Never Surrender Dramatic Escapes From Japanese Prison Camps:

Never Surrender Mark Felton, 2013-06-30 While there have been many fine books covering the appalling experiences and great courage of the many thousands of POWs captured by the victorious Japanese during late 1941 and early 1942 escape accounts are much rarer This is due in large part to the fact that only a comparatively small number of brave souls attempted to escape to freedom rather than suffer brutality starvation and very possibly death as POWs However as Never Surrender vividly describes there were a significant number who took this desperate course Escapers faced challenges far more daunting than those in German hands They were Westerners in an alien hostile environment the terrain and climate were extreme disease was rife their physical condition was weak there was every chance of starvation and betrayal and if captured they faced at best the harshest punishment and at worst execution The author draws on escape attempts from Hong Kong Thailand the Philippines Borneo and China by officers and men of the British Commonwealth and US armed forces As this superbly researched and uplifting book reveals few escapers found freedom but all are inspiring examples of outstanding and indeed desperate courage The stories told within these pages demonstrate the best and worst of human spirit

Naval History, 2013 Japanese War Crimes during World War II Frank Jacob, 2018-06-08 A challenging examination of Japanese war crimes during World War

It offers a fresh perspective on the Pacific War and a better understanding of reasons for the wartime use of extreme mass violence. The 1937 Rape of Nanjing has become a symbol of Japanese violence during the Second World War but it was not the only event during which the Japanese used extreme force. This thought provoking book analyzes Japan's actions during the war without blaming Japan, helping readers understand what led to those eruptions. In fact, the author specifically disputes the idea that the forms of extreme violence used in the Pacific War were particularly Japanese. The volume starts by examining the Rape of Nanjing then goes on to address Japan's acts of individual and collective violence throughout the conflict. Unlike other works on the subject, it combines historical, sociological, and psychological perspectives on violence with a specific study of the Japanese army seeking to define the reasons for the use of extreme violence in each particular case. Both a historical survey and an explanation of Japanese warfare, the book scrutinizes incidents of violence perpetrated by the Japanese vis-à-vis theories that explore the use of violence as part of human nature. In doing so, it provides far-reaching insights into the use of collective violence and torture in war overall, as well as motivations for committing atrocities. Finally, the author discusses current political implications stemming from Japan's continued refusal to acknowledge its war-time actions as war crimes.

AN EXCERPT FROM THE ACCOUNT OF GROUP CAPTAIN RAYNE SCHULTZ 410 SQUADRON

It was heading home very fast a Junkers 188 in thin cloud well out over the North Sea. We hit it badly and it was flaming two three hundred yards of flames streaming behind my navigator. Being a serious minded individual said 'Let's get in closer and take a good look at it as it is a different type of aircraft and I can report on it when we get down.' So I closed in which was the stupidest thing I ever did. The mid upper gunner was not dead he was sitting inside of the flames. The next thing I saw the gun traversing down toward us. I broke as fast as I could but he put forty to forty four 13mm cannon shells into us. I had pistons blown out of one engine and the constant speed unit blown out in the other. We were going to bail out. We jettisoned the door and the navigator was halfway out when the chap came back from the Ground Control Intercept (GCI) and said 'There is a Force 9 to 10 sea and we will never be able to rescue you.' So we brought that aircraft back to Bradwell Bay and I can tell you it near flew again. My navigator was wounded bleeding from the face. I could see the engines running red hot one was actually running on molten metal the whole thing glowing inside. The air bottles were shot away and I had no brakes for landing. The Mosquito was in ribbons.
