Teaching Materials and the Roles of EFL/ESL Teachers Ian McGrath, 2013-03-14

Teaching Materials and the Roles of EFL ESL Teachers is published amidst a decade long increase in academic publications and training courses concerned with the evaluation and design of English language teaching materials. It is timely to consider what effect the advice on offer has had on teachers' practice. Are teachers evaluating materials carefully using textbooks in the ways expected by textbook writers, developing their own materials and mediating between materials and learners in the ways advised in the professional literature? The book explores these issues from a variety of perspectives. The views of publishers, textbook writers, those contributing to the professional literature and teacher educators are synthesised to establish a theory of how teachers can best fulfil their roles vis-à-vis materials and learners. This is then compared with practice as represented by published accounts of teachers' actual practices and learners' perspectives. The conclusion reached is that teacher education in materials evaluation and design is essential and suggestions are offered as to the form this might take. The book is intended particularly for MA students and teacher educators concerned with materials evaluation and design but is of interest to all those concerned with the publication and use of English language teaching materials.

Teaching Korean as a Foreign Language Young-mee Yu Cho, 2020-10-20. Teaching Korean as a Foreign Language: Theories and Practices is designed for prospective or in-service Korean as a Foreign Language (KFL) teachers. With contributions from leading experts in the field, readers will gain an understanding of the theoretical framework and practical applications of KFL education in the context of Second Language Acquisition (SLA). The eight chapters explore the history of and current issues in language education, the practicalities of being a classroom teacher and teaching and evaluation techniques for developing language and cultural proficiency. This comprehensive volume also includes an annotated bibliography which lists over 500 of the most recent and pertinent research articles and doctoral dissertations in the area. This bibliography will be of great service to students, teachers and any researchers in applied linguistics and second language acquisition interested in Korean language education.

International Handbook of English Language Teaching Jim Cummins, Chris Davison, 2007-12-31. This two-volume handbook provides a comprehensive examination of policy, practice, research and theory related to English language teaching (ELT) in international contexts. Nearly 70 chapters highlight the research foundation for the best practices, frameworks for policy decisions and areas of consensus and controversy in the teaching and development of English as a second and/or additional language for kindergarten through to adult speakers of languages other than English. In doing so, it problematizes traditional dichotomies and challenges the very terms that provide the traditional foundations of the field. A wide range of terms has been used to refer to the key players involved in the teaching and learning of the English language and to the enterprise of English language teaching as a whole. At various times and in different contexts, the following labels have been used in countries where English is the dominant language to describe programs, learners or teachers of English: English as a second language (ESL), English as an additional language (EAL), limited English proficient (LEP) and English language learners (ELL). In contexts where English is not the dominant language, the following terms have been used: English as a foreign language EFL English as an international language EIL and English as a lingua franca ELF Oxford

Successful English B. Gutzeit, Daphne Paizee, Mary-Louise Peires, Thokozani Buthelezi, 2013 Learning Vocabulary Strategically in a Study Abroad Context Isobel Kai-Hui Wang, 2017-11-16 This book focuses on case studies of vocabulary strategy use and presents an in depth account of the vocabulary learning experiences of Chinese students in the UK It challenges the view that vocabulary strategies result only from learners cognitive choices and provides insightful analysis of the interplay between learner characteristics agency and context in the process of strategic learning The author makes a strong case for using qualitative methodologies to examine the dynamic complex and contextually situated nature of strategic vocabulary learning Drawing on multiple data sources the book discusses issues that are central to the continuing development of vocabulary strategy research and offers theoretical research based and practical suggestions for future exploration This book will appeal to students and scholars of second language acquisition vocabulary and applied linguistics
