Alcohol, Violence, and Disorder in Traditional Europe A. Lynn Martin, 2009-10-01 Traditional Europe had high levels of violence and of alcohol consumption both higher than they are in modern Western societies where studies demonstrate a link between violence and alcohol A Lynn Martin uses an anthropological approach to examine drinking drinking establishments violence and disorder and compares the wine producing south with the beer drinking north and Catholic France and Italy with Protestant England and explores whether alcohol consumption can also explain the violence and disorder of traditional Europe Both Catholic and Protestant moralists believed in the link and they condemned drunkenness and drinking establishments for causing violence and disorder They did not advocate complete abstinence however for alcoholic beverages had an important role in most people's diets Less appreciated by the moralists was alcohol's function as the ubiquitous social lubricant and the increasing importance of alehouses and taverns as centers of popular recreation The study utilizes both quantitative and qualitative evidence from a wide variety of sources to question the beliefs of the moralists and the assumptions of modern scholars about the role of alcohol and drinking establishments in causing violence and disorder It ends by analyzing the often conflicting regulations of local regional and national governments that attempted to ensure that their citizens had a reliable supply of good drink at a reasonable cost but also to control who drank what where when and how No other comparable book examines the relationship of alcohol to violence and disorder during this period

Play Among Books Miro Roman,Alice_ch3n81,2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

Alcohol, Sex and Gender in Late Medieval and Early Modern Europe L. Martin,2001-01-19 This book examines drinking and attitudes to alcohol consumption in late medieval and early modern England France and Italy especially as they related to sexual and violent behavior and to gender relations According to widespread beliefs the consumption of alcohol led to increased sexual activity among both men and women and it also led to disorderly conduct among women and violent conduct among men Dr Lynn shows how alcohol was a fundamental part of the diets of most people including women resulting in daily drinking of large amounts of ale beer or wine

This study offers an intimate insight into both the altered states induced by alcohol and by opposition into normal relations in
