Hermeneutics Shawn B. Redford, 2012-10-18 The first is a historical case considering the missional and theological hermeneutics employed when addressing African polygamy For the most part authors addressing polygamy have failed to consider God's missional response to polygamists in order to buttress their own convictions regarding African polygamy As such authors have not typically utilized a missional hermeneutic when trying to address polygamy Instead they have based their arguments on the false assumption that a given theological stance is the starting point for addressing the practice The second case study considers the role of mission praxis in an Islamic context related to missiological hermeneutics The case study demonstrates the impact of modern day mission practice especially when it correlates closely with the missionary dynamics in a given portion of Scripture The Gospel of John and the Religious Quest Johannes Nissen, 2013-09-24

The Gospel of John and the Religious Quest argues that at its origin the Fourth Gospel was part of a dialogue with various religious traditions and that to this day it is being used in active dialogue with those who live in traditions other than the Christian In the first part of the book Johannes Nissen analyzes a number of texts selected both for their central importance to John's theology and for their special relevance in today's religious quests and encounters These texts focus on John's images of Life water bread light way and tree but also treat concepts that are crucial to the Fourth Gospel Word Truth and Love In the second part Nissen focuses on significant issues for current readers of the Gospel the relation between incarnation and inculturation models for dialogue with other religions images of Christ truth and love as criteria for dialogue and the experience of faith in the light of the Fourth Gospel Paul's Understanding of the Church's Mission Robert L.

Plummer, 2006-06-01 Did Paul expect his churches to engage in evangelistic activity which mirrored his own Or have modern readers of the Bible wrongly projected Paul's apostolic passion upon the communities that he founded Such is the charge of several recent authors and if their thesis is correct nothing could have larger implications for how the modern church engages in mission In this book Robert L Plummer engages in a careful study of Paul's letters to determine if the apostle expected the communities to which he wrote to engage in outward directed missionary activity Plummer helpfully summarizes the discussion to date on the debated issue judiciously handles contested texts and provides a way forward in addressing this critical question While admitting that Paul rarely explicitly commands the communities he founded to evangelize Plummer amasses significant incidental data to provide a convincing case that Paul did indeed expect his churches to engage in outward directed missionary activity Throughout the study Plummer progressively builds a theological basis for the church's mission that is both compelling and distinctively Pauline

In vivid terms and with systemic thinking Fr. Jude Osunkwo, a theologian who specializes in Environmental Studies and Pastoral Catechesis, explores the biblical, theological, magisterial, and doctrinal bases that underlie a faithful response to contemporary environmental challenges. After setting the stage with a summation of the issues and a survey of significant ecclesiastical statements on the topic of the environment, God and the Human Environment addresses Catholic theological principles of stewardship, Christian responsibility, and the ethics of development. Then the discussion turns to the environment of Nigeria, assessing its current state and reviewing the causes and consequences of environmental challenges before proposing pastoral responses for the Church. Finally, some chapters address likely developments in Nigeria and the Church. An extensive bibliography and several appendices provide additional support. God and the Human Environment is a rigorously researched and passionately presented exploration of the issues growing out of the environmental circumstances Nigerians currently face. Whether you live in Nigeria or count yourself as a member of the Catholic Church and live somewhere else, God and the Human Environment explores a topic that promises to make a difference in your life and to protect the part of the environment that God has created for you to tend. Mission as Integrated Witness Jae-Suk Lee, 2021-05-25 This study aims to read Jesus's foot washing narrative missionally. John 13:1-38. A missional reading is identical to a missional hermeneutics based on the literary theological interpretation of the text. John uses sending language and formulae and the frame of as so throughout the whole Gospel, which clarifies Jesus's and his disciples' mission as integrated witness. In this literary context, the foot washing narrative signifies the integrated witness of Jesus and the disciples. The narrative consists of two parts: one, Jesus's symbolic action for his death, and the other, for its interpretation for the disciple community. Jesus's death as his unique mission results in purifying both his disciples and the world so that they might dwell in the holy union with the triune God. The disciples are sent into the world just as Jesus did so; must they proclaim Jesus and his teachings. Also, they should bear witness to him by living Jesus's life pattern of self-giving, sacrificial love and humble service. Their verbal proclamation as evangelism and life witness cannot be separated to testify to Jesus and their identity. Finally, today's Christians, specifically Evangelicals, are invited to participate in the Johannine mission as the integrated witness of evangelism and life witness. Paul and his Theology Stanley E. Porter, 2006-11-01 Does Paul have a theology? If so, what is it, or rather, what is it on various topics that he and the early Church confronted? This volume moves beyond the traditional discussion of whether Paul had a center to his theology to raise questions regarding his perspective on a number of important theological issues. These issues include his gentile mission, the concepts of faith, grace, and the law, reconciliation, the temple, eschatology, miracles, gender, and Paul's trinitarian tendencies. This collection of essays addresses topics of current interest in the study of Paul's theology not to arrive at the center of his thought but to understand what factors helped to center his thinking on a variety of important theological concerns
