ways by which

Indian SF narratives construct possible national futures For this looking forward necessarily germinates from the current positional concerns of the nation While some work has been done on Indian SF there is still a perceptible lack of an academic rigor invested into the genre primarily perhaps because of not only its relative unpopularity in India but also its employment of futuristic sights Towards the same among other things it proposes to study the growth and evolution of science fiction in India as a literary genre which accommodates the duality of the national consciousness as it simultaneously gazes ahead towards the future and glances back at the past In other words the book will explore how the tensions generated by the seemingly conflicting forces of tradition and modernity within the Indian historical landscape are realized through characteristic tropes of SF storytelling It also intends to look at the interplay between the spatio temporal coordinates of the nation and the SF narratives produced within to see firstly how one bears upon the other and secondly how processes of governance find relational structures with such narratives Through these the volume wishes to interrogate how postcolonial futures promise to articulate a more representative and nuanced picture of a contemporary reality that is rooted in a distinct cultural and colonial past
