Cotgrave, 2018-04-18 Construction Technology 1 House Construction offers a highly accessible introduction to the key stages of domestic house construction from planning to internal finishes. Its student friendly layout uses detailed figures, photos and case studies from real life building sites to aid a practical understanding of construction techniques providing clear step by step guidance in learning the basic principles of low rise residential construction. This textbook is a vital resource for students in construction property and architecture BSc and MSc including any student taking courses in building surveying quantity surveying real estate and construction management as well as those studying at the HNC HND level. New to this Edition: The sections on off site manufacture and modular approaches to construction have been significantly updated and expanded. The nature of house construction utilising panelised and volumetric approaches is explained with supporting case study examples and photographic illustrations. The increased recognition of sustainability as a key element in modern house building is reflected in expanded consideration of the environmental implications of construction design and practice. The characteristics of house form construction and technology that impact upon thermal and environmental performance are included together with updated content relating to SAP calculations and target energy performance. Advances in technology and evolving approaches to passive features of environmentally conscious design are incorporated together with the introduction of issues around connected homes. The material has been amended in line with current UK building regulations environmental guidance and legislation including statutory control of the building process and health and safety.

Good Craftsmanship Guide, 2002 The Construction of Houses Duncan Marshall, Derek Worthing, Nigel Dann, Roger Heath, 2013-04-26 The fifth edition of this successful textbook is aimed specifically at those students and practitioners who require a broad understanding of building construction as part of a wider sphere of professional activity. The book provides a comprehensive introduction to the principles and practice of modern construction and services. New to this edition are: Hundreds of revised graphics to complement the fully updated text. New illustrations and photos printed in full colour for the first time. New chapters on sustainability ventilation and windows. This highly sought after text concentrates on principles and practice rather than details and regulations and retains its easy to follow format and highly accessible style. In doing so it enables the reader to demonstrate a comprehensive and genuine understanding of modern house construction and its evolution over the last 100 years. The Construction of Houses is not only an essential read for students surveyors developers and planning professionals but also the interested lay person considering their first building project.

Landscape Detailing: Enclosure Michael Littlewood, 1993 This handbook covers walls fences gates barriers and bollards. Each section begins with technical guidance notes on design and construction and then provides a list of points against which specifications can be checked. This is followed by a set of drawn to scale detail sheets.
