

Welcome!

A note from your child's 3rd grade teacher

Dear Parents and Guardians,

Welcome to the new school year! I hope everyone had an enjoyable summer. I would like to take this opportunity to give a big welcome to the parents and guardians that are a huge support to me with their children in my classroom. I believe parents are the first and most important teachers in their child's life.

So much happens and changes in 3rd grade; this year will be full of important transitions. It is important that each child will progress at his/her own rate, acquiring skills as they are ready, so it is very important to celebrate even the smallest successes. Building a child's self-esteem and a secure foundation is essential for future growth. I want to keep this a priority in my classroom. Here are a few ways in which you can help:

- Encourage and celebrate every success your child has. This will keep them excited about learning and proud of their work.
- Read with your child every day. The more they are exposed to language, the more success they will have in the classroom.

I am looking forward to working with your child to help them reach their fullest potential. I believe it is essential to have a good parent-teacher relationship for school success. Throughout the year, I will communicate through emails, telephone calls, progress reports, and parent-teacher conferences. I encourage you to contact me if you have any questions or concern. I look forward to growing and learning with your children as we progress through this new year!

Sincerely,

Ms. A

Countdown to the Principalsip Tom Bellamy,Jackie Provenzano,Anne O' Rourke,2013-10-11 This book displays tools and templates for planning organizing and monitoring a beginning principal s daily tasks Community Education for Social Justice Cameron White,2014-02-05 What is community How important is community in the 21st century Where might the idea of community fit in education and schooling teaching and learning These are the questions and themes embedded in this book The general critique is that community is an add on in our schools and often is dismissed as a result of the individualistic and competitive nature of schooling today Our focus is to provide critical investigations as to the possibility of community and that we need community now more than ever The concept of community education brings many ideas and issues to mind Related themes include place based field based environmental service learning and outdoor education Each has its own more narrow focus with community education perhaps an umbrella term than encompasses them all Nevertheless the suggestion here is that instead of community education serving as an extension or add on to traditional approaches it should be the focus of all education What is often missing in teaching and learning are contexts and connections that make education meaningful Community education engages participants in problem and issues based approaches to the local community thereby facilitating that local to global link Instead of compartmentalized subjects integrated approaches use what students and the community know or understand to develop further questions solutions or even problems Community education offers efficacy in that it provides opportunities for collaboration in addressing local issues and problems It enables the community to become the classroom thus ensuring a more long term connection to active rather than passive endeavors as citizens

Teaching Racial Literacy Mara

Lee Grayson, 2018-03-12 Racial literacy a collection of discursive and decoding skills that allow individuals to interrogate race and racism as well as representation and personal identity is vital in a contemporary society that professes meritocracy and post-racialism yet where racism and racialism continue to give rise to fear violence and inequity Because racial literacy requires individuals to develop a cache of discursive tools with which to critically read and respond to particular situations and broader societal practices as well as to investigate the rhetorical practices and power of racial ideology there is no venue better fitted to the development of racial literacy than the college composition classroom From the planning stages through the end of the semester this book provides practical strategies for designing and implementing racial literacy curricula in the composition classroom and across the curriculum Drawing upon an award winning three year ethnographic teacher research project the author offers curricular suggestions and teacher resources instructors can use to increase student engagement improve student writing and help students harness the tools of racial literacy including awareness of structural inequity and discursive modes with which to respond to social injustice     "The Boss of the Whole School" Elizabeth Ann
