Application of Nanotechnology in Membranes for Water Treatment Alberto Figoli, Jan Hoinkis, Sacide Alsoy Altinkaya, Jochen Bundschuh, 2017-07-14 The book focuses on Application of Nanotechnology in Membranes for Water Treatment but not only provides a series of innovative solutions for water reclamation through advanced membrane technology but also serves as a medium to promote international cooperation and networking for the development of advanced membrane technology for Universal well being and to achieve the common goal of supplying economically environmentally and societally sustainable freshwater and better sanitation systems This book is unique because the chapters were authored by established researchers all around the globe based on their recent research findings In addition this book provides a holistic coverage of membrane development for water treatment from the membrane preparation and characterizations to the performance for specific processes and applications Since that water scarcity has become a global risk and one of the most serious challenges for the scientific community in this century the publication of this book is therefore significant as it will serve as a medium for a good reference of an alternative solution in water reclamation This book will provide the readers with a thorough understanding of the different available approaches for manufacturing membranes both with innovative polymeric systems and inorganic nano materials which could give enhanced functionalities catalytic and antimicrobial activities to improve the performance of the existing membranes It will be useful for leading decision and policy makers water sector representatives and administrators policy makers from the governments business leaders business houses in water treatment and engineers scientists from both industrialized and developing countries as Surgical Technology Review Karen L.
