London UK In what ways have the processes of globalization reshaped the educational policy terrain How might we analyse education policies located within this new terrain which is at once local national regional and global In Globalizing Education Policy the authors explore the key global drivers of policy change in education and suggest that these do not operate in the same way in all nation states They examine the transformative effects of globalization on the discursive terrain within which educational policies are developed and enacted arguing that this terrain is increasingly informed by a range of neo liberal precepts which have fundamentally changed the ways in which we think about educational governance They also suggest that whilst in some countries these precepts are resisted to some extent they have nonetheless become hegemonic and provide an overview of some critical issues in educational policy to which this hegemonic view of globalization has given rise including devolution and decentralization new forms of governance the balance between public and private funding of education access and equity and the education of girls curriculum particularly with respect to the teaching of English language and technology pedagogies and high stakes testing and the global trade in education These issues are explored within the context of major shifts in global processes and ideological discourses currently being experienced and negotiated by all countries The book also provides an approach to education policy analysis in an age of globalization and will be of interest to those studying globalization and education policy across the social sciences The Paradigm of Harmonious

Progress in Energy Valentinas Klevas,Audrone Klevienė,2020-07-07 This book serves to define the foundation of the idea of harmonious progress in energy It clarifies the main problem of the current ecological situation namely the tendency to treat nature as an inexhaustible pool of natural resources and absorber of harsh outcomes of economic activity Current definitions of progress in this case are equated to technological progress and economic growth without considering the boundaries of nature s capabilities This book proposes a revolutionary idea treating nature and its laws with major respect as the foundation of all forms of life defining the boundaries of economic activity and use of resources The avant garde role of energetics is reflected in this idea by replacing fossil fuels with renewable energy sources and therefore implementing the obligations of the Climate Change Program The text analyses current economic problems and defines a clear action plan for their solution proposing the use of smart grids urban energetics programmes and green settlement movements It also specifies the utmost importance of forests in the ecological system Advances in Multiple Criteria Decision Making and Human Systems Management: Knowledge and Wisdom Y. Shi,D.L. Olson,A. Stam,2007-05-22 Edited as a Festschrift in honor of Prof Milan Zeleny this volume reflects and emulates his unmistakable legacy the essential multidimensionality of human and social affairs It contains papers dealing with Multiple Criteria Decision Making Social and Human System Management and Information Knowledge and Wisdom Management State of the World's Cities 2012/2013 Un Habitat,2013-10-23 The city is the home of prosperity It is the place where human beings find satisfaction of basic needs and access to essential public goods The city is also where ambitions aspirations and other material and immaterial aspects of life are realized providing contentment and happiness It is a locus at which the prospects of prosperity and individual and collective well being can be increased However when prosperity is restricted to some groups when it is used to pursue specific interests or when it is a justification for financial gains for the few to the detriment of the majority the city becomes the arena where the right to shared prosperity is claimed and fought for As people in the latter part of 2011 gathered in Cairo s Tahrir Square in Madrid s Puerta del Sol in front of London s St Paul s cathedral or in New York s Zuccotti Park they were not only demanding more equality and inclusion they were also expressing the need for prosperity to be shared across all segments of society What this new edition of State of the World s Cities shows is that prosperity for all has been compromised by a narrow focus on economic growth UN Habitat suggests a fresh approach to prosperity beyond the solely economic emphasis including other vital dimensions such as quality of life adequate infrastructures equity and environmental sustainability The Report proposes a new tool the City Prosperity Index together with a conceptual matrix the Wheel of Prosperity both of which are meant to assist decision makers to design clear policy interventions The Report advocates for the need of cities to enhance the public realm expand public goods and consolidate rights to the commons for all as a way to expand prosperity This comes in response to the observed trend of enclosing or restricting these goods and commons in enclaves of prosperity or depleting them through unsustainable use The Report maps out major policy steps to promote a new type of city the city of the twenty first century that is a good people centred city One that is capable of integrating the tangible and more intangible aspects of prosperity and in the process shedding off the inefficient unsustainable forms and functionalities of the city of the previous century By doing this UN Habitat plays a pivotal role in ensuring that urban planning legal regulatory and institutional frameworks become instruments of prosperity and well being
