Nice Book Intellectual Property Policy Administration Africa:

Agricultural Innovation Systems The World Bank, 2012-02-21 Managing the ability of agriculture to meet rising global demand and to respond to the changes and opportunities will require good policy sustained investments and innovation not business as usual Investments in public Research and Development extension education and their links with one another have elicited high returns and pro poor growth but these investments alone will not elicit innovation at the pace or on the scale required by the intensifying and proliferating challenges confronting agriculture Experience indicates that aside from a strong capacity in Research and Development the ability to innovate is often related to collective action coordination the exchange of knowledge among diverse actors the incentives and resources available to form partnerships and develop businesses and conditions that make it possible for farmers or entrepreneurs to use the innovations While consensus is developing about what is meant by innovation and innovation system no detailed blueprint exists for making agricultural innovation happen at a given time in a given place for a given result The AIS approach that looks at these multiple conditions and relationships that promote innovation in agriculture has however moved from a concept to a sub discipline with principles of analysis and action AIS investments must be specific to the context responding to the stage of development in a particular country and agricultural sector especially the AIS This sourcebook contributes to identifying designing and implementing the investments approaches and complementary interventions that appear most likely to strengthen AIS and to promote agricultural innovation and equitable growth It emphasizes the lessons learned benefits and impacts implementation issues and prospects for replicating or expanding successful practices The information in this sourcebook derives from approaches that have been tested at different scales in different contexts It reflects the experiences and evolving understanding of numerous individuals and organizations concerned with agricultural innovation including the World Bank This information is targeted to the key operational staff in international and regional development agencies and national governments who design and implement lending projects and to the practitioners who design thematic programs and technical assistance packages The sourcebook can also be an important resource for the research community and nongovernmental organizations NGOs

Intellectual Property Policy, Law and Administration in Africa Caroline B. Ncube, 2015-10-16 This book examines the harmonisation of Intellectual Property IP policy law and administration in Africa Two recent developments have brought this topic to the fore The first is the escalation of long standing efforts to establish a Pan African Intellectual Property Organisation PAIPO a continental initiative The second is the current sub regional attempt to operationalise the IP provisions of the Southern African Development Community SADC s Protocol on Trade articles 9b and 24 and its Protocol on Science Technology and Innovation article 2m Intellectual Property Policy Law and Administration in Africa discusses the viability of such initiatives with particular reference to the current socio economic status of Africa s nations With a view to contributing to future developments in Africa at both a continental and sub regional level the author considers this issue through the lens of advancing the public interest in IP Ncube argues that harmonisation initiatives ought to be crafted in a way that is supportive of the development aspirations of African states Consequently she urges due consideration of individual states unique conditions and aspirations in any harmonisation venture a necessity outlined in article 7 of the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights This book will be of great relevance to scholars and policy makers with an interest in IP law and African law in general Great Books Written by Africans across the Academic Disciplines Emmanuel D. Babatunde, Abdul Karim Bangura, 2022-07-04 This volume is the first text to provide a comprehensive account of the great books across the academic disciplines written by Africans born in the continent and those who became naturalized citizens of African countries These great books are those that have had a powerful important or affecting influence on the author of a chapter in this book as an individual and on society The books included here are mostly of the storytelling type and thus not representative of most of the academic disciplines This volume allows each contributor to write a chapter on a discipline showcasing five great books written by African authors Each selection is appraised and suggestions made by other experts in a discipline while every chapter entails an introduction to the topic a conceptual discussion of the discipline a book by book review of the five books and a conclusion and recommendations for research using the selected books

Future Directions of Municipal Solid Waste Management in Africa Mohee, Romeela, Simelane, Thokozani, 2015-04-03 Transformation and rapid population growth in Africa indicates that urbanisation is one of the key determinants of the future of social dynamics and development of the continent Linked to these changes are increased production levels of Municipal Solid Waste This book provides recommendations and solutions that derive from current situations experiences and observations in Africa The study is an essential tool for urban planners environmental engineering students and lecturers environmental consultants and policy makers it is also a resource for municipal authorities as it outlines future directions of Municipal Solid Waste management These need to be considered by the municipal authorities of most African countries

Intellectual Property and Public Health in the Developing World Monirul Azam, 2016-05-30 Across the world developing countries are attempting to balance the international standards of intellectual property concerning pharmaceutical patents against the urgent need for accessible and affordable medicines In this timely and necessary book Monirul Azam examines the attempts of several developing countries to walk this fine line He evaluates the experiences of Brazil China India and South Africa for lessons to guide Bangladesh and developing nations everywhere Azam's legal expertise concern for public welfare and compelling grasp of principal case studies make Intellectual Property and Public Health in the Developing World a definitive work The developing world is striving to meet the requirements of the World Trade Organization's TRIPS Agreement on intellectual property This book sets out with lucidity and insight the background of the TRIPS Agreement and its implications for pharmaceutical patents the consequences for developing countries and the efforts of certain representative nations to comply with international stipulations while still maintaining local industry and public health Azam then brings the weight of this research to bear on the particular case of Bangladesh offering a number of specific policy recommendations for the Bangladeshi government and for governments the world over Intellectual Property and Public Health in the Developing World is a must read for public policy makers academics and students non governmental organizations and readers everywhere who are interested in making sure that developing nations meet the health care needs of their people Uniting Africa: The Politics of Regional Integration and Development

Cooperation Malusi Mncube,2025-06-16 The primary aim of this book is to reach a better understanding of Africa s efforts to incrementally advance Pan Africanism and its consolidating efforts to attain socio economic inclusive growth political stability and continental security The book makes neo functional arguments to support the actualisation of the aims and objectives of the AU as an intergovernmental organisation constituted under the Constitutive Act Promoting Trade and

Molecular Approaches for Sustainable Insect Pest Management Omkar, 2022-01-01 This book offers a range of environmentally benign molecular mechanisms which are safer alternative strategies for effective insect pest management In modern era of biotechnology there has been much advancement in the field of molecular biology where many more techniques have evolved which can be helpful in the field of pest management too Plant resistance development of transgenic plants and many more techniques are being considered the panacea to pest problems On the other hand there are wide spread concerns of the safety of biotechnological interventions with nontarget organisms including humans While the world stands divided on the ethical issues of these approaches and the many safety concerns scientists believe that well thought of biotechnological interventions are probably the only safest ways possible for reducing pest attacks on crops It explores various techniques and aspects related to molecular pathways for crop pest control This book is a useful resource for postgraduate students and researchers of agriculture sciences plant pathology and plant physiology It is also useful for policy planners in agriculture

Indigenous knowledge systems and climate change management in Africa Ajayi, O.C. (ed), Mafongoya, P.L. (ed), 2017-11-15 Climate change presents a profound challenge to food security and sustainable development in Africa Its negative impacts are likely to be greatest in the African region which is already food insecure In the face of global climate change and its emerging challenges and unknowns it is essential that decision makers base policies on the best available knowledge In recent years the knowledge of local and indigenous people often referred to as indigenous knowledge IK has been increasingly recognised as an important source of climate knowledge and adaptation strategies

Casebook of Indigenous Business Practices in Africa Ogechi Adeola, 2023-08-16 Indigenous enterprise practices are an essential part of business success in Africa The continent's unique and diverse culture embedded in age long practices presents an interesting proposition for advancing indigenous knowledge and building sustainable business structures

Good Practices and Innovative Experiences in the South (Volume 3) Martin Khor, Kok Peng Khor, Lim Li Lin, 2001 This is part of a three volume collection which provides information on innovative development projects in Asia Latin America and Africa that have actually worked The 50 cases presented illustrate a wide spectrum of economic and environmental policy and practice

Adapting to Climate Uncertainty in African Agriculture Stephen Whitfield, 2015-08-20 Future climatic and agro ecological changes in Africa are uncertain and associated with high degrees of spatial and temporal variability and this change is differently simulated within divergent climate crop models and in controlled crop breeding stations Furthermore uncertainty emerges in local contexts not just in response to climatic systems but to social economic and political systems and often with implications for the appropriateness and adoption of technologies or the success of alternative cropping systems This book examines the challenges of adaptation in smallholder farming in Africa analysing the social economic political and climatic uncertainties that impact on agriculture in the region and the range of solutions proposed Drawing on case studies of genetically modified crops conservation agriculture and other climate smart solutions in eastern and southern Africa the book identifies how uncertainties are framed from above as well experienced from below by farmers themselves It provides a compelling insight into why ideas about adaptation emerge from whom and with what implications This book offers a unique perspective and will be highly relevant to students of climate change adaptation food security and poverty alleviation as well as policy makers and field practitioners in international development and agronomy
